Scores Are Hurt In Athens Rioting

Skirmishing Lasts Nearly Five Hours

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Riot police with tear gas and armored vehicles charged into thousands of antigovernment demonstrators in nearly five hours of skirmishing on the streets of Athens Friday night.

Police said 80 persons, including 20 policemen, were injured and that 250 demonstrators had been taken into custody but would be released quickly. Twenty demonstrators and 10 police were seriously hurt. The demonstrators threw stones at the police.

SUPPORT POLICE

Greek army units supported an estimated 7,000 police called to quell the demonstrators by sending in vehicles and communications equipment. But the army took no direct hand in the street action.

The rioting broke out as the police attempted to block crowds going to a public meeting called by the Center Union, major opposition political party to Premier Constantine Caramanlis' government.

Center Union leader George Papandreou called the mass meeting to protest results of last October's national elections in which Caramanlis scored a resounding victory. The Center Union charged he used coercion.

Papandreou defied a government ban on the leftist-backed mass meeting and went ahead with his speech while demonstrators hurled stones at police in areas around the central meeting place, a little square in downtown Athens.

There was no rioting in the square where Papandreou spoke. But a major clash broke out nearby afterward when, police said, a group of extreme leftists taunted police.

When police charged, the crowd showered them with stones. Officers ordered their men to put on gas masks and throw tear-gas grenades. Within minutes the square was cleared.

As the fighting was going on,

Guido Wins Reprieve In Latin Crisis

Delay Gained In Showdown Over Peronists Issue

BEUNOS AIRES (UPI) —A new showdown on military demands for an immediate crackdown on Peronists in Argentina appeared Friday to have been postponed, at least for 48 hours.

Interim President Jose M. Guido was believed to have convinced the armed forces chiefs that enactment of the stiff anti-Peronist measures they demand must await congressional ratification of the constitutional legality of his government.

GETS ASSURANCE

Majority leaders in Congress called on Guido late Thursday night. They were reported to have assured him of passage of the law on presidential succession no later than Saturday.

It was believed Guido may have refused to sign decrees annuling Peronist victories in the March elections until his constitutional position is implemented by congressional sanction.

In addition to the crackdown on the Peronists—followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron — the armed forces were reported to have asked the chief executive to suspend congress and issue a call for new general elections.

In New York, Rogelio Frigerio, a former adviser to ousted president Arturo Frondizi, said Guido must remain in office if there is to be a legal solution to Argentina's political crisis. The military group seeking to force a solution to the crisis constitutes only a minority within the armed forces, he said.

Frigerio implied there could be no solution to the crisis until and unless the legality of the March 18 elections, in which Peronists won 43 congressional seats and 11 governorships, is respected.

The Frente Justicialista, the united front of the various Peronist parties, warned that annuling the elections "would impel the workers toward hot - headed action."

2 Charged With Pilot Kidnaping

MIAMI (UPI) — The FBI charged two young men Friday night with kidnaping a pilot and forcing him to fly them to Havana in a small private plane.

Three other men also were being questioned about the theft of a shrimp boat at Key West, which the FBI said they sailed to Havana.

The accused plane hijackers were identified as Leonard Malcolm Oeth, 28, sometimes known as James Anderson Eastham, and David Thomas Healy, 22, also known as Harrold Moore.

Esley Grapp, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said both Oeth and Healy were charged with violation of the federal kidnap law. The U. S. attorney's office recommended bond be set at $50,000 each.

Both Oeth and Healy stepped off a plane from Havana late Friday with Woodruff Mead, the Miami pilot they were alleged to have kidnaped from Miami's Tamiami Airport April 13. Both Oeth and Healy denied using a gun in taking Mead's plane to Cuba.

Also on the plane from Havana were the three men accused of stealing the Key West shrimp boat.

Mead told FBI agents the two men had forced him to fly them to Havana at gunpoint after they had engaged him for a "sightseeing flight over Miami."

The Coast Guard carried out a sea and air search for the missing Cessna aircraft until Cuban authorities sent out a brief radio report that the plane had landed near Havana.

State Economy Urged By Dyer

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Jack Dyer of East Baton Rouge Parish said Friday sensible economy rather than taxation is the answer to Louisiana's fiscal ills.

Also, he said, "we must require our state officials to live like sensible public servants — rather than kings."

Dyer said he wanted to make clear he is opposed to any tampering with the teacher's retirement funds in any effort to find emergency money," other sacred money that the law says shall not be used for any purposes other than those for which they were dedicated."

OAS LEADER CAPTURED

Terrorists Riot As Salan Taken To Paris Prison

PARIS, Saturday (UPI) — Captured terrorists held in Sante Prison rioted today when their Secret Army Organization OAS leader, former army Gen. Raoul Salan, was brought there to await a quick trial that probably will result in a death sentence.

Shouts of "Al-ge-rie Fran-caise," "OAS hold fast," "Salan to power," were heard from behind the prison walls.

Officials at the prison said that 15 prisoners and 5 guards were injured in the fighting inside the prison. Many of the 100 or so OAS members held in one section of the prison escaped from their cells when they saw or heard that Salan was there.

START FIRE

They set fire to the prison, but firemen brought it under control before extensive damage was done to the Bastille.

Salan, most decorated soldier in the French army, was arrested in a studio apartment in the heart of Algiers Friday by security police acting on information obtained from an OAS member captured earlier. The security police also arrested Salan's wife Lucienne, his daughter Dominique and his chief aides.

He was flown quickly — and quietly—out of the city. But when word of his capture—hailed by some French officials as a death blow to the OAS—got out, the OAS reacted with renewed terrorism.

The organization fighting to keep Algeria in French control in opposition to President Charles de Gaulle's independence plan shelled the Moslem suburb of Algiers. At least two Moslems were killed in that attack and 30 wounded.

Later, OAS members pirated a broadcast over the state owned radio station to proclaim that Salan still was "the soul and spirit of French Algeria."

Other terrorists bombed the new mayor's office in Algiers and started a fire.

But there was little immediate reaction to the arrest from Europeans in the streets.

Salan's capture came one day less than a year after he led the ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Louisiana now has a potential representative for the United States astronaut team.

Capt. Albert Crews Jr., former resident of rural Alexandria now living with his family at Edwards Air Force Base in California, was one of eight selected Friday for training as a possible astronaut.

The 33-year-old El Dorado native "aged" past the 32-year-old age minimum for astronauts.

Crew's mother, Mrs. Albert H. Crews, speaking for herself and her husband, said, "We are very proud of him, but I'd just as soon he stays closer to the ground."

She stated that she didn't "especially like the idea" but then added, "I realize this is quite something."

Mrs. Crews said that she was "expecting it" and that she "knew for some time there was a possibility of him being selected" although she had no specific information.

X15 Pilot Soars Up 38 Miles

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—With his wife and son watching, X15 test pilot Neil Armstrong rocketed 38 miles into space Friday and then came down so fast he overshot his landing point by several miles.

He hit a near record speed of 3,818 miles an hour on the way up to a peak of 207,000 feet—just 10,000 feet short of a record for the rocket plane.

Armstrong's wife Jan and their son Eric, 4, watched the X15's almost precipitous landing from their vantage point in the control center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's research branch here.

An unusually strong sonic boom shook the base as the X15 was coming in for the landing.

It was Armstrong's fourth test of the new control system, vital when the X15 begins flights above 50 miles later this year.

A flight to 255,000 feet, or about 48 miles—just over the designed maximum for the X15 with early equipment — may be attempted next week.

Armstrong was not trying for a record Friday. His flight plan called for him to stay below the present records of 217,000 feet and 4,093 miles per hour.

ON GOOD FRIDAY

Pilgrims Retrace Crucifixion Route

JERUSALEM, JORDAN SECTOR (AP)—From the Moslem schoolyard that once was Pontius Pilate's court, hundreds of Christian pilgrim retraced on Good Friday the last faltering steps of Christ along the twisting, stone-paved Way of the Cross.

Many were singing and some were bowed under the weight of 16-foot crosses as they followed the path in Old Jerusalem's Via Dolorosa—Way of Sorrows.

In the dark-vaulted alleyways of Moslem shops they halted to pray and sing at 14 stations of the Cross, marking incidents on Christ's path to crucifixion—such as where he stumbled to the ground beneath the weight of the cross or where he was flogged.

Some quoted Christ's words: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

Pilgrims, split into groups according to language, witnessed along the way many of the same sights Jesus may have seen through the blood from his crown of thorns.

Jerusalem is a holy city for Moslems as well as Christians, and a few hundred yards away Mohammedans bowed in prayer. From here the Prophet Mohammed is said to have risen to heaven on his horse.

Christian churches which did not participate in the Latin Way of the Cross procession commemorated the death with their own rites.

Anglicans heard services in Arabic and English in St. George's Cathedral, with a special meditation on Christ's last words. Lutherans held special services in German, English and Arabic, followed by Holy Communion.

U.S. Delays First Launch Of Centaur

Problem In Fuel Line Postpones Scheduled Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — An attempt to launch America's revolutionary new Centaur rocket was called off again Friday — this time because of a problem in a fuel line.

No new launch date was set immediately, but the delay was for at least 24 hours.

It was one of many postponements for the maiden flight of the complex Centaur. The initial flight has been delayed by a string of difficulties stretching back 14 months.

Friday's shot, called off shortly after 4 p.m. EST, was to have been the first of a scheduled series of rocket launchings that add up to one of the most ambitious space programs ever undertaken by American scientists.

Centaur, a prototype of the vehicles that one day will propel American astronauts to the moon, was to ride aloft as the upper stage of a modified Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

Scientists planned to send Centaur about 300 miles into space before trying to ignite its pair of 15,000-pound-thrust engines for the first time in flight.

The key to Centaur is that the super-cooled hydrogen it burns offers nearly half again as much power per pound as conventional kerosene-oxygen rocket engines.

Scheduled to follow Centaur to the firing line is an Atlas-Agena-B rocket that is ticketed to carry cameras and instruments to the moon.

The moon shot, dubbed "Ranger-4," is scheduled for Monday, and on Wednesday, scientists will attempt to put Saturn — possibly the most powerful rocket in the world — through its second flight test.

UK-1, an American-built satellite carrying British-designed experiments and billed as the world's first international satellite, will return to the schedule on Thursday. The 132 - pound moonlet will be carried aloft by a three-stage Delta rocket.

21 Men Lose Sense Of Time In Dark Cave

FRABOSA SOPRANA, Italy (UPI) —Twenty-one men who went into a cave a week ago to lose their sense of time emerged into the sunlight Friday and admitted they did not know it was Friday.

All members of the expedition experienced some degree of loss of time sense during their stay in the pitch-black Bossea cave. They left their watches and all other means of telling time behind and were able to communicate with the surface only by Morse signals.

Team members on the surface kept in contact with the expedition, asking each volunteer in the cave what time he thought it was at irregular intervals. They found the cave sitters margin of error was greater at night when they were asked to guess whether it was day or night.

World's Fair To Open At Noon Today

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—America's first World's Fair in 22 years—Seattle's salute to the 21st century—opens at noon Saturday when President Kennedy touches a golden telegraph key.

The President, vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla., will signal the opening of the fair. Cannons will fire, whistles will blow and a seven - year, $100-million dream will become a reality.

ATTEND PREVIEW

A thousand newsmen previewed the Century 21 Exposition Friday and pronounced it magnificent.

Among World's Fairs it appears to be the most compact—74 acres, beautiful and serious.

But the frivolous has not been overlooked either. The issue of "to bare or not to bare" was settled Thursday night when a special city censor board gave the nod to bare-breasted girlie shows on the gayway.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, the government's top representative for the opening, agreed with other previewers: "Century 21 is certain to be a success for Seattle, for the state of Washington, for the Pacific Northwest and for our entire nation."

Seattle's hopes were soaring as high as the fair's Space Needle. Even before the first customer passed through the gates, financial success seemed assured. Advance sales of cut-rate tickets ended March 15 with $8 million in receipts. That represents 3½ million admissions, and the fair figures to break even with seven million.

Previewers generally agreed that the fair's success as a show was due in great part to a king-sized assist from Uncle Sam. The $9-million Federal Science Pavilion is the hit of the fair, both as an exhibit and a thing of beauty.

The pavilion is a stunning design by Detroit architect Minoru Yamasaki. The visitor enters an expanse of lagoons surrounded by glistening white buildings and

JUDGE AGREES

James Acquitted In Federal Case

A federal jury here yesterday cleared N. Bryant James of an embezzlement charge, in a Good Friday decision that ended three-years prosecution of the former bank president and Republican National Committee chairman.

U.S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. immediately read a public statement saying he agreed with the jury decision and that he thought former federal attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson "committed a grave injustice in having this man indicted."

3 INDICTMENTS

Three indictments were returned against James in a 12-month period. The first two were thrown out of court, and Judge Dawkins dismissed the third because the federal grand jury heard no evidence before returning it.

However, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals re-instated the indictment, and James was brought to trial.

The charge against him was that he converted to his own use a $5,000 note which allegedly belonged to the Farmerville bank.

Testimony during the three-day trial included statements by: 1. An FBI agent that he found no evidence that James intended to defraud the Farmerville bank; 2. The bank examiner who brought charges against James. Under cross-examination, he admitted he did not find any record of the Farmerville bank owning the furniture and fixtures which were sold by the note; 3. James' testimony that he spent several thousand dollars on a firm which went bankrupt, then operated it for 2½ years trying to put it back on its feet to salvage some money for the Farmerville bank.

Sam Donald, public accountant and only witness on the final day of trail, testifed that James put money into the store and suffered financial losses in so doing.

On Dec. 16, 1957, James sold the store, furniture, fixtures and merchandise which he had placed on the shelves to Wayne R. Deacon and J. C. Lolley.

Purchase price for the furniture and fixtures was $5,000, a no interest, in a five-year note — the note on which the indictment was based.

James turned the note over to the Farmerville Brokerage and Insurance Agency, which had helped him get the business back on its feet.

Judge Dawkins' full statement to the jury following yesterday's acquittal is:

"We concur with your verdict wholeheartedly, and we must note for the record that in our opinion Mr. T. Fitzhugh Wilson commit-

BREAKS INTO BEDROOM

Poet Free, But Sad After Week In Jail

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) —The poet who twice broke into Brigitte Bardot's bedroom to recite his verse left Friday for the Romeo and Juliet city of Verona, free but saddened after a week in jail.

Miss Bardot wasn't to happy, either. Apart from the trouble he gave her she had to pay to get him out of prison.

It started at 2 a.m. April 8, when Domenico Buono, 33, tried to enter the French film star's hotel room in nearby Fiesole. She ran into the corridor in her nightgown and yelled for help.

Buono explained he merely wanted to recite a poem to her. Police and hotel personnel told him his presence was not desired and called him a taxi.

Five days later Buono was back —at 5 a.m. using a taxi driver as a decoy for the hotel staff, he climbed a wall unnoticed, ran upstairs and burst into Miss Bardot's room.

This time he managed to recite a few lines before the actress yelled. Then the hotel staff overpowered him. Miss Bardot had police take him to jail on housebreaking charges. She later relented and withdrew the charge.

Friday, a judge ordered Buono released. But he ruled that since Miss Bardot had filed and then withdrawn the charge, she must pay court costs.

Miss Bardot, who has completed film shooting in Florence, left for Paris shortly after Buono's release without meeting him.

The poet still faces trial here on some future date on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Tshombe Return Is Predicted

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Acting Congolese Premier Jean Bolikango said Friday that Katanga President Moise Tshombe will return here Saturday to resume his talks. Western and United Nations officials said they had no such information.

Bolikango, who is replacing Premier Cyrille Adoula during Adoula's tour of the interior, criticized the U.N. role in the release of Tshombe's plane Thursday. U.N. troops forced Congolese authorities to allow Tshombe to take off for Elisabethville after the plane had been grounded more than 16 hours.

"There was never any question on the part of the government of seeking to deprive Tshombe of his liberty," Bolikango said. He accused the United Nations of creating the impression the Central government wanted to arrest Tshombe after the failure of his reunification talks with Adoula.

In another development, a Leopoldville court sentenced self-styled South Kasai "king" Albert Kalonji to five years in prison for the illegal imprisonment and maltreatment of two political opponents.

Kalonji, who was arrested in Leopoldville last December, announced he will appeal the sentence.

Monroe's Bernstein Park got a new "pet" Friday. A ten - and - a - half - foot alligator, the little fellow was a gift from Frank and Jerry Howard of Swartz and Don, Lewis, Mack and Mat Massey of Fort Necessity who caught him in the Hall Ridge slough near Beouf River in Caldwell Parish.

The boys failed to specify just what they used to "bag the critter" but, at any rate, they turned up in Fort Necessity with him around 3 p.m. He made his grand entrance at the zoo here around 4. It all prompts Jes' Ramblin' to

X15 Pilot Soars Up 38 Miles

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—With his wife and son watching, X15 test pilot Neil Armstrong rocketed 38 miles into space Friday and then came down so fast he overshot his landing point by several miles.

He hit a near record speed of 3,818 miles an hour on the way up to a peak of 207,000 feet—just 10,000 feet short of a record for the rocket plane.

Armstrong's wife Jan and their son Eric, 4, watched the X15's almost precipitous landing from their vantage point in the control center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's research branch here.

An unusually strong sonic boom shook the base as the X15 was coming in for the landing.

It was Armstrong's fourth test of the new control system, vital when the X15 begins flights above 50 miles later this year.

A flight to 255,000 feet, or about 48 miles—just over the designed maximum for the X15 with early equipment — may be attempted next week.

Armstrong was not trying for a record Friday. His flight plan called for him to stay below the present records of 217,000 feet and 4,093 miles per hour.

21 Men Lose Sense Of Time In Dark Cave

FRABOSA SOPRANA, Italy (UPI) —Twenty-one men who went into a cave a week ago to lose their sense of time emerged into the sunlight Friday and admitted they did not know it was Friday.

All members of the expedition experienced some degree of loss of time sense during their stay in the pitch-black Bossea cave. They left their watches and all other means of telling time behind and were able to communicate with the surface only by Morse signals.

Team members on the surface kept in contact with the expedition, asking each volunteer in the cave what time he thought it was at irregular intervals. They found the cave sitters margin of error was greater at night when they were asked to guess whether it was day or night.

World's Fair To Open At Noon Today

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—America's first World's Fair in 22 years—Seattle's salute to the 21st century—opens at noon Saturday when President Kennedy touches a golden telegraph key.

The President, vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla., will signal the opening of the fair. Cannons will fire, whistles will blow and a seven - year, $100-million dream will become a reality.

ATTEND PREVIEW

A thousand newsmen previewed the Century 21 Exposition Friday and pronounced it magnificent.

Among World's Fairs it appears to be the most compact—74 acres, beautiful and serious.

But the frivolous has not been overlooked either. The issue of "to bare or not to bare" was settled Thursday night when a special city censor board gave the nod to bare-breasted girlie shows on the gayway.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, the government's top representative for the opening, agreed with other previewers: "Century 21 is certain to be a success for Seattle, for the state of Washington, for the Pacific Northwest and for our entire nation."

Seattle's hopes were soaring as high as the fair's Space Needle. Even before the first customer passed through the gates, financial success seemed assured. Advance sales of cut-rate tickets ended March 15 with $8 million in receipts. That represents 3½ million admissions, and the fair figures to break even with seven million.

Previewers generally agreed that the fair's success as a show was due in great part to a king-sized assist from Uncle Sam. The $9-million Federal Science Pavilion is the hit of the fair, both as an exhibit and a thing of beauty.

The pavilion is a stunning design by Detroit architect Minoru Yamasaki. The visitor enters an expanse of lagoons surrounded by glistening white buildings and

JUDGE AGREES

James Acquitted In Federal Case

A federal jury here yesterday cleared N. Bryant James of an embezzlement charge, in a Good Friday decision that ended three-years prosecution of the former bank president and Republican National Committee chairman.

U.S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. immediately read a public statement saying he agreed with the jury decision and that he thought former federal attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson "committed a grave injustice in having this man indicted."

3 INDICTMENTS

Three indictments were returned against James in a 12-month period. The first two were thrown out of court, and Judge Dawkins dismissed the third because the federal grand jury heard no evidence before returning it.

However, the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals re-instated the indictment, and James was brought to trial.

The charge against him was that he converted to his own use a $5,000 note which allegedly belonged to the Farmerville bank.

Testimony during the three-day trial included statements by: 1. An FBI agent that he found no evidence that James intended to defraud the Farmerville bank; 2. The bank examiner who brought charges against James. Under cross-examination, he admitted he did not find any record of the Farmerville bank owning the furniture and fixtures which were sold by the note; 3. James' testimony that he spent several thousand dollars on a firm which went bankrupt, then operated it for 2½ years trying to put it back on its feet to salvage some money for the Farmerville bank.

Sam Donald, public accountant and only witness on the final day of trail, testifed that James put money into the store and suffered financial losses in so doing.

On Dec. 16, 1957, James sold the store, furniture, fixtures and merchandise which he had placed on the shelves to Wayne R. Deacon and J. C. Lolley.

Purchase price for the furniture and fixtures was $5,000, a no interest, in a five-year note — the note on which the indictment was based.

James turned the note over to the Farmerville Brokerage and Insurance Agency, which had helped him get the business back on its feet.

Judge Dawkins' full statement to the jury following yesterday's acquittal is:

"We concur with your verdict wholeheartedly, and we must note for the record that in our opinion Mr. T. Fitzhugh Wilson commit-

Tshombe Return Is Predicted

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Acting Congolese Premier Jean Bolikango said Friday that Katanga President Moise Tshombe will return here Saturday to resume his talks. Western and United Nations officials said they had no such information.

Bolikango, who is replacing Premier Cyrille Adoula during Adoula's tour of the interior, criticized the U.N. role in the release of Tshombe's plane Thursday. U.N. troops forced Congolese authorities to allow Tshombe to take off for Elisabethville after the plane had been grounded more than 16 hours.

"There was never any question on the part of the government of seeking to deprive Tshombe of his liberty," Bolikango said. He accused the United Nations of creating the impression the Central government wanted to arrest Tshombe after the failure of his reunification talks with Adoula.

In another development, a Leopoldville court sentenced self-styled South Kasai "king" Albert Kalonji to five years in prison for the illegal imprisonment and maltreatment of two political opponents.

Kalonji, who was arrested in Leopoldville last December, announced he will appeal the sentence.

ON GOOD FRIDAY

Pilgrims Retrace Crucifixion Route

JERUSALEM, JORDAN SECTOR (AP)—From the Moslem schoolyard that once was Pontius Pilate's court, hundreds of Christian pilgrim retraced on Good Friday the last faltering steps of Christ along the twisting, stone-paved Way of the Cross.

Many were singing and some were bowed under the weight of 16-foot crosses as they followed the path in Old Jerusalem's Via Dolorosa—Way of Sorrows.

In the dark-vaulted alleyways of Moslem shops they halted to pray and sing at 14 stations of the Cross, marking incidents on Christ's path to crucifixion—such as where he stumbled to the ground beneath the weight of the cross or where he was flogged.

Some quoted Christ's words: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

Pilgrims, split into groups according to language, witnessed along the way many of the same sights Jesus may have seen through the blood from his crown of thorns.

Jerusalem is a holy city for Moslems as well as Christians, and a few hundred yards away Mohammedans bowed in prayer. From here the Prophet Mohammed is said to have risen to heaven on his horse.

Christian churches which did not participate in the Latin Way of the Cross procession commemorated the death with their own rites.

Anglicans heard services in Arabic and English in St. George's Cathedral, with a special meditation on Christ's last words. Lutherans held special services in German, English and Arabic, followed by Holy Communion.

State Economy Urged By Dyer

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Rep. Jack Dyer of East Baton Rouge Parish said Friday sensible economy rather than taxation is the answer to Louisiana's fiscal ills.

Also, he said, "we must require our state officials to live like sensible public servants — rather than kings."

Dyer said he wanted to make clear he is opposed to any tampering with the teacher's retirement funds in any effort to find emergency money," other sacred money that the law says shall not be used for any purposes other than those for which they were dedicated."

Senator Soaper Says

In Congress, everybody covets his neighbor's junket.

What's so new about discount stores? At the old General Merchandise we used to sit around the stove and discount about half the stories people told.

Youngsters won't believe it, but in many a community there are oldtimers who remember when the first "no left turn" sign went up.

Show us a man who eats a good, hearty breakfast and we'll show you a man who has the energy to tell you about it every chance he gets.

It's Spring when buds and convertibles start popping open.

Partly Cloudy, Warm Expected

The weather has gotten into its Spring rut in the Twin Cities with the forecast for today calling for about the same weather as Friday.

The outlook is for mostly sunny skies with scattered clouds. The temperature high today will be about 82 degrees with the low tonight at 60.

Friday's top, under partly cloudy skies, was 85 with the overnight low dropping to only 53.

BREAKS INTO BEDROOM

Poet Free, But Sad After Week In Jail

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) —The poet who twice broke into Brigitte Bardot's bedroom to recite his verse left Friday for the Romeo and Juliet city of Verona, free but saddened after a week in jail.

Miss Bardot wasn't to happy, either. Apart from the trouble he gave her she had to pay to get him out of prison.

It started at 2 a.m. April 8, when Domenico Buono, 33, tried to enter the French film star's hotel room in nearby Fiesole. She ran into the corridor in her nightgown and yelled for help.

Buono explained he merely wanted to recite a poem to her. Police and hotel personnel told him his presence was not desired and called him a taxi.

Five days later Buono was back —at 5 a.m. using a taxi driver as a decoy for the hotel staff, he climbed a wall unnoticed, ran upstairs and burst into Miss Bardot's room.

This time he managed to recite a few lines before the actress yelled. Then the hotel staff overpowered him. Miss Bardot had police take him to jail on housebreaking charges. She later relented and withdrew the charge.

Friday, a judge ordered Buono released. But he ruled that since Miss Bardot had filed and then withdrawn the charge, she must pay court costs.

Miss Bardot, who has completed film shooting in Florence, left for Paris shortly after Buono's release without meeting him.

The poet still faces trial here on some future date on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Terrorists Riot As Salan Taken To Paris Prison

abortive generals' revolt in Algiers aimed at toppling the government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle because of his plans to grant independence to Algeria. Ironically it was Salan who helped bring De Gaulle to power in 1958 in hopes of "saving" Algeria.

Salan went underground then as France's public enemy No. 1 and has since led the fight to keep Algeria French. He was the mastermind behind a campaign of terror that has taken nearly 3,800 lives and wounded more than 8,000 persons—mostly Moslems—since Jan. 1.

Other major blows against the OAS struck Friday in Algeria:

—Police announced the arrests of two other top OAS agents. Former Foreign Legion Sgt. Miroslav (Marc) Radovitch, leader of an OAS terrorist commando group in Oran, was arrested in a bar in Sidi-Bel-Abbes on April 18. Former Lt. Salan was expected to face the fate of his deputy renegade air-force ex-Gen. Jouhaud who was captured in Oran flown to Paris, convicted of treason and condemned to die.

Revenue Gain Estimated By Sen. Bodron

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. Ellis Bodron of Vicksburg said Friday the state would get only $9 million for balancing the next budget under a ½ cent state sales tax bill passed by the House.

Bodron said the bill goes beyond the recommendations of Gov. Ross Barnett and the Revenue Study Committee who "have been seeking to raise the revenue necessary to avoid a deficit (and who) have represented to the people that we would enact only such tax increases as were absolutely essential."

The State Budget Commission has recommended a $287 million minimum needs budget and estimated $265 million in revenues and surplus funds would be available to finance it. The group has sought $27 million in new money to make up any difference and leave a $5 million in operating funds.

Talking about the ½ cent sales tax increase provided in the House bill, Bodron said "only $9 million would go to the general fund of the state where the money is needed and the other $11 million is allocated to other specific purposes. We need only approximately $10 million more in additional revenue to finance the recommended budget ....

"That amount can be raised by an increase of only ¼ per cent.

"Increased taxation should always be a last resort and, in my judgment, raising taxes for expanded services at a time when it has been necessary to increase taxes so much to avoid a deficit is unjustified and unjustifiable."

The House amended the sales tax bill to provide an extra ¼ per cent tax, providing $5 million for teacher salary increases and $5 million for highway maintenance. The lower chamber also made an adjustment in the percentage of the sales tax going to state aid roads, cutting slightly more than $1 million off the remaining $10 million and leaving only $9 million for the general fund.

Gov. Ross Barnett praised the inclusion of teacher salary increases and said Friday he felt the change would help pass the bill.

Force immediately after receiving his degree in engineering from the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

He then went on to earn his masters degree in engineering from the Air Force Institution of Technology.

He began his training as a private and was selected to attend the cadet school at Reese Air Force Base in Texas near Lubbock, where he received his wings in 1952.

He was serving as a test pilot in California when he was selected for training.

Crews lives with his wife, the former Grace Marino of Lecompte, and their three daughters.

Crews was one of seven Air Force test pilots and one Navy officer picked to train for future space projects.

The others are: Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd N. Hoover of Wilbraham, Mass., the only Navy officer; four other Air Force Captains, Charles C. Bock Jr., Council Bluffs, Iowa; William T. Twinting, La Grange, Ill.; Robert W. Smith, Bethesda, Md.; Robert H. McIntosh, Baltimore; two Air Force majors, Donald M. Sorlie, Dumn Center, N.D.; and Byron F. Knole, Houston, Tex.

This military project is related to but apart from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's civilian selection and training of its astronauts.

The Air Force said some of the eight, with extra training, could be among the astronauts NASA plans to add to its original seven-man team.

The eight — as did five pilots before them—will set out on June 18 on an eight-month course at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. It is designed to train them for such space projects as the X15 plane, the projected Dyna Soar manned space glider and follow-up aerospace vehicles.

The Air Force said the graduates of the school are not earmarked for special assignments but will form a pool of highly skilled men able to take over as space pilots, engineers or managers of aerospace projects.

The first class of five officers was graduated last Dec. 15.

The eight, an Air Force spokesman said, have quite a bit more background than the seven astronauts in the civilian space program.

Each holds a degree in engineering or in one of the physical sciences or mathematics and is a graduate of one of the service test pilot schools. An Air Force spokesman said all are in their 30s.

The volunteers, drawn from a pool of about 50, underwent detailed medical and psychological tests to determine character, motivation and emotional factors.

World's Fair To Open At Noon Today

crowned with five soaring white Gothic domes.

Inside, the wonders of science are graphically laid before the visitor. There is a Cinerama-made space movie that appears to hurtle the viewers through the heavens at great speed. There is even a wonderland for kids—no adults allowed—where the small fry can perform their own scientific experiments.

Another government exhibit that is bound to be a crowd-pleaser is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration show, a wonderland of rockets, satellites and space boosters.

The Space Needle has proved to be the biggest talking point of the fair before opening. It is indeed impressive—a huge flying saucer atop a tripod shooting 600 feet into the sky. Three transparent elevators zoom up the sides to an observation platform and restaurant that revolves hourly.

The monorail is another major attraction. The electric car races noiselessly on a ribbon of concrete from downtown Seattle to the fair, a distance of 1.2 miles. The monorail may help relieve parking congestion at the fair. Even so, everybody expects Saturday's opening to signal the biggest traffic jam in Northwest history.

But that doesn't dim the World's Fair fever in Seattle. Neither does the forecast of scattered light showers. The city has waited a long time. Now it will be just a few hours, and the touch of a telegraph key.

Court Declines Jurisdiction In Racial Mix Case

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A three judge federal court ruled Friday it did not have jurisdiction in a suit seeking desegregation of public recreational facilities here and sent the case back to a single judge.

The unanimous ruling, received by mail by Jackson city officials Friday, was handed down by U.S. Circuit Judge Richard Rives of Montgomery, Ala., U.S. Circuit Judge John Brown of Houston, Tex., and U.S. District Judge Sidney Mize of Gulfport.

The suit, filed by the Rev. L. A. Clark, Mary A. Cox and W. R. Wren, all of Jackson, will be heard either before Judge Mize or U.S. District Judge Harold Cox of Jackson.

They seek an injunction to restrain city officials from enforcing statutes preventing the use of libraries, public parks and swimming pools on an integrated basis.

City attorney E. W. Stennett said he was highly pleased with the action. Other city leaders said they felt the return to the district court was proper.

Crews lives with his wife, the former Grace Marino of Lecompte, and their three daughters.

Crews was one of seven Air Force test pilots and one Navy officer picked to train for future space projects.

The others are: Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd N. Hoover of Wilbraham, Mass., the only Navy officer; four other Air Force Captains, Charles C. Bock Jr., Council Bluffs, Iowa; William T. Twinting, La Grange, Ill.; Robert W. Smith, Bethesda, Md.; Robert H. McIntosh, Baltimore; two Air Force majors, Donald M. Sorlie, Dumn Center, N.D.; and Byron F. Knole, Houston, Tex.

This military project is related to but apart from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's civilian selection and training of its astronauts.

The Air Force said some of the eight, with extra training, could be among the astronauts NASA plans to add to its original seven-man team.

The eight — as did five pilots before them—will set out on June 18 on an eight-month course at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. It is designed to train them for such space projects as the X15 plane, the projected Dyna Soar manned space glider and follow-up aerospace vehicles.

The Air Force said the graduates of the school are not earmarked for special assignments but will form a pool of highly skilled men able to take over as space pilots, engineers or managers of aerospace projects.

The first class of five officers was graduated last Dec. 15.

The eight, an Air Force spokesman said, have quite a bit more background than the seven astronauts in the civilian space program.

Each holds a degree in engineering or in one of the physical sciences or mathematics and is a graduate of one of the service test pilot schools. An Air Force spokesman said all are in their 30s.

The volunteers, drawn from a pool of about 50, underwent detailed medical and psychological tests to determine character, motivation and emotional factors.

World's Fair To Open At Noon Today

crowned with five soaring white Gothic domes.

Inside, the wonders of science are graphically laid before the visitor. There is a Cinerama-made space movie that appears to hurtle the viewers through the heavens at great speed. There is even a wonderland for kids—no adults allowed—where the small fry can perform their own scientific experiments.

Another government exhibit that is bound to be a crowd-pleaser is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration show, a wonderland of rockets, satellites and space boosters.

The Space Needle has proved to be the biggest talking point of the fair before opening. It is indeed impressive—a huge flying saucer atop a tripod shooting 600 feet into the sky. Three transparent elevators zoom up the sides to an observation platform and restaurant that revolves hourly.

The monorail is another major attraction. The electric car races noiselessly on a ribbon of concrete from downtown Seattle to the fair, a distance of 1.2 miles. The monorail may help relieve parking congestion at the fair. Even so, everybody expects Saturday's opening to signal the biggest traffic jam in Northwest history.

But that doesn't dim the World's Fair fever in Seattle. Neither does the forecast of scattered light showers. The city has waited a long time. Now it will be just a few hours, and the touch of a telegraph key.

ted a grave injustice in having this man indicted without a complete investigation of all the facts in the case. Otherwise, I do not believe the Grand Jury, if they had all the facts as you have had before you, would have ever indicted this man."

Court Declines Jurisdiction In Racial Mix Case

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A three judge federal court ruled Friday it did not have jurisdiction in a suit seeking desegregation of public recreational facilities here and sent the case back to a single judge.

The unanimous ruling, received by mail by Jackson city officials Friday, was handed down by U.S. Circuit Judge Richard Rives of Montgomery, Ala., U.S. Circuit Judge John Brown of Houston, Tex., and U.S. District Judge Sidney Mize of Gulfport.

The suit, filed by the Rev. L. A. Clark, Mary A. Cox and W. R. Wren, all of Jackson, will be heard either before Judge Mize or U.S. District Judge Harold Cox of Jackson.

They seek an injunction to restrain city officials from enforcing statutes preventing the use of libraries, public parks and swimming pools on an integrated basis.

City attorney E. W. Stennett said he was highly pleased with the action. Other city leaders said they felt the return to the district court was proper.

Pair Waiting Angola Term; 2 Others Taken

Awaiting transfer to the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola to begin terms of three and five years are two men convicted Thursday in Fourth District Court before Judge Mack Barham.

Both being held in Ouachita Parish jail, they are identified as Ellis Charles "Buddy" Breland, 22, of 201 N. 8th St., West Monroe, and Bobby L. Williams, 1927 Summit Ave., Dallas, Tex.

Breland drew the five year term for the simple burglary earlier this month of the Golden Pheasant Tavern, 405 Walnut St., while Williams received three years for the simple burglary Nov. 23, 1960, of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Also, two men were taken to the penitentiary Friday to begin serving terms for recent convictions in Fourth District Court.

They were identified as 19-year - old George E. Brooks, who received three year sentences on each of two counts, covering burglary and felony theft, and running concurrently; and Negro Algie Lee Collins, 23, who also drew three years before Judge Mack Barham for burglary.

Revenue Gain Estimated By Sen. Bodron

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. Ellis Bodron of Vicksburg said Friday the state would get only $9 million for balancing the next budget under a ½ cent state sales tax bill passed by the House.

Bodron said the bill goes beyond the recommendations of Gov. Ross Barnett and the Revenue Study Committee who "have been seeking to raise the revenue necessary to avoid a deficit (and who) have represented to the people that we would enact only such tax increases as were absolutely essential."

The State Budget Commission has recommended a $287 million minimum needs budget and estimated $265 million in revenues and surplus funds would be available to finance it. The group has sought $27 million in new money to make up any difference and leave a $5 million in operating funds.

Talking about the ½ cent sales tax increase provided in the House bill, Bodron said "only $9 million would go to the general fund of the state where the money is needed and the other $11 million is allocated to other specific purposes. We need only approximately $10 million more in additional revenue to finance the recommended budget . . . .

"That amount can be raised by an increase of only ¼ per cent.

"Increased taxation should always be a last resort and, in my judgment, raising taxes for expanded services at a time when it has been necessary to increase taxes so much to avoid a deficit is unjustified and unjustifiable."

The House amended the sales tax bill to provide an extra ¼ per cent tax, providing $5 million for teacher salary increases and $5 million for highway maintenance. The lower chamber also made an adjustment in the percentage of the sales tax going to state aid roads, cutting slightly more than $1 million off the remaining $10 million and leaving only $9 million for the general fund.

Gov. Ross Barnett praised the inclusion of teacher salary increases and said Friday he felt the change would help pass the bill.

Frightened by the boy, the quail flew into a picture window of a vacant house and were stunned. Steven calmly picked them up and there was quail for dinner.

Taxi Burned As Chicago Unions 'War'

CHICAGO (UPI) — One taxi was burned and another was scorched Friday in what police said was a fresh outbreak of violence in the power struggle between the Teamsters and Seafarers unions for control of Chicago cabbies.

The flareup came three days before Federal Judge Julius H. Miner was scheduled to hold a hearing on a petition to stop the Seafarers' Democratic Union Organizing Committee (DUOC) from executing its new contract with Chicago's two major cab companies.

Only a week ago — during a space of three days — three cabs were pulled from the Chicago River. Miner warned he would not tolerate violence in the contest between the Teamsters and the Seafarers.

Friday, a five-gallon can of gasoline was thrown in the back seat of one of the cabs parked near a Yellow Cab Co. garage. The gasoline was apparently touched off by a torch, police said, and the flames scorched another cab parked beside it.

Deputy Police Supt. Joe Morris said Dominic Abata, head of the DUOC, offered to take a lie test. But Joey Glimco, head of the teamsters-affiliate, said:

"If Bob Kennedy, Goldberg, Paul Hall and Meany will take a test, I'll take one, too." He was referring to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, and AFL-CIO President George Meany, all considered foes of the Teamsters, and to Paul Hall, president of the Seafarers.

Morris said the apparent strategy was to frighten drivers against taking their cabs out during rival DUOC and Teamster organizing drives.

Last Of Irish Rebels Freed

DUBLIN (UPI)—Ireland Friday released its last 29 Irish Republican army prisoners, two months after the IRA gave up its long campaign of violence against the partition of six northern counties.

The men were released from Mountjoy Prison in downtown Dublin without advance notice. The move was made quietly, with only a few policemen and detectives standing by.

Some IRA members still are in prison in British-ruled Northern Ireland and in England, serving sentences for border terror acts. The IRA called a halt to its campaign of violence Feb. 26, agreeing to surrender its arms and withdraw its commandos from the frontier area, where they had been bombing and shooting both British and Irish border posts.

U.S. Judge To Rule In Registrar Case

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox promised Friday to rule before noon Saturday on a Justice Department request for a temporary restraining order against alleged discrimination by George County Registrar Elred W. Green.

U.S. Atty. Robert Owens charged that Green failed to register six Negroes with the same qualifications as white voters. In his charges, Owens said the registrar was not exercising full authority and allowed the County Election Commission to have the final say on registration.

Judge Cox took notice of the action and said Green "apparently was misguided in his registration procedures."

The Justice Department seeks immediate registration of the six Negroes and an end to alleged discrimination against others. Owens said the registration books would close soon for the June 5 primary, denying the Negroes a chance to register if the order wasn't rendered soon.

Assistant state Atty. Gen. Dugas Shands said the request for a temporary restraining order put undue pressure on the state in asking for a "show cause" order.

Owens charged through affadavits filed by the six that Green applied more stringent standards to Negro applicants than white persons.

In additoin to giving the voter qualification test required by the State Election Commission, he said Green had asked the prospective Negro applicants if they knew the members of several county committees.

Also, Moore said, after they filled out the applications they were asked to appear before the County Election Commission for final determination of their qualifications. Most were forced to wait several months.

Shands asked Judge Cox to strike the motion for a temporary restraining order because the affadavits "totally fail to show discrimination under the law."

Shands cited one court decision which he said showed that even if a registrar did not follow the law it did not show discrimination unless it was proved that it was on a racial basis. He said the government did not show this.

Also, he said, there is a state law that enables the registrar to give an oral examination on "other suitable questions."

George County has 850 adult Negroes and 5,276 adult whites. The Justice Department said a majority of the whites were registered while only 10 Negroes were registered.

The six unsuccessful Negro applicants were:

Charles Grant, 56, bachelor of science degree; Mrs. Maybird Grant, 42, BS; Inez Wilson, 46, high school degree; James Talbert, 57, high school; Mrs. Ernestine Talbert, 32, BS; and Robert Alexander, college graduate with graduate work at Tuskegee Institute.

Our Worst Proposal

If any proposal contemplated at the Geneva conference can be worse than one said to be in the hopper for presentation by the United States it would be difficult to imagine what it could be. Whether the officials have any such intentions or not, this proposal looks like a plan to turn the world over to the United Nations. If that were done, we might as well put our pajamas into a bag and look for a permanent hidie-hole.

According to an item carried in Human Events, a Washington report, one of the major United States proposals at Geneva is a plan to eliminate the world's national armies within nine years and replace them with a United Nations force. Of course, if the United Nations force then were to be like it is now—made up mostly of American troops—it might not seem like such a bad idea, but the fact is that we supply the troops and then let the communists and communist-neutrals in the United Nations tell us what to do with them.

The scandal of "The Liberal Papers" has reached a new phase. These papers, now referred to as the Democratic left wing's "bible of appeasement and surrender," no longer appear as a mere platform of academic discussion, however shocking their words. They now stand revealed as a primer for actual policy-making within the United States diplomatic set-up.

The Republican committee's publication, Battle Line, discloses that Marcus Raskin, has turned up at Geneva as an adviser to the United States disarmament delegation.

Two weeks ago, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller sharply criticized the appointment of Raskin to the National Security Council, our key defense planning agency. Although Raskin's name has not been publicly linked with the proposal to turn the national armies over to the United Nations, it appears to be his brainchild.

In 1961 Raskin co-authored with Arthur Waskow, one of the contributors to The Liberal Papers, a 172- page book entitled Deterrence and Reality. This book stated "Until recently in our national history, Americans believed that when wars were thrust upon us, the United States could win them." Also it said: "Patrick Henry willingness to purchase liberty with his life no longer applies in an H-bomb age. " The authors said communist aggression should not have been met with armed force in Korea, Lebanon or Greece.

It is difficult to see how such words could be spoken except by those more in favor of communism than individual freedom or by some one entirely devoid of national patriotism.

Wild-eyed one-worlders, including our ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai Stevenson, who hope to achieve their goal of one-worldism through the United Nations, either are totally blind to what such a course would mean to American freedom and independence or they do not care.

Those men who have drawn up a "pattern for surrender," whether they are connected with the United Nations or the security council or neither of them, surely do not represent the will of most of the people of the United States.

Getting More Jobs

Government pump-priming in so-called depressed areas must inevitably result in "robbing Peter to pay Paul." Unless the new made-in-Washington jobs are in entirely new fields or serve entirely new markets, the creation of new productive facilities in depressed areas simply results in the loss of similar jobs elsewhere. Pouring money into a depressed area may be even worse than that because it may be taking jobs from areas in which the people are showing energy and initiative and transferring them to stagnated areas where they won't do much good.

Real, lasting jobs are established only when new demands for goods and services are created. This may be in the form of more goods and services in the same fields or in the form of goods and services in new fields. We know that it takes private industry, with a real concern about and interest the future needs and desires to the people, to create such jobs.

Washington's new baby, the area redevelopment administration, has come up with a report. So far it has allocated $82 million in loans and grants, which is expected to "create" 4,588 jobs. If the grants merely provide for more production in the depressed areas, when the country already has enough production of those particular products, it will not really create any jobs. All it will do will be to take jobs away from some and give them to others. We know that any kind of overproduction results in a glutted market and therefore in manufacturing cutbacks.

The ARA was set up to combat unemployment in the depressed areas. The president is asking that it be given $210 million to be spent in the coming year.

Loans and grants already committed come to about $16,000 per job. This means that if this rate is kept up and the program gets the funds it asks only something between 10,000 and 20,000 new jobs is involved. The unemployed number 4.5 million.

To make a million new jobs this way would cost something like $16 billion.

Either we don't get many so-called new jobs by the program or we spend staggering sums.

The fact seems to be that unemployment is too big for the government to tackle directly. If unemployment really is to be reduced, it will have to be done by private means. Only the millions of Americans who are interested in setting up and expanding businesses can make any real dent in the vast problem. And they'll do it if given half a chance.

Right now the federal tax structure, the government-abetted union policies of large increases in wages and fringe benefits, coupled with insistence on featherbedding, growing government competition and the high-handed refusal of the government to allow industry to increase prices to off-set wage increases, as exemplified in the steel price controversy, have slowed down the expansion of business and industries and that is what is causing a shortage of jobs.

Washington programs are no substitute for the creative energies of the whole population.

Caroline White House Boss

Informality Is Keynote As President's Four-Year-Old Daughter Wanders Around Unrestrained

President Kennedy runs the government and his beauteous wife is first lady of the land, but their blonde, vivacious four-year-old daughter Caroline is undisputed mistress of the White House.

Completely self-possessed and irresistibly winning, Caroline apparently has full run of the executive mansion and is apt to appear most anywhere. She will pop up suddenly and gaily, introduce herself politely, and after a chatty visit, saunter off as nonchalantly as she appeared.

On most of these adventurous wanderings, she is accompanied by an adoring Secret Service guard—John ("Muggsy") O'Leary. A one-time Capitol Hill policeman, he was shifted to the White House to keep an eye on Caroline. They get along famously.

A typical instance of her informal meandering was the experience of a hat designer who came from New York to display a number of her creations to Mrs. Kennedy.

Waiting for the first lady in a private room, the hat designer was first startled by the president poking in his head and after a surprised pause inquiring, "Hello. Am I supposed to know who you are?"

"No," replied the equally surprised visitor. "I brought some hats for your wife. I am waiting for her."

"In that case," grinned the president, "perhaps it's better I don't know you." With that he nodded, and disappeared.

The hat designer had barely composed herself, when she was again startled by Caroline skipping merrily into the room. After politely scrutinizing the visitor, Caroline announced, "I'm Caroline. What's your name?"

The hat designer introduced herself, whereupon Caroline inquired, "What's in those boxes? Something for me?"

"No, I'm afraid not. They are hats for your mother. She is going to try them on."

"Oh, goody," exclaimed Caroline, clapping her hands and jumping up and down with delight. "Let me try them on. Mother always lets me try on her hats to see how I look in them. Sometimes they look better on me than on her."

At this point, "Muggsy," looking for his charge, appeared. Turning to the visitor, Caroline asked, "Do you know who he is?"

The hat designer shook her head. Beaming, Caroline replied, "He is 'Muggsy.' He takes care of me. He's always looking for my things when I can't find them. I leave them all over, and 'Muggsy' finds them. He's very nice."

Acceding to Caroline's pleas, the designer allowed her to try on several hats. Caroline appeared dubious about them. Then just as abruptly as she had arrived, she decided to leave. Bidding the visitor goodby, she took "Muggsy's" hand and departed.

Later, Mrs. Kennedy, after trying on a hat which she particularly liked, asked the designer, "Have you seen anyone wearing this type of hat this year?"

"No," she replied, "that is, no one but your daughter Caroline."

Both women laughed heartily.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE — To close friends, Mrs. Kennedy expresses concern over the effect living in the White House may have on her son and daughter. The first lady stresses she considers her role as mother first, and explains how difficult it is to raise children in the executive mansion "because there is virtually no privacy." Four - year - old Caroline has not yet been influenced by the White House spotlight because she is still too young. But Mrs. Kennedy has grave misgivings when the time comes for her to go to school. Said the first lady to a friend, "I dread what may happen if her classmates should treat her differently." . . . An average of 100 letters addressed to Caroline come to the White House weekly; many with small gifts. Also it is a regular occurrence for women to write Mrs. Kennedy with advice on how to raise her children.

To a letter writer who complained to Speaker John McCormack, Mass., that the president and his advisers are "too soft" in dealing with Russia, the veteran Massachusetts lawmaker retorted, "Do you think for one moment that the president wants to see his daughter Caroline and son John grow up under communism? That's ridiculous on its face. I have complete faith in the president, and so does everyone else who knows him and what he really stands for." . . . Mrs. Kennedy buys some of her clothes from a little - known ultra - fashionable shop in the historic Georgetown section of Washington . . . President Kennedy is getting some new summer suits. They are made by his New York tailor of very light-weight cloth.

SOCIAL WHIRL — Mrs. "Polly" Guggenheim, widow of the multi - millionaire ambassador to Cuba and Portugal, "stunned" Washington socialites by her surprise married to John Arthur Logan, former head of the National Association of Food Chains. There had been no hint they were planning to wed. The unannounced ceremony took place quietly at noon in Arlington, Va., across the Potomac from the capital . . . Former Connecticut governor and one-time ambassador John Davis Lodge confided two secrets to a meeting of Republican women: He was born in Washington, in the house that is now the ritzy 1925 F Street Club. "But alas," related Lodge, "while I can visit the place of my birth, I am unable to return to the room because it now happens to be the ladies' powder room. At the time of my birth, it was my mother's bedroom." . . . Mrs. George Allen, wife of the former ambassador to Iran, attended the banquet the shah and empress gave for the President and Mrs. Kennedy. Other women curtsied to the empress, but not Mrs. Allen, who explained, "I never curtsy to royalty visiting in the U. S. In their own countries, that is something else, but here at home we don't do that."

The garden of the Netherlands embassy is a blaze of breathtaking color with its annual tulip display. Masses of the blooms are growing in soil imported especially from Holland for the tulips . . . Show - stoppers at the 21st annual convention of the National Association of Practical Nurse Education and Services was the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Khan, cultural attache of the Pakistan embassy. The tiny girl wowed the convention and more than 1,000 guests with an exquisite dance and flirtatious smile . . . At the annual White House reception for members of Congress, the president laughingly revealed that at the first affair of this kind he attended, he wore a rented full-dress suit. Related the president, "My father's didn't fit me, and as I didn't own one, I rented one." The president got a big bipartisan hand from his guests by doing away with this traditional attire for the party and specifying instead black tie and tuxedo.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Blood Pressure

Maximum Normal Range Is Described As About 150 Over 90

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is meant by hypertension?—Mrs. K.

Answer: It is another term for high blood pressure, which is higher tension in the arteries. We speak of systolic and diastolic blood pressure. When the heart contracts we find the highest surge of pressure which we call systolic. The measurement of pressure when the heart is resting between beats is called diastolic. The upper normal range of blood pressure is about 150 (systolic) over 90 (diastolic).

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is the cause of high blood pressure? Mr. C.

Answer: In only about 10 per cent of such patients do we know the actual cause: in those with certain kinds of kidney disease, and in patients with adrenal tumors and pituitary disease. The other 90 per cent fit into a category we call "essential hypertension." This is a high - sounding term for patients with high blood pressure in which the cause remains a large question mark.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is blood pressure hereditary? — Mrs. L.

Answer: Many doctors believe it is. Others say that it's not so much heredity; but that the child picks up certain traits from a parent which predispose to high blood pressure. For example: a tendency to overeat and gain weight; being overly sensitive; eating too much salt; growing up to be a hater; becoming a perfectionist; liking vigorous outdoor exercise. (But just how these traits and tendencies are actually tied in with the cause of hypertension we don't know.)

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Which is more likely to get high blood pressure, a man or woman? — Mrs. U.

Answer: Woman — in a ratio of about two to one.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can a person live many years with a pressure over 200: —Mr. S.

Answer: I have known hypertensives with systolic pressures between 200 and 250 who lived for 10 years and over. I recall one patient whose systolic pressure was over 200 when she was 60. She lived into her late 70's. I am not minimizing the dangers of hypertension, but people may as well know that high blood pressure doesn't necessarily mean that extinction is inevitable.

Much depends upon how high the diastolic pressure is. If this is much over 100 the outlook is not as good. Also, the condition of heart and kidneys is important. And, also, much depends upon how you cooperate with your doctor. Have you accepted a new way of life? Less smoking and drinking, less overeating, more sleep and relaxation, less drive in business?

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have just had an insurance examination and the doctor says my blood pressure is on the border line. I received my policy, but was rated up a little. Would you advise an examination by my own doctor? —Mr. Y.

Answer: Many an early disability is picked up during a routine physical examination for an insurance policy. As a result, diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease, curable cancer, etc., can often be stopped in their tracks and life prolonged for many years. Be thankful for any warning. I'm sure the insurance doctor suggested that you have a physical.

Power Expanded

Kennedy's Announced Plan To Control Economy Frightening

In retrospect, the only real significance of the case of Kennedy vs Steel is that by a single act the President has expanded the power of his office without legislation. This was attempted by Franklin D. Roosevelt throughout his regime, but no matter where else Roosevelt succeeded, he never actually gained complete control of the economy. The National Recovery Act was an attempt in that direction but the NRA was declared unconstitutional in the Sick Chicken Case. It was beyond question a fantastic measure and it is interesting to note that its true nature was not generally recognized until it reached the Supreme Court.

President Kennedy has been able to gain control of the economy because the government is the principal customer of manufactured goods. Roosevelt sought to establish a similar control by creating "yardstick" businesses; that is, companies engaged in manufacturing heavy goods in competition with existing companies. At first it was contemplated that the government would own such companies, but wiser counsel prevailed and loans were made through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other agencies to accomplish the same end. The various Kaiser enterprises started that way.

President Kennedy has developed a different concept. The government will neither own nor operate these enterprises, but it will control prices. The United States Steel Corporation precipitated this by its inept and inopportune announcement that it would raise prices. Good public relations indicated that such an announcement would only have been sound after the new wage agreement had been in operation some time and the evidence was clear that the price was insufficient to maintain efficient plant and equipment. The President was able to ignore this question because the industry failed to make it clear to the people. Businessmen usually do not grasp the essence of public relations and therefore failed to prove their point or to have any sense of timing.

The President was able to mobilize his entire Cabinet, particularly the Departments of Justice and Defense to fight this battle which soon enough involved the questions of inflation, of trusts, of cartels to control prices, of defense contracts. It was on the rock of defense contracts that the steel industry split, for if some companies did not receive defense contracts, their production would be trivial. After all, the steel industry was hardest hit during the Depression and was rescued by government contracts and by war.

A government contract is rarely beneficial for any business, what with shifting specifications, whimsical controls, and re-negotiations long after the goods have been delivered. Nevertheless, when it is the best business available, it becomes prime. Today, the American steel industry exports about as much steel as is imported. The peril is that we shall import so much steel as to endanger our home industry. This the Department of Defense can hold over the head of the industry. Therefore companies largely or wholly dependent on government must function on the principle that the customer is always right.

The President has won a victory in the expansion of Presidential powers and has established the fact that his hold on his Cabinet and on Congress is complete, but he has frightened privately-owned enterprise and the private investor beyond anything that had heretofore been experienced. This is a by - product of the President's press conference and his implied attack on profits which did not go over well.

The President does not have Roosevelt's gift of sarcasm. When Roosevelt employed this rhetorical device, it was like a piercing rapier. President Kennedy can display anger but not nastiness. Therefore, his reference to profits only frightened. This is unfortunate at a time when the country requires unity of purpose in the face of our enemy.

It will take a great effort on the part of the President to re-establish a sense of confidence in the business world, particularly as his enemies now have a slogan to use against him, namely, that he is opposed to the profit system. The alternative to the profit system is Socialism. President Kennedy, having definitely indicated what he can do if necessary, is too smart to upset the economic apple-cart and will undoubtedly take reparative measures. His greatest task now is to control those who will take advantage of this fracas to so alter our economic system as to make it unworkable. That may be a more difficult task than defeating the steel industry.

Wage Hikes Low

Pay Increases In 1962 Are At Smallest Average Since 1955

Wage increases so far in 1962 are running at the smallest average since 1955. The "floor" under pay hikes is perceptibly weakening for the first time in years. A "zero round" — meaning no cash pay increase whatsoever — is showing up in more and more contracts.

The wage spiral which has been part of the American economic scene since World War II is slowing to a crawl, wage inflation is being brought under control — with all the good this implies to the trend of prices and your cost of living in coming months, to the integrity and buying power of the U. S. dollar, to our ability to meet competition from foreign producers of goods at home and abroad.

In view of the spectacular retreat steal has just been forced to make on a price hike, today's report on what is happening on the wage front is of unusual significance. Here are the facts to be disclosed this weekend by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., a major Washington research organization in the labor market field.

(1) The average cash pay hike in 868 settlements signed so far this year and analyzed by the BNA is down to 7.4 cents, compared with 8.1 cents in the comparable period of last year and an average of 7.8 cents in 1961 as a whole. Not since the mid-1950s has the average been this small.

(2) In wage contracts signed in manufacturing industries, the average wage increase has been even lower — 7 cents, down almost a cent from the same period in 1961.

(3) In nine per cent of the contracts, there has been no wage boost, almost double the "zero" percentage in contracts settled in the first few months of 1961.

(4) Not included in this nine per cent is the basic steel wage settlement which also omits any wage raise in 1962. Says Donald F. Farwell of the NBA, "Although I doubt that the steel settlement will set off a widespread 'zero round,' of course it means there'll be lots more zero settlements and probably a further decline in the average settlement level. The lack of a wage boost in steel can't help but have this effect on other bargaining situations."

(5) Provisions for deferred pay hikes — under which workers are automatically guaranteed cash wage increases in future years—are being undercut too. Deferred pay boosts have appeared in 48 per cent of the contracts signed in this year's first quarter against 53 per cent of the contracts signed in 1961's last quarter. The floor under future wage increases is weakening. In the steel contract, deferred wage increases have been eliminated for at least the next two years. The escalator clause was dropped as well, meaning there'll be no cost - of - living adjustments in steel for the next year or two either.

These facts shout a tale of major bread - and - butter importance to all of us and to the entire free world.

In the crucial sphere of manufacturing particularly, the wage spiral is disappearing and this is helping to erase the background for a price upswing. The reason is that the rise in the hourly output of the average factory worker is ranging much higher than the rise in his hourly wage. Industry's investments in modernization of plants and equipment, its stricter policing of costs, waste, methods of production are paying off in savings in the time employes have to work to turn out an item. In short, while cash pay is still climbing and fringe benefits are certainly becoming more expensive, these costs are being more than offset by the savings in production time.

Today is Saturday, April 21, the 111th day of the year with 254 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1836, Gen. Sam Houston and his force of 800 Texans defeated 3,000 Mexicans led by Gen. Santa Ana near Galveston, Tex.

In 1910, a beloved American figure passed from the scene as Mark Twain died.

In 1933, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain conferred in Washington on proposals to overcome the world economic depression.

In 1945, a broadcast from Germany said Russian troops were inside the city limits of Berlin, the first Allied soldiers to reach the capital.

A thought for the day: British statesman Disraeli said: "Man is not the creature of circumstances. Circumstances are the creatures of men."

"In that case," grinned the president, "perhaps it's better I don't know you." With that he nodded, and disappeared.

The hat designer had barely composed herself, when she was again startled by Caroline skipping merrily into the room. After politely scrutinizing the visitor, Caroline announced, "I'm Caroline. What's your name?"

The hat designer introduced herself, whereupon Caroline inquired, "What's in those boxes? Something for me?"

"No, I'm afraid not. They are hats for your mother. She is going to try them on."

"Oh, goody," exclaimed Caroline, clapping her hands and jumping up and down with delight. "Let me try them on. Mother always lets me try on her hats to see how I look in them. Sometimes they look better on me than on her."

At this point, "Muggsy," looking for his charge, appeared. Turning to the visitor, Caroline asked, "Do you know who he is?"

The hat designer shook her head. Beaming, Caroline replied, "He is 'Muggsy.' He takes care of me. He's always looking for my things when I can't find them. I leave them all over, and 'Muggsy' finds them. He's very nice."

Acceding to Caroline's pleas, the designer allowed her to try on several hats. Caroline appeared dubious about them. Then just as abruptly as she had arrived, she decided to leave. Bidding the visitor goodby, she took "Muggsy's" hand and departed.

Later, Mrs. Kennedy, after trying on a hat which she particularly liked, asked the designer, "Have you seen anyone wearing this type of hat this year?"

"No," she replied, "that is, no one but your daughter Caroline."

Both women laughed heartily.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE — To close friends, Mrs. Kennedy expresses concern over the effect living in the White House may have on her son and daughter. The first lady stresses she considers her role as mother first, and explains how difficult it is to raise children in the executive mansion "because there is virtually no privacy." Four - year - old Caroline has not yet been influenced by the White House spotlight because she is still too young. But Mrs. Kennedy has grave misgivings when the time comes for her to go to school. Said the first lady to a friend, "I dread what may happen if her classmates should treat her differently." . . . An average of 100 letters addressed to Caroline come to the White House weekly; many with small gifts. Also it is a regular occurrence for women to write Mrs. Kennedy with advice on how to raise her children.

To a letter writer who complained to Speaker John McCormack, Mass., that the president and his advisers are "too soft" in dealing with Russia, the veteran Massachusetts lawmaker retorted, "Do you think for one moment that the president wants to see his daughter Caroline and son John grow up under communism? That's ridiculous on its face. I have complete faith in the president, and so does everyone else who knows him and what he really stands for." . . . Mrs. Kennedy buys some of her clothes from a little - known ultra - fashionable shop in the historic Georgetown section of Washington . . . President Kennedy is getting some new summer suits. They are made by his New York tailor of very light-weight cloth.

SOCIAL WHIRL — Mrs. "Polly" Guggenheim, widow of the multi - millionaire ambassador to Cuba and Portugal, "stunned" Washington socialites by her surprise married to John Arthur Logan, former head of the National Association of Food Chains. There had been no hint they were planning to wed. The unannounced ceremony took place quietly at noon in Arlington, Va., across the Potomac from the capital . . . Former Connecticut governor and one-time ambassador John Davis Lodge confided two secrets to a meeting of Republican women: He was born in Washington, in the house that is now the ritzy 1925 F Street Club. "But alas," related Lodge, "while I can visit the place of my birth, I am unable to return to the room because it now happens to be the ladies' powder room. At the time of my birth, it was my mother's bedroom." . . . Mrs. George Allen, wife of the former ambassador to Iran, attended the banquet the shah and empress gave for the President and Mrs. Kennedy. Other women curtsied to the empress, but not Mrs. Allen, who explained, "I never curtsy to royalty visiting in the U. S. In their own countries, that is something else, but here at home we don't do that."

The garden of the Netherlands embassy is a blaze of breathtaking color with its annual tulip display. Masses of the blooms are growing in soil imported especially from Holland for the tulips . . . Show - stoppers at the 21st annual convention of the National Association of Practical Nurse Education and Services was the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Khan, cultural attache of the Pakistan embassy. The tiny girl wowed the convention and more than 1,000 guests with an exquisite dance and flirtatious smile . . . At the annual White House reception for members of Congress, the president laughingly revealed that at the first affair of this kind he attended, he wore a rented full-dress suit. Related the president, "My father's didn't fit me, and as I didn't own one, I rented one." The president got a big bipartisan hand from his guests by doing away with this traditional attire for the party and specifying instead black tie and tuxedo.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Blood Pressure

Maximum Normal Range Is Described As About 150 Over 90

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is meant by hypertension?—Mrs. K.

Answer: It is another term for high blood pressure, which is higher tension in the arteries. We speak of systolic and diastolic blood pressure. When the heart contracts we find the highest surge of pressure which we call systolic. The measurement of pressure when the heart is resting between beats is called diastolic. The upper normal range of blood pressure is about 150 (systolic) over 90 (diastolic).

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is the cause of high blood pressure? Mr. C.

Answer: In only about 10 per cent of such patients do we know the actual cause: in those with certain kinds of kidney disease, and in patients with adrenal tumors and pituitary disease. The other 90 per cent fit into a category we call "essential hypertension." This is a high - sounding term for patients with high blood pressure in which the cause remains a large question mark.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is blood pressure hereditary? — Mrs. L.

Answer: Many doctors believe it is. Others say that it's not so much heredity; but that the child picks up certain traits from a parent which predispose to high blood pressure. For example: a tendency to overeat and gain weight; being overly sensitive; eating too much salt; growing up to be a hater; becoming a perfectionist; liking vigorous outdoor exercise. (But just how these traits and tendencies are actually tied in with the cause of hypertension we don't know.)

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Which is more likely to get high blood pressure, a man or woman? — Mrs. U.

Answer: Woman — in a ratio of about two to one.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can a person live many years with a pressure over 200: —Mr. S.

Answer: I have known hypertensives with systolic pressures between 200 and 250 who lived for 10 years and over. I recall one patient whose systolic pressure was over 200 when she was 60. She lived into her late 70's. I am not minimizing the dangers of hypertension, but people may as well know that high blood pressure doesn't necessarily mean that extinction is inevitable.

Much depends upon how high the diastolic pressure is. If this is much over 100 the outlook is not as good. Also, the condition of heart and kidneys is important. And, also, much depends upon how you cooperate with your doctor. Have you accepted a new way of life? Less smoking and drinking, less overeating, more sleep and relaxation, less drive in business?

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have just had an insurance examination and the doctor says my blood pressure is on the border line. I received my policy, but was rated up a little. Would you advise an examination by my own doctor? —Mr. Y.

Answer: Many an early disability is picked up during a routine physical examination for an insurance policy. As a result, diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease, curable cancer, etc., can often be stopped in their tracks and life prolonged for many years. Be thankful for any warning. I'm sure the insurance doctor suggested that you have a physical.

Power Expanded

Kennedy's Announced Plan To Control Economy Frightening

In retrospect, the only real significance of the case of Kennedy vs Steel is that by a single act the President has expanded the power of his office without legislation. This was attempted by Franklin D. Roosevelt throughout his regime, but no matter where else Roosevelt succeeded, he never actually gained complete control of the economy. The National Recovery Act was an attempt in that direction but the NRA was declared unconstitutional in the Sick Chicken Case. It was beyond question a fantastic measure and it is interesting to note that its true nature was not generally recognized until it reached the Supreme Court.

President Kennedy has been able to gain control of the economy because the government is the principal customer of manufactured goods. Roosevelt sought to establish a similar control by creating "yardstick" businesses; that is, companies engaged in manufacturing heavy goods in competition with existing companies. At first it was contemplated that the government would own such companies, but wiser counsel prevailed and loans were made through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other agencies to accomplish the same end. The various Kaiser enterprises started that way.

President Kennedy has developed a different concept. The government will neither own nor operate these enterprises, but it will control prices. The United States Steel Corporation precipitated this by its inept and inopportune announcement that it would raise prices. Good public relations indicated that such an announcement would only have been sound after the new wage agreement had been in operation some time and the evidence was clear that the price was insufficient to maintain efficient plant and equipment. The President was able to ignore this question because the industry failed to make it clear to the people. Businessmen usually do not grasp the essence of public relations and therefore failed to prove their point or to have any sense of timing.

The President was able to mobilize his entire Cabinet, particularly the Departments of Justice and Defense to fight this battle which soon enough involved the questions of inflation, of trusts, of cartels to control prices, of defense contracts. It was on the rock of defense contracts that the steel industry split, for if some companies did not receive defense contracts, their production would be trivial. After all, the steel industry was hardest hit during the Depression and was rescued by government contracts and by war.

A government contract is rarely beneficial for any business, what with shifting specifications, whimsical controls, and re-negotations long after the goods have been delivered. Nevertheless, when it is the best business available, it becomes prime. Today, the American steel industry exports about as much steel as is imported. The peril is that we shall import so much steel as to endanger our home industry. This the Department of Defense can hold over the head of the industry. Therefore companies largely or wholly dependent on government must function on the principle that the customer is always right.

The President has won a victory in the expansion of Presidential powers and has established the fact that his hold on his Cabinet and on Congress is complete, but he has frightened privately-owned enterprise and the private investor beyond anything that had heretofore been experienced. This is a by - product of the President's press conference and his implied attack on profits which did not go over well.

The President does not have Roosevelt's gift of sarcasm. When Roosevelt employed this rhetorical device, it was like a piercing rapier. President Kennedy can display anger but not nastiness. Therefore, his reference to profits only frightened. This is unfortunate at a time when the country requires unity of purpose in the face of our enemy.

It will take a great effort on the part of the President to re-establish a sense of confidence in the business world, particularly as his enemies now have a slogan to use against him, namely, that he is opposed to the profit system. The alternative to the profit system is Socialism. President Kennedy, having definitely indicated what he can do if necessary, is too smart to upset the economic apple-cart and will undoubtedly take reparative measures. His greatest task now is to control those who will take advantage of this fracas to so alter our economic system as to make it unworkable. That may be a more difficult task than defeating the steel industry.

Wage Hikes Low

Pay Increases In 1962 Are At Smallest Average Since 1955

Wage increases so far in 1962 are running at the smallest average since 1955. The "floor" under pay hikes is perceptibly weakening for the first time in years. A "zero round" — meaning no cash pay increase whatsoever — is showing up in more and more contracts.

The wage spiral which has been part of the American economic scene since World War II is slowing to a crawl, wage inflation is being brought under control — with all the good this implies to the trend of prices and your cost of living in coming months, to the integrity and buying power of the U. S. dollar, to our ability to meet competition from foreign producers of goods at home and abroad.

In view of the spectacular retreat steal has just been forced to make on a price hike, today's report on what is happening on the wage front is of unusual significance. Here are the facts to be disclosed this weekend by the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., a major Washington research organization in the labor market field.

(1) The average cash pay hike in 868 settlements signed so far this year and analyzed by the BNA is down to 7.4 cents, compared with 8.1 cents in the comparable period of last year and an average of 7.8 cents in 1961 as a whole. Not since the mid-1950s has the average been this small.

(2) In wage contracts signed in manufacturing industries, the average wage increase has been even lower — 7 cents, down almost a cent from the same period in 1961.

(3) In nine per cent of the contracts, there has been no wage boost, almost double the "zero" percentage in contracts settled in the first few months of 1961.

(4) Not included in this nine per cent is the basic steel wage settlement which also omits any wage raise in 1962. Says Donald F. Farwell of the NBA, "Although I doubt that the steel settlement will set off a widespread 'zero round,' of course it means there'll be lots more zero settlements and probably a further decline in the average settlement level. The lack of a wage boost in steel can't help but have this effect on other bargaining situations."

(5) Provisions for deferred pay hikes — under which workers are automatically guaranteed cash wage increases in future years—are being undercut too. Deferred pay boosts have appeared in 48 per cent of the contracts signed in this year's first quarter against 53 per cent of the contracts signed in 1961's last quarter. The floor under future wage increases is weakening. In the steel contract, deferred wage increases have been eliminated for at least the next two years. The escalator clause was dropped as well, meaning there'll be no cost - of - living adjustments in steel for the next year or two either.

These facts shout a tale of major bread - and - butter importance to all of us and to the entire free world.

In the crucial sphere of manufacturing particularly, the wage spiral is disappearing and this is helping to erase the background for a price upswing. The reason is that the rise in the hourly output of the average factory worker is ranging much higher than the rise in his hourly wage. Industry's investments in modernization of plants and equipment, its stricter policing of costs, waste, methods of production are paying off in savings in the time employes have to work to turn out an item. In short, while cash pay is still climbing and fringe benefits are certainly becoming more expensive, these costs are being more than offset by the savings in production time.

Today is Saturday, April 21, the 111th day of the year with 254 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1836, Gen. Sam Houston and his force of 800 Texans defeated 3,000 Mexicans led by Gen. Santa Ana near Galveston, Tex.

In 1910, a beloved American figure passed from the scene as Mark Twain died.

In 1933, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain conferred in Washington on proposals to overcome the world economic depression.

In 1945, a broadcast from Germany said Russian troops were inside the city limits of Berlin, the first Allied soldiers to reach the capital.

A thought for the day: British statesman Disraeli said: "Man is not the creature of circumstances. Circumstances are the creatures of men."

N.Y. Originator Of Tickertape Parades Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Grover A. Whalen, New York's famed "official greeter" and originator of the Broadway tickertape parade, died Friday after a long illness. He was 75.

Whalen died at his home on East End Avenue, where he had stayed most of the time following a stroke some years ago.

The ebullient Whalen said he hit on the idea of the tickertape parade in 1919, when the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, was on his way to New York. Ireland had just declared its independence and Irish-English relations were poor.

Whalen, himself an Irish Roman Catholic, noted that New York had "an awful lot of Irish in it."

"Wishing to make the Prince's welcome a spectacular one, I hit on the tickertape idea. I organized a word-of-mouth campaign along lower Broadway and the idea swiftly filtered through thousands of offices."

Whalen served New York in a number of jobs and was president of the historic New York World's Fair of 1939-40. He was a businessman and promoter extraordinary.

Georgia City Tense After Youth Slain

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Heavy Police details patrolled potential trouble spots Friday night in this Georgia city where a white teenager was shot to death and a friend critically wounded Thursday night in a Negro neighborhood.

Mayor Millar Beckum threatened late Friday to call in outside police help if necessary to keep the peace in this racially-tense city of 80,000.

"...This deplorable and tragic situation has shocked and stunned the people of Augusta," he said.

The youth killed Thursday night was 15-year-old Jack Luttes. He and two friends, George Lewis, 16, and Eddie Gay, also 16, were cruising through a Negro section of the city in a car when they were ambushed. Lewis was hospitalized with 30 shotgun pellet wounds, but Gay managed to escape.

Thursday night's shootings capped what had appeared to be series of minor racial incidents.

Tensions started building last Monday when a Negro youth council started picketing two grocery stores in an effort to get the stores to hire Negro cashiers and butchers.

When the stores refused, young Negroes living nearby began bombarding one store with rocks. By Wednesday the rockthrowing had spread to include passing cars driven by white motorists.

Police said they found air rifles and rocks in the bullet-pierced car of the ambushed teen-agers, but G. W. Lewis, father of the injured boy, said he did not think the boys were looking for trouble.

"They didn't have time to cause any trouble," he said.

The shooting took place about three miles from the picketed supermarkets. Police were thus caught out of position despite the fact that every available man was on duty to guard against after-dark racial incidents, which had become a nightly affair.

Police said by the time they reached the scene, near a federal housing project for Negroes, everyone had fled.

Police Chief F. B. Green said police had been unable to determine exactly where the shots came from but that they apparently were fired from a sidewalk adjacent to the passing car.

Mrs. Faulk's Services Set 10 A.M. Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk Sr., 79, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Memorial Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Hugh Bradshaw officiating and the Rev. Earl Wiggins assisting.

Mrs. Faulk, who's late husband published the Monroe News Star for a number of years and was one of the co-founders and first presidents of Delta Airlines, died late Thursday in a local hospital.

Daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. R. W. McClendon, Mrs. Faulk was a native of West Monroe and widow of the late C. E. Faulk Sr.

Active in community and, church affairs until ill health forced her retirement, she was a charter member of the Memorial Presbyterian Church and assisted in founding the Highland Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Faulk was a member of the building committee of the Crosley Elementary School and instrumental in building the first library in West Monroe.

She had been presented a 40-year service award by the American Red Cross.

Among other honors, she was elected "Woman of the Year" in the Twin Cities in 1949.

A charter member of the Alturian Book Club of West Monroe, she was a member of the Ft. Miro Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution as well as state officer in the DAR organization.

Survivors include two sons, C. E. Faulk Jr., Ruston; and Robert M. Faulk, Atlanta, Ga.; one daughter, Mrs. Monte F. Cone, Falls Church, Va.; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Carl Brown, Bailey Grant, Al Griffing, Alton Calhoun, N. A. Randall and John T. Williams.

Chamber Backs Proposed Bills

Monroe's Chamber of Commerce is "backing" recommendations by the Legislature's Little Hoover Commission on 46 prefiled bills which will come before the legislature in May.

President J. H. Scogin said Friday that the legislative committee will analyze and interpret these bills for the business membership.

Fred Fudickar Jr. is chairman of the local legislative committee.

Scogin made his announcement after returning from an executive session of the Association of Louisiana Chambers of Commerce in Baton Rouge.

W. E. Whetstone, regional vice president and executive vice president of the A.L.C.C., and local manager Jim Williams accompanied Scogin, who is a member of the A.L.C.C. board of directors.

State Highway Director Sets Cleanup Week

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana Highway Director Ray W. Burgess has declared April 23-27 to be Statewide Cleanup Week on Louisiana's Highways.

Each spring, the Louisiana Department of Highways sponsors a cleanup campaign during which maintenance forces, civic clubs and private individuals are asked to help remove litter, trash and other debris from our State highways.

Burgess urged full cooperation of all civic groups and citizens in this year's spring cleanup. He said all available highway maintenance crews will be utilized in this campaign.

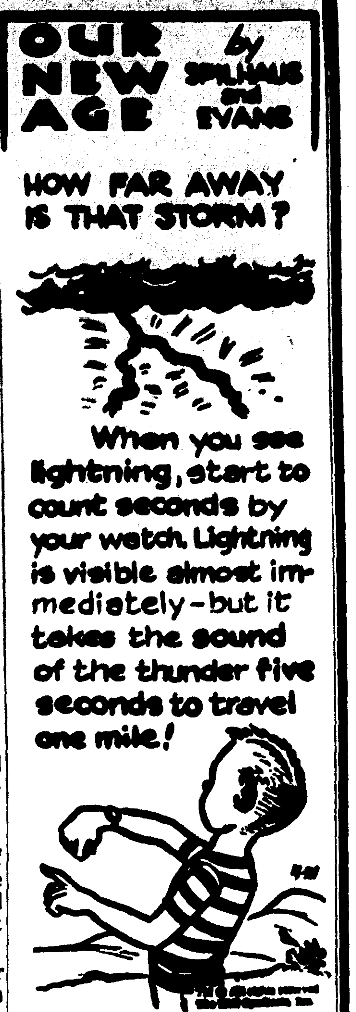
"The unsightly and unsanitary conditions resulting from litter on our roadways is a reflection on both our own citizens and tourists who visit and travel through the State," the Highway Director pointed out.

Check Charges Dropped In Case

Charges of issuing a worthless check for $25 in a local supermarket have been dropped against a 43-year-old West Monroe woman, Mrs. Georgia Davis, 116 S. 3rd St. West monroe police said.

Mrs. Davis was picked up first by Monroe police and returned to West Monroe where she was identified by the store manager.

She reportedly admitted the charge against her and returned the $25.



Gremillion Gives Views On Tidelands

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said Friday he wasn't sure any action by Louisiana could speed up a settlement of the tidelands dispute with the federal government.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, hoping for an early settlement so ready cash from oil and gas revenues can be used to cure current state fiscal ailments, called a special tidelands conference here next Thursday.

Gremillion said he would be unable to attend the meetings. The Louisiana attorney general said he would have to attend the convention in Puerto Rico of the National Attorneys General Association.

Instead, Gremillion said, he would send first assistant Atty. Gen. Carroll Buck to the meeting with Davis, three congressmen and Mineral Board Chairman William Helis Jr.

"If it becomes necessary," Gremillion said, "I will quickly return by air."

The national attorneys general meeting will be held Sunday through Friday.

"Everyone seems to forget," Gremillion said, "that we are at the mercy of the federal government" in all tidelands discussions. He said the federal government still was working on its version of a coastline proposal.

Louisiana and the federal government must agree on a coastline and have it approved by the U.S. Supreme Court before any determination of ownership can be made of waterbottoms that have put $400 million in revenues into an escrow fund.

The high court already has ruled Louisiana has title to three miles from the coast, yet to be determined, instead of the 10.5 miles Louisiana claims.

A possibility loomed that Louisiana may make a direct and urgent appeal to President Kennedy, who has the final word in any political settlement or legal agreement on a coastline.

U.S. Sen. Russell B.Long, D-La., said the Louisiana congressional delegation will accompany the President on his air trip to New Orleans, which is set for May 4, one week after Gov. Davis' tidelands meeting here.

A suggestion also has been made that Helis may be asked to take a trip to Washington to seek quick settlement.

Meeting with Davis, Gremillion's assistant and Helis will be U.S. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, and U.S. Reps. Edwin Willis and Hale Boggs, all D-La.Willis has spurred congressional a..mpts to gain a settlement, and Boggs is one of President Kennedy's top congressional leaders.

New York Police Apprehend Suspect

Frances Ward Bradley, 21, has been reported picked up in Hempstead, N. Y., on information furnished by the Monroe police department involving two counts of theft by check here, officers said here yesterday.

She was taken into custody April 18 and will be returned to Monroe to answer the charges. The alleged offenses occurred in November of 1961.

Georgia City Tense After Youth Slain

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Heavy Police details patrolled potential trouble spots Friday night in this Georgia city where a white teenager was shot to death and a friend critically wounded Thursday night in a Negro neighborhood.

Mayor Millar Beckum threatened late Friday to call in outside police help if necessary to keep the peace in this racially-tense city of 80,000.

"...This deplorable and tragic situation has shocked and stunned the people of Augusta," he said.

The youth killed Thursday night was 15-year-old Jack Luttes. He and two friends, George Lewis, 16, and Eddie Gay, also 16, were cruising through a Negro section of the city in a car when they were ambushed. Lewis was hospitalized with 30 shotgun pellet wounds, but Gay managed to escape.

Thursday night's shootings capped what had appeared to be series of minor racial incidents.

Tensions started building last Monday when a Negro youth council started picketing two grocery stores in an effort to get the stores to hire Negro cashiers and butchers.

When the stores refused, young Negroes living nearby began bombarding one store with rocks. By Wednesday the rockthrowing had spread to include passing cars driven by white motorists.

Police said they found air rifles and rocks in the bullet-pierced car of the ambushed teen-agers, but G. W. Lewis, father of the injured boy, said he did not think the boys were looking for trouble.

"They didn't have time to cause any trouble," he said.

The shooting took place about three miles from the picketed supermarkets. Police were thus caught out of position despite the fact that every available man was on duty to guard against after-dark racial incidents, which had become a nightly affair.

Police said by the time they reached the scene, near a federal housing project for Negroes, everyone had fled.

Police Chief F. B. Green said police had been unable to determine exactly where the shots came from but that they apparently were fired from a sidewalk adjacent to the passing car.

Mrs. Faulk's Services Set 10 A.M. Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Clarence E. Faulk Sr., 79, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Memorial Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Hugh Bradshaw officiating and the Rev. Earl Wiggins assisting.

Mrs. Faulk, who's late husband published the Monroe News Star for a number of years and was one of the co-founders and first presidents of Delta Airlines, died late Thursday in a local hospital.

Daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. R. W. McClendon, Mrs. Faulk was a native of West Monroe and widow of the late C. E. Faulk Sr.

Active in community and, church affairs until ill health forced her retirement, she was a charter member of the Memorial Presbyterian Church and assisted in founding the Highland Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Faulk was a member of the building committee of the Crosley Elementary School and instrumental in building the first library in West Monroe.

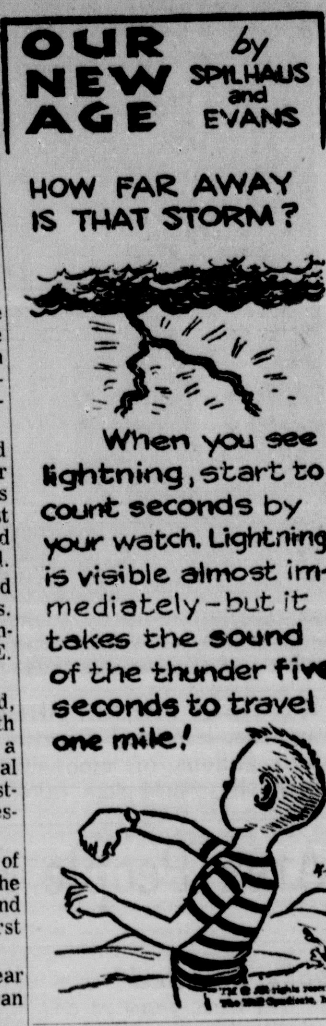
She had been presented a 40-year service award by the American Red Cross.

Among other honors, she was elected "Woman of the Year" in the Twin Cities in 1949.

A charter member of the Alturian Book Club of West Monroe, she was a member of the Ft. Miro Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution as well as state officer in the DAR organization.

Survivors include two sons, C. E. Faulk Jr., Ruston; and Robert M. Faulk, Atlanta, Ga.; one daughter, Mrs. Monte F. Cone, Falls Church, Va.; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Carl Brown, Bailey Grant, Al Griffing, Alton Calhoun, N. A. Randall and John T. Williams.



Chamber Backs Proposed Bills

Monroe's Chamber of Commerce is "backing" recommendations by the Legislature's Little Hoover Commission on 46 prefiled bills which will come before the legislature in May.

President J. H. Scogin said Friday that the legislative committee will analyze and interpret these bills for the business membership.

Fred Fudickar Jr. is chairman of the local legislative committee.

Scogin made his announcement after returning from an executive session of the Association of Louisiana Chambers of Commerce in Baton Rouge.

Gremillion Gives Views On Tidelands

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said Friday he wasn't sure any action by Louisiana could speed up a settlement of the tidelands dispute with the federal government.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, hoping for an early settlement so ready cash from oil and gas revenues can be used to cure current state fiscal ailments, called a special tidelands conference here next Thursday.

Gremillion said he would be unable to attend the meetings. The Louisiana attorney general said he would have to attend the convention in Puerto Rico of the National Attorneys General Association.

Instead, Gremillion said, he would send first assistant Atty. Gen. Carroll Buck to the meeting with Davis, three congressmen and Mineral Board Chairman William Helis Jr.

"If it becomes necessary," Gremillion said, "I will quickly return by air."

The national attorneys general meeting will be held Sunday through Friday.

"Everyone seems to forget," Gremillion said, "that we are at the mercy of the federal government" in all tidelands discussions. He said the federal government still was working on its version of a coastline proposal.

Louisiana and the federal government must agree on a coastline and have it approved by the U.S. Supreme Court before any determination of ownership can be made of waterbottoms that have put $400 million in revenues into an escrow fund.

The high court already has ruled Louisiana has title to three miles from the coast, yet to be determined, instead of the 10.5 miles Louisiana claims.

A possibility loomed that Louisiana may make a direct and urgent appeal to President Kennedy, who has the final word in any political settlement or legal agreement on a coastline.

U.S. Sen. Russell B.Long, D-La., said the Louisiana congressional delegation will accompany the President on his air trip to New Orleans, which is set for May 4, one week after Gov. Davis' tidelands meeting here.

A suggestion also has been made that Helis may be asked to take a trip to Washington to seek quick settlement.

Meeting with Davis, Gremillion's assistant and Helis will be U.S. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, and U.S. Reps. Edwin Willis and Hale Boggs, all D-La.Willis has spurred congressional attempts to gain a settlement, and Boggs is one of President Kennedy's top congressional leaders.

State Highway Director Sets Cleanup Week

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Louisiana Highway Director Ray W. Burgess has declared April 23-27 to be Statewide Cleanup Week on Louisiana's Highways.

Each spring, the Louisiana Department of Highways sponsors a cleanup campaign during which maintenance forces, civic clubs and private individuals are asked to help remove litter, trash and other debris from our State highways.

Burgess urged full cooperation of all civic groups and citizens in this year's spring cleanup. He said all available highway maintenance crews will be utilized in this campaign.

"The unsightly and unsanitary conditions resulting from litter on our roadways is a reflection on both our own citizens and tourists who visit and travel through the State," the Highway Director pointed out.

She reportedly admitted the charge against her and returned the $25.

Pettit Wouldn't Dismiss Huckaby

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury leaves Sunday for New Orleans to attend the annual state convention, but this year the jurors will go deadlocked on the presidency for the coming new term.

Ward 3 juryman L. B. Pettit, supported by seven jurors for president, added the latest to the tie vote yesterday by issuing a statement regarding engineer Wayne H. Huckaby.

Answering allegations made in the Police Jury's executive session Thursday, Pettit said he would vote against "any move" to fire Huckaby "if elected president or if not elected president."

President M. W. Montgomery also has seven supporters for the new presidency. He was backed unamiously this time last year when the convention rolled around.

Pettit said, "I want to make it clear that the job of parish engineer has nothing to do with the Police Jury presidency race, so far as I am concerned. Not one of the seven people who voted for me ever mentioned firing Mr. Huckaby to me.

"I have assured Mr. Huckaby of this and he agreed that I have cooperated with him 100 per cent. We have never had any disagreements about anything.

"Two weeks prior to the election Thursday, I was in Mr. A. E. Montgomery's office and he asked me the question if I planned to fire Mr. Huckaby. I told him positively no.

"If elected president or if not elected president, I will vote against any move that would dismiss Mr. Huckaby. I am satisfied with his work."

Both Montgomery and Pettit will attend the convention. All other jurors plan to go with the exception of Tom Hicks and J. O. Avant, both of Ward 5.

While Pettit's statement yesterday supported Huckaby's position, he voted against hiring Huckaby on May 10, 1961. The vote was 10 to 5.

Four jurymen who voted against hiring Huckaby also voted for Pettit for president — Leland Carpenter, 2, Rankin Earle, 3, L. W. Coon, 6, and W. O. Roberts, 7.

Also voting for Pettit were Avant, Mrs. C. A. Kincaid, 4, and J. H. Brown, 8.

Jurymen voting for Montgomery included:

F. G. Studdard, 1, Leslie Hamm, 5, Hicks, Jesse Wilson, 9, Irvin Kilpatrick, 10, L. U. Fourmy, 10, A. E. Montgomery 10, and M. W. Montgomery, 3.

Stahr Reports Improvement In South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr., returning from a 15-day Far East trip, said Friday he was "very much encouraged" by what he saw of the military forces in South Viet Nam.

He said training of South Vietnamese forces is "getting better and better all of the time . . . the young army is becoming more competent."

Stahr, who also visited Japan, Okinawa, South Korea and Formosa, said he thought the South Vietnamese are going to have "a long struggle" in building up resistance to Communist forces, "but I believe they're going to be on top of it."

The Army secretary said in response to a question that the improvement in South Vietnamese forces was due in large part to U.S. training missions there.

"Our people have great zeal and the results are going to show," he said.

The organization reportedly has been set up on recommendations made at a recent convention in Canada of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Its work will be to promote a more complete participation in uniform crime reporting techniques within the state.

PLANNED OTHER CRIMES

Ex-Mental Patient Held For Slaying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington police grabbed a former mental hospital patient Friday after he allegedly had embarked on a Jack-The-Ripper trail of indiscriminate murder to cover up the planned killing of his wife.

Detectives said the pre-dawn arrest of 29-year-old Harry Franklin Jarmans Jr., had solved one senseless killing and apparently had prevented others.

Like "The Ripper" who terrorized the slums of London at the turn of the century, police said Jarmans confessed he planned to kill several women in a series of street crimes.

He was charged Friday with the murder last Monday of an elderly woman—a crime that shocked the capital.

The reason, Jarmans was quoted as telling the incredulous police, was so he would not be suspected when he achieved his ultimate goal: the murder of his estranged wife, Grace, and their two children. He said he wanted to remarry and their divorce action was proceeding too slowly.

Jarmans is a slightly-built grocery stock clerk who was released from St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital less than two months ago.

He triggered his own seizure Friday by telling his wife that he had knifed an elderly woman to death only five days ago.

In an effort to convince her, he telephoned police and confessed to the slaying of Mrs. Olive Minard, a 65-year-old widow who was stabbed repeatedly as she walked to her southeast Washington home last Monday night.

Two Planes Almost Crash Over Airport

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby Friday disclosed another near - collision incident near Washington National Airport Thursday night, and predicted recurrences until the nation's air traffic control system is modernized.

Halaby revealed the latest incident at a news conference called to discuss the near-tragedy that occurred March 21 when a controller accidently assigned two airliners to the same altitude in a holding pattern for nearly 45 minutes.

The FAA chief did not identify the latest planes involved, but said one was a commercial airliner operating under instrument rules and the other a private DC3 flying under visual rules.

"A collision was avoided through the alertness of the airliner pilot and controllers who noticed a potential conflict of traffic on radar," Halaby said. "Because we had one radar operator assigned to watch visual traffic and another instrument traffic, no tragedy occurred. But as in the previous incident, this demonstrated the need for modernized air traffic control."

Halaby said air travel "still is safer than walking up and down the stairs of a private home," but added that he did not want to "give the impression that it is completely safe."

Halaby said the FAA was taking steps to reduce the chances of recurrence. But he warned that such incidents may happen again until "we take the responsibility away from a man-machine system that allows human error."

The FAA chief said the controller responsible for the March 21 incident has been demoted in grade (a loss of $600 annual salary) and transferred to a smaller control center. UPI learned that the new assignment is at Akron, Ohio.

2 Are Charged On Liquor Count By Area Lawmen

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Franklin Parish Sheriff's Department Friday charged two Tallulah Negroes with possession of illegal moonshine whiskey and set bond at $500 each.

Charged were Willie Williams, 47, and Hattie Scott, 26, both of Rt. 1, Tallulah.

They were apprehended after an all-night vigil by Sheriff A. J. Stephens and deputies Floyd Jones, Mack Hill, Bill Holcomb and H. L. Eldridge.

The lawmen apprehended the pair traveling in a pickup truck in the northern part of the parish near Warsaw bridge. The woman said the whiskey was made from a still at her home near Tallulah. Madison authorities were notified.

Grant Is Named To Study Group

The appointment of Ouachita Parish Sheriff Bailey Grant as chairman of a committee to study and make recommendations for uniform crime reporting methods throughout Louisiana was announced Friday by state police superintendent Col. Thomas Burbank.

With Grant on the committee will Maj. Billy Joe Booth, representing the state police, and Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso of the New Orleans police department.

The organization reportedly has been set up on recommendations made at a recent convention in Canada of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Its work will be to promote a more complete participation in uniform crime reporting techniques within the state.

PLANNED OTHER CRIMES

Ex-Mental Patient Held For Slaying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington police grabbed a former mental hospital patient Friday after he allegedly had embarked on a Jack-The-Ripper trail of indiscriminate murder to cover up the planned killing of his wife.

Detectives said the pre-dawn arrest of 20-year-old Harry Franklin Jarmans Jr., had solved one senseless killing and apparently had prevented others.

Like "The Ripper" who terrorized the slums of London at the turn of the century, police said Jarmans confessed he planned to kill several women in a series of street crimes.

He was charged Friday with the murder last Monday of an elderly woman—a crime that shocked the capital.

The reason, Jarmans was quoted as telling the incredulous police, was so he would not be suspected when he achieved his ultimate goal: the murder of his estranged wife, Grace, and their two children. He said he wanted to remarry and their divorce action was proceeding too slowly.

Jarmans is a slightly-built grocery stock clerk who was released from St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital less than two months ago.

He triggered his own seizure Friday by telling his wife that he had knifed an elderly woman to death only five days ago.

In an effort to convince her, he telephoned police and confessed to the slaying of Mrs. Olive Minard, a 65-year-old widow who was stabbed repeatedly as she walked to her southeast Washington home last Monday night.

Two Planes Almost Crash Over Airport

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby Friday disclosed another near - collision incident near Washington National Airport Thursday night, and predicted recurrences until the nation's air traffic control system is modernized.

Halaby revealed the latest incident at a news conference called to discuss the near-tragedy that occurred March 21 when a controller accidently assigned two airliners to the same altitude in a holding pattern for nearly 45 minutes.

The FAA chief did not identify the latest planes involved, but said one was a commercial airliner operating under instrument rules and the other a private DC3 flying under visual rules.

"A collision was avoided through the alertness of the airliner pilot and controllers who noticed a potential conflict of traffic on radar," Halaby said. "Because we had one radar operator assigned to watch visual traffic and another instrument traffic, no tragedy occurred. But as in the previous incident, this demonstrated the need for modernized air traffic control."

Halaby said air travel "still is safer than walking up and down the stairs of a private home," but added that he did not want to "give the impression that it is completely safe."

Halaby said the FAA was taking steps to reduce the chances of recurrence. But he warned that such incidents may happen again until "we take the responsibility away from a man-machine system that allows human error."

The FAA chief said the controller responsible for the March 21 incident has been demoted in grade (a loss of $600 annual salary) and transferred to a smaller control center. UPI learned that the new assignment is at Akron, Ohio.

Defector Not Returning To Great Britain

MOSCOW (UPI) — Former British diplomat Donald Maclean, who defected to the Soviet Union 11 years ago with secret Western information, said Friday he does not intend to return to Britain.

Maclean's statement followed the issuance of warrants in London earlier this week for the arrest of both Maclean and fellow-defector Guy Burgess should they ever return to Britain.

But Maclean told United Press International here Friday that "I do not want to comment on events" and "I do not intend to return to England."

Maclean appeared composed and spoke calmly when asked about the London warrants.

When the warrants were issued, it was believed that British authorities had grounds for suspecting that Maclean and Burgess might be headed back to London.

Scotland Yard obtained the warrants in famed Bow Street Magistrates Court on Wednesday. In announcing the issuance of the warrants, the Yard said there was reason to believe that the two defectors either were contemplating leaving or had left Russia.

However, despite widespread rumors and an intensive watch at all sea and airports, neither showed up.

The same day the warrants were issued, Maclean was located at his Moscow flat. It was learned that Burgess was vacationing elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

At that time, however, all that Maclean would say to reporters was: "no comment."

Friday, wearing a paisley dressing gown, an English-style checked shirt with opened collar and loosened tie, he told UPI:

"I make it a point not to comment and I think people have got used to the idea. I've been bothered by newsmen less than you might think recently."

He spoke in measured tones.

Asked about his life in Moscow and his family — his wife and three children are with him here —he answered only: "I think these are pretty well known."

"I am not commenting on my life here or about others," he added, in what might have been a reference to Burgess.

The two, once close friends, are reported since to have fallen out.

Their disappearance on May 25, 1951, came on the day the British government gave its approval to a formal investigation of Maclean, long known for his Communist leanings.

Both had worked for the British Foreign Office before they defected.

AT DEW MUSIC for the formal opening of their new location at 339 DeSiard are two well known musicians, Organist Fred Witherell of Conn Organ Corp. Elkhart, Ind., and Bob Dayton from Fender Guitar Company, Santa Ana, Calif. Dayton is a former staff organist with NBC and has played with Paul Whiteman's orchestra.

U.S. Refuses To Postpone Atomic Tests

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States refused point blank Friday to postpone its nuclear tests until end of the 17-nation disarmament conference. The Russians immediately hinted they might walk out on the arms talks.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin hedged on whether he would quit the main 17-nation conference as well as the nuclear test ban sub-committee. Soviet sources in London hinted at a walkout and threats of "counter-measures."

The American statement and Soviet threat came in an unusual Good Friday meeting of the conference forced by Zorin in another last ditch effort to block the start of American atmospheric nuclear testing next week.

Zorin asked U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean if the United States would undertake not to conduct nuclear explosions during negotiations here and Dean replied: "the answer is no—the United States will not undertake such an obligation."

"The United States has learned its lesson with regard to a voluntary, unpoliced moratorium which can be broken at will by the Soviet Union on any pretext it wishes to dream up," Dean said.

Zorin replied:

"Renewed nuclear testing will create an extremely tense international atmosphere fraught with dangers for a test ban, for disarmament and for relations between governments.

"Testing will put negotiations on a test ban and on disarmament under a threat and nobody would forgive the United States and the United Kingdom for cessation and failure of these negotiations.

"We would not like to have these negotiations come to a failure, but they may come to that."

Then he warned in another statement that "the United States and the United Kingdom will bear the full responsibility for whatever ensues."

Zorin called a news conference to explain the Soviet position further. Asked if his government would participate in "unfruitful negotiations," he said, "the Soviet government will not take part in unfruitful negotiations."

Asked if that meant the Soviet would not take part in negotiations after renewed American testing, Zorin said, "if this situation arises, there will be no negotiations."

Pressed to say if this meant a walkout from both the 17-nation and the Anglo-American-Russian nuclear test ban talks, Zorin answered: "that will have to be decided by the Soviet and the other governments concerned."

Soviet Loafers Face Threat Of Labor Camps

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised tough new measures will be taken to rid this country of hooligans and loafers.

In a speech to the congress of the Soviet Union's Young Communist League Kkomsomol, the Soviet leader hinted that social parasites might be sent to new forced-labor camps.

A large part of the speech, published in the government paper Izvestia Friday, was devoted to an impassioned denunciation of youths who avoided useful labor.

"The Central Committee and the government are thinking about intensifying controls in order to get rid of these defects more quickly," Khrushchev said.

He warned that youths would be expected to answer calls to work harder and emigrate to Siberia to build new towns and industrial enterprises.

U.S. Orders Integration In Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has ordered an end to racial segregation in Reserve units "as rapidly as is consistent with military effectiveness."

The directive calling for integration of all-Negro and all-white Reserve units was issued April 3 by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric. Addressed to the Army, Navy and Air Force, the directive is aimed at bringing further compliance with a 1948 executive order by then President Harry S. Truman banning racial segregation in the armed services.

In explaining Gilpatric's order Friday, Pentagon sources noted that segregation has been ended in the regular units of the armed forces. But it persists in some Reserve units and in the National Guard of 10 states, the spokesmen said.

It was explained that Gilpatric's directive is limited, at this time, to Reserve units because these are wholly under federal control. On the other hand, the National Guard, the Pentagon said, "is an organization of volunteers under the command of the respective governors."

For the present, at least, efforts to end segregation in the National Guard will be limited to "consultation and persuasion."

Officials say any effort to integrate the guard would raise a question of state vs. federal control at times when these units are not mobilized for active duty.

It was conceded that the federal government provides the drill-pay funds and equipment for the 400,000 National Guardsmen and probably could withdraw this support from segregated units if it wanted. But this is regarded as too drastic a step at this time.

The department identified the 10 states with segregated guards as Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Mississippi.

The Defense Department had no detailed figures on the degree of outright integration among the 300,000 active Reservists on drill-pay status. Nor could it say to what extent the 1948 order had been complied with merely on a token basis, with only one or two Negroes admitted to an otherwise all-white unit.

Gilpatric directed two specific steps and required an initial report by May 1, to be followed by a series of four quarterly progress reports. He told the services that the proportion of Negroes assigned to units, in relation to their total strength in the Reserves, "will serve as guide for measuring progress."

The department's second-in-command called for these two initial steps:

1. "The identification of all-Negro and all-white Reserve units, and initiation of action to integrate them as rapidly as in consistent with military effectiveness."

2. "An over-all review of the assignment of Negroes to Reserve units to determine if a disproportionate number are assigned to pools (rather than to specific units). Where this is found to be so, positive measures should be taken, consistent with the military requirements and the skills of the personnel involved, to provide for the assignment of more Negroes to specific Reserve units."

Debra Paget, Third Mate Honeymoon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Debra Paget was honeymooning Friday with her third husband, reportedly a nephew of Nationalist China's first lady, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

The 28-year-old actress was married Thursday in a Las Vegas, Nev., wedding chapel to Ling Chieh Kung, 40, an oil man from Houston, Tex.

Friends in Houston said Kung is the son of Mme. Ai-ling Soong Kung, one of China's three famed Soong sisters. The others are Mme. Chiang and Mme. Sun Yat-sen.

Maggie Griffin, Debra's mother, said she knew nothing of Kung's background in China.

"It's unimportant," said Mrs. Griffin. "He is such a fine, lovely boy. I just love him and I know his mother loves my daughter, too.

"He wooed my daughter in such a wonderful, old-fashioned way—so proper and so correct—and with such gentility and consideration. I just couldn't ask for a nicer son-in-law.

"I think my baby has found real happiness this time."

Mrs. Griffin said the wedding was performed by a minister but doesn't remember his demonination or his name.

"I was as excited as Debra," she said.

In Las Vegas, the minister was identified as the Rev. Richard Ewing of the First Methodist church. About 15 people attended the rites.

Mrs. Griffin said the couple will live in Houston, but doubts her daughter will give up show business.

Debra, shapely, sloe-eyed and almost Oriental in appearance, was long known as Hollywood's only unkissed starlet.

Then singer David Street, an old friend of the family, dropped in one night to watch the late, late show on television. He kissed Debra during a commercial and they were married a few days later.

They were divorced after 10 weeks. Mrs. Griffin said, "David was a nice boy but a little unstable." Debra was his fifth wife.

Then she married director Budd Boetticher in Mexico. The couple's first split came in three weeks and divorce 18 months later.

WEST MONROE CAN GROW...
West Monroe is at the crossroads. We can continue to grow and prosper as we have in the past eight years or slip backward. West Monroe must have a man who can interest outside industry and capital in coming to our city, and making West Monroe grow. New industry will mean new revenue and prosperity for all citizens.

WEST MONROE NEEDS...
West Monroe needs a man who will serve only the interest of the citizens, combating higher taxes, promoting good sanitation, fire and police protection, continuing garbage and trash pick-ups. Allan Norris is the only candidate who has proven his ability to do the job.

GAO REPORTS SNAFU

Costly Air Force Project Dropped

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government contract called for a fuel tank which could be put together in three hours.

Twenty - nine months and $1.5 million later the Air Force abandoned the project after learning that it took three days — rather than the specified three hours—to assemble the tanks.

A report Friday by the General Accounting Office (GAO) told of the snafu on the Air Force's unsuccessful attempt to buy some 1,700 gallon fuel tanks for the B47 bomber from the Beech Aircraft Corp., Wichita, Kan., and the Fletcher Aviation Corp., Rosemead, Calif.

The GAO, established by Congress to keep an eye on executive branch spending, said the Air Force's failure to test the tanks "before entering into production contracts resulted in unnecessary costs to the government of about $1,537,000."

A second Air Force requirement was that the tank parts should be designed to fit in a metal container. Sixteen months after the development work was completed and accepted, Air Force officials conducted tests at the contractor's plant.

"After two days' effort," the GAO reported, "they agreed that it was impossible to package the tanks in the containers and the packaging tests were abandoned."

Assistant Air Force Secretary Aaron J. Racusin, in a letter commenting on the findings, did not question the GAO's findings.

But he said the contracts in question actually were only one part of an overall Air Force program to reduce the cost of the fuel tanks.

Racusin said the contracts meant "competition was introduced" and that "net saving to the government made possible by this program were on the order of $60 million."

The GAO, in its report to Congress, refrained from commenting on the Air Force's justification.

Soviet Gets Japan Appeal On Test Ban

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda appealed to Soviet Premier Nikia S. Khrushchev Friday to agree to a nuclear test ban under international control. He sharply challenged Khrushchev's stand that such a policed ban would open the Soviet Union to spying from the West.

Informed sources in Moscow said Soviet officials immediately threw cold water on the Japanese appeal, insisting that international controls would amount to espionage on Soviet soil.

Ikeda, in a letter delivered to Khrushchev by Japanese Ambassador to Moscow Hisanari Yamada, said:

"Your claim that international control means international spying is absolutely unacceptable to me. Inasmuch as international control is to be exercised equally upon all nations, it is inconceivable that your country alone would unilaterally suffer any disadvantage."

The Japanese leader said he could not agree with Khrushchev's claim that detection techniques had rendered unnecessary an international control system, such as that proposed by the United States and Britain.

"Even assuming that the techniques for detecting all kinds of seismic events were perfected," Ikeda said, "they would never be adequate unless it is possible to identify and to verify whether a seismic event has been caused by an underground nuclear explosion or by an earthquake.

Last Rites Set For Mrs. Gish

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna E. Gish will be held Monday at Longansport, Ind., where she had resided. Mrs. Gish, who died Friday, is the mother of Mrs. Dorothy Cromartie and Dwight C. Gish, both of Monroe.

Services will be under the direction of the Hamilton and McCloskey Funeral Home.

RAIN, or showers or thundershowers are forecast Saturday for much of the country. Warm or warmer weather will probably cover most of the northeastern, Great Lakes and Ohio valley regions as well as the Pacific coast and southern Plains states. It will be colder in the North and central Plains and areas of the central and southern Plateau while the rest of the nation can expect little change from this afternoon's temperatures. Jaycee Amateur Show Is Tonight In West Monroe

The first annual West Monroe Jaycee Amateur Night talent show gets underway at 7:30 tonight in the auditorium at West Monroe High School with acts scheduled to range from guitar solos to pantomime.

Calling attention to the show yesterday was Jaycee Billy Watson, co - chairman for the project along with Charles Calhoun, who announced a total of 17 acts slated to take the stage.

Amateur talent has been drawn from throughout the Twin Cities and over the surrounding area, Calhoun added. Auditions were held during the past week to narrow down the program.

Emcees for the show will be Chuck Morgan, local radio announcer, and Bob Kidd. Prizes will be awarded two acts adjudged to be the best in each of three age divisions.

U.S. Confirms Cosmonaut To Visit Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov is planning to come to this country to speak on the same space program with Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. The State Department confirmed Friday that Maj. Titov has applied for a visa to attend an international symposium on space to be held here April 30-May 7.

Press officer Lincoln White said he understands Titov and Glenn, the U.S. Mercury astronaut, will speak at the same session on international space science.

Asked if Titov will travel outside Washington while in this country, White said that if the Russian requests permission to travel it will be granted in areas where the Council on Space Research—COSPAR—of the International Council of Scientific Unions is active. He did not say what those areas are.

The conference starting at the end of this month is being sponsored by the National Academy of Science as part of the third international space symposium of COSPAR, an 18-nation organization.

At Palm Beach, Fla., White House sources said President Kennedy has no plans to see Titov, who made 17 orbits of the earth on a space flight last Aug. 7.

Titov is the second Soviet cosmonaut. Yuri Gagarin first circled the earth on April 12, 1961. Glenn orbited the earth three times last Feb. 20.

Wheel, Tire Theft Under Investigation

Monroe police yesterday were investigating the theft of both rear wheels and tires stolen sometime Thursday night from a 1955 model automobile on Anderson's Used Car Lot on DeSiard Street.

The loss was reported by James L. Davis of 736 Tulip St. in West Monroe who described the stolen tires as being whitewall and 6-70 by 15 in size.

Rebel Army Plans Move Into Algeria

LE KEF, Tunisia (AP)—A powerful nationalist rebel army with a backbone of Communist-made arms and leaders and commissars who accent revolution is getting ready to move from its exile into Algeria.

The thousands of troops are expected to constitute the main force behind the Tunis-based Algerian nationalist government when it sets itself up in Algeria after the self-determination referendum, which presumably will result in independence.

Some believe the army of 30,009 tough, disciplined fighters in Tunisia and 12,000 in Morocco is becoming a political force in itself.

At his headquarters, Col. Houari Boumedienne, the chief of staff, worked on plans for the massive movement back into Algeria and called on his men to "be prepared and think of tomorrow."

Thousands of soldiers resumed training along the Algerian frontier after two days of muscle-flexing parades and reviews.

For more than seven years, the troops have been camping near the frontiers of their homeland, staging occasional raids against French defenses and preparing for Algeria's takeover.

In recent years, their depots swelled with Soviet and Red Chinese shipments of weapons while brand new uniforms from Red Chinese and Iron Curtain factories replaced the faded, worn-out fatigues bought from American surplus.

The bulk of the funds to support and feed the army is reported to come from loans by various Communist countries.

As in Soviet and satellite armies, political commissars have been assigned to each unit. Their task it is explained is to make sure the soldiers understand the Algerian revolution.

Each officer is addressed as "brother." No rank insignia is worn on camouflage uniforms and olive-green fatigues.

Western diplomats are alarmed by the army's resemblance to Communist armies and its emphasis on revolution. They fear this ideological similarity, plus specialized weapons requiring technical assistance, may constitute the first foothold for the Soviet bloc in independent Algeria.

SAY IT WITH POETRY

CAIRO (AP)—Aman who wants a wife among the western desert tribes of Egypt must be a poet.

The woman can cheat a little—by getting someone else to help her write the verses.

By ancient custom, courtship usually flourishes around some desert well in the early morning hours. A boy seeing a girl who brings that old light to his eyes will begin singing a poem he has composed.

If she feels likewise, she will respond with a spontaneous verse. Or, is she can't think of a verse, she will give him a token to hold while she runs off to get help in composing a proper reply. The following morning she will chant it off to her suitor.

Most To Enjoy Sunny Easter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Weather Bureau announced good news Friday for bunnies and people. It should be a fine Easter Sunday.

Some rain was forecast for parts of the Midwest and Northwest. But otherwise, the weather bulletin unit said, "a bright sunny Easter is in store for most of the nation."

It also forecast considerable sunshine, "which along with pleasant temperatures should make conditions ideal for all Easter activity."

Soviet Trawlers Inspect Towers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twice in the past year when a radar tower 110 miles off the Atlantic coast was evacuated because of nasty weather, Soviet trawlers nosed near the attack sentinel, Air Force sources reported Friday.

In neither incident — one last fall, the other in February—was any actual boarding of the structure by the Russians reported.

The tower, called a "Texas tower" because of its resemblance to oil-drilling rigs in the Gulf of Mexico, is a steel and concrete platform on stilts anchored in the ocean. It is located at Georges Bank off the tip of Cape Cod as part of the U.S. air attack warning system.

When heavy seas are expected, the tower is evacuated of its crew and Coast Guard cutters keep an eye on it. This is a precaution taken since one tower buckled and dragged 28 men to their deaths in a storm on Jan. 15, 1961.

The nearest approach to the tower reported was the incident last fall. Maj. George F. Mott, commander of the 4604th Texas Tower Support Squadron at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., said a single vessel came within half a mile.

The ship turned away when a Coast Guard cutter stationed itself between the trawler and the tower.

"I don't think they had any intention to board the tower," Mott said. "I think they just wanted to see what would happen if they headed toward the tower."

The Air Force reported the first instance Thursday in response to queries about a story published by the New York Daily News.

This involved 16 trawlers which the Air Force said were sighted within 16 miles of the structure, called Tower No. 2. The Coast Guard cutter Bibb spotted the ships at 6:16 a.m. Feb. 12 going away from the tower on a northeast course.

The Coast Guard did not board the tower at the time, the Air Force said, but did so later without finding any evidence that the Soviet crewmen had entered the tower.

Jaycee Amateur Show Is Tonight In West Monroe

The first annual West Monroe Jaycee Amateur Night talent show gets underway at 7:30 tonight in the auditorium at West Monroe High School with acts scheduled to range from guitar solos to pantomime.

Calling attention to the show yesterday was Jaycee Billy Watson, co - chairman for the project along with Charles Calhoun, who announced a total of 17 acts slated to take the stage.

Amateur talent has been drawn from throughout the Twin Cities and over the surrounding area, Calhoun added. Auditions were held during the past week to narrow down the program.

Emcees for the show will be Chuck Morgan, local radio announcer, and Bob Kidd. Prizes will be awarded two acts adjudged to be the best in each of three age divisions.

U.S. Confirms Cosmonaut To Visit Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov is planning to come to this country to speak on the same space program with Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. The State Department confirmed Friday that Maj. Titov has applied for a visa to attend an international symposium on space to be held here April 30-May 7.

Press officer Lincoln White said he understands Titov and Glenn, the U.S. Mercury astronaut, will speak at the same session on international space science.

Asked if Titov will travel outside Washington while in this country, White said that if the Russian requests permission to travel it will be granted in areas where the Council on Space Research—COSPAR—of the International Council of Scientific Unions is active. He did not say what those areas are.

The conference starting at the end of this month is being sponsored by the National Academy of Science as part of the third international space symposium of COSPAR, an 18-nation organization.

At Palm Beach, Fla., White House sources said President Kennedy has no plans to see Titov, who made 17 orbits of the earth on a space flight last Aug. 7.

Titov is the second Soviet cosmonaut. Yuri Gagarin first circled the earth on April 12, 1961. Glenn orbited the earth three times last Feb. 20.

Rebel Army Plans Move Into Algeria

LE KEF, Tunisia (AP)—A powerful nationalist rebel army with a backbone of Communist-made arms and leaders and commissars who accent revolution is getting ready to move from its exile into Algeria.

The thousands of troops are expected to constitute the main force behind the Tunis-based Algerian nationalist government when it sets itself up in Algeria after the self-determination referendum, which presumably will result in independence.

Some believe the army of 30,009 tough, disciplined fighters in Tunisia and 12,000 in Morocco is becoming a political force in itself.

At his headquarters, Col. Houari Boumedienne, the chief of staff, worked on plans for the massive movement back into Algeria and called on his men to "be prepared and think of tomorrow."

Thousands of soldiers resumed training along the Algerian frontier after two days of muscle-flexing parades and reviews.

For more than seven years, the troops have been camping near the frontiers of their homeland, staging occasional raids against French defenses and preparing for Algeria's takeover.

In recent years, their depots swelled with Soviet and Red Chinese shipments of weapons while brand new uniforms from Red Chinese and Iron Curtain factories replaced the faded, worn-out fatigues bought from American surplus.

The bulk of the funds to support and feed the army is reported to come from loans by various Communist countries.

As in Soviet and satellite armies, political commissars have been assigned to each unit. Their task it is explained is to make sure the soldiers understand the Algerian revolution.

Each officer is addressed as "brother." No rank insignia is worn on camouflage uniforms and olive-green fatigues.

Western diplomats are alarmed by the army's resemblance to Communist armies and its emphasis on revolution. They fear this ideological similarity, plus specialized weapons requiring technical assistance, may constitute the first foothold for the Soviet bloc in independent Algeria.

SAY IT WITH POETRY

CAIRO (AP)—Aman who wants a wife among the western desert tribes of Egypt must be a poet.

The woman can cheat a little—by getting someone else to help her write the verses.

By ancient custom, courtship usually flourishes around some desert well in the early morning hours. A boy seeing a girl who brings that old light to his eyes will begin singing a poem he has composed.

If she feels likewise, she will respond with a spontaneous verse. Or, is she can't think of a verse, she will give him a token to hold while she runs off to get help in composing a proper reply. The following morning she will chant it off to her suitor.

Most To Enjoy Sunny Easter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Weather Bureau announced good news Friday for bunnies and people. It should be a fine Easter Sunday.

Some rain was forecast for parts of the Midwest and Northwest. But otherwise, the weather bulletin unit said, "a bright sunny Easter is in store for most of the nation."

It also forecast considerable sunshine, "which along with pleasant temperatures should make conditions ideal for all Easter activity."

OFF ATLANTIC COAST

Soviet Trawlers Inspect Towers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twice in the past year when a radar tower 110 miles off the Atlantic coast was evacuated because of nasty weather, Soviet trawlers nosed near the attack sentinel, Air Force sources reported Friday.

In neither incident — one last fall, the other in February—was any actual boarding of the structure by the Russians reported.

The tower, called a "Texas tower" because of its resemblance to oil-drilling rigs in the Gulf of Mexico, is a steel and concrete platform on stilts anchored in the ocean. It is located at Georges Bank off the tip of Cape Cod as part of the U.S. air attack warning system.

When heavy seas are expected, the tower is evacuated of its crew and Coast Guard cutters keep an eye on it. This is a precaution taken since one tower buckled and dragged 28 men to their deaths in a storm on Jan. 15, 1961.

The nearest approach to the tower reported was the incident last fall. Maj. George F. Mott, commander of the 4604th Texas Tower Support Squadron at Otis Air Force Base, Mass., said a single vessel came within half a mile.

The ship turned away when a Coast Guard cutter stationed itself between the trawler and the tower.

"I don't think they had any intention to board the tower," Mott said. "I think they just wanted to see what would happen if they headed toward the tower."

The Air Force reported the first instance Thursday in response to queries about a story published by the New York Daily News.

This involved 16 trawlers which the Air Force said were sighted within 16 miles of the structure, called Tower No. 2. The Coast Guard cutter Bibb spotted the ships at 6:16 a.m. Feb. 12 going away from the tower on a northeast course.

The Coast Guard did not board the tower at the time, the Air Force said, but did so later without finding any evidence that the Soviet crewmen had entered the tower.

Brown Favored To Defend Title

RICK BRYAN'S

View From The Pressbox

The Lions

Southeastern College, the team which was supposed to win the Gulf States Conference baseball title last year, has taken a commanding lead on a sparkling 7-1 record with the race now almost half over.

A stubborn Southwestern University outfit, the only club to defeat the Lions in conference play so far, is in second place with a 6-4 mark, while the resurging McNeese Cowboys, who have won four in a row, are next with a 5 - 5 mark. The other three schools are below the .500 line.

The Lions, with an 18-2 season record, have run up winning streaks of six and seven games and are currently on a five-game victory binge, with doubleheader wins over Northeast and Northwestern plus a 6-2 defeat of SEC defending champion Louisiana State.

Except for a 5-0 shutout at the hands of Southwestern, Pat Kennelly's Southeastern team has yet to score less than two runs a game and is averaging close to six runs a contest, while holding their opponents to around two and a half markers per game.

Pitchers Get Help

Northeast State's mound staff has been credited with the Indians' improved showing in baseball this year and the hurlers have performed creditably, particularly freshman Ed Quimby, the former Rayville and veteran Bobby Lockwood, who was the hard - luck victim of too little support a year ago.

But pitching isn't the only factor. There is also the question of fielding. In seven home games so far, Indian diamondmen have performed almost flawlessly. This has helped Northeast from beating itself as in the past.

Then there has been the ability to get clutch runs. In six one - run decisions the Redskins have been credited with victory in four.

With a harder - hitting, more experienced team, the Tribe is doing better this year, as was expected.

At Last

Gene Fullmer and Paul Pender have agreed to fight for the undisputed world middleweight title at Bozeman, Mont., in mid-June and the co - promotors of the bout, will receive equal terms.

The promotors, Sam Silverman and Norman Rothchild, said the boxers and their managers agreed to a 15 - round title match and both will get equal terms since they both have claim to the crown. Complete financial arrangements were not available.

Already

Herb Elliott, former mile record holder who just retired, is already considering a comeback according to a letter received by his Coach Percy Cerutty this week.

Elliott wrote: "When I have finished at Cambridge, if it suits you, I will be down at Protsea (the Cerutty training camp) and with some real hard work will do this chap, Snell (current world record holder Peter Snell).

If Elliott passes his exams he will finish at Cambridge next year.

Cerutty said he was confident he can get Elliott to run in the Commonwealth Games at Perth, where he will meet Snell.

GEORGE FRANKLIN, senior halfback with the Vidalia Vikings has been invited to play in the All - American high school game in the Cotton Bowl, May 18, according to his coach Dan Chase.

The 17-year old speedster scored 141 points and ran 681 yards for a 7.4 yards per carry average in leading the Vikings to the district 3- B championship. Franklin also caught 22 passes for 437 yards.

Franklin, who is also a sprint man on the Vidalia track team, will play on the South squad in Dallas under the coaching of Delta State grid mentor Horace McCool.

A little man, Franklin, who has not signed a scholarship pact yet, is expected to attend Delta State this fall.

HARRISONBURG'S basket ball team will be honored at a banquet in the school cafeteria April 24. Guest speaker is Dr. Charles Thomas, supervisor of health and physical education for the State Department of Education. Dr. Thomas is on leave from Northwestern State college and was head basketball coach at Northwestern from 1950 - 1957.

WORD from the University of Arkansas is that national publinx champion R. H. Sikes has regained his form of 1961. After a slow start in a month of very poor weather for golfing, Sikes defeated TCU's Dick Montgomery with an under - par 67, his first this year and the Porker's won 5-1. Montgomery had edged Sikes in Forth Worth last year. With three matches left the Hogs, if they continue to improve, could finish in the top three in the Southwest Conference.

CECIL CROWLEY, basketball banquet last week, repeated an observation made by Bulldog fans this winter, when he said that his hardwood five played harder than any team he's ever had at the Ruston school. Crowley also indicated that Tech would not slacken its killing early season pace next year. The Bulldogs host SEC kings Mississippi State in Ruston, play a home and away series with Ole Miss and enter the major college Gulf South Classic in Shreveport.

PETE RICHERT, 22 - year old Los Angeles rookie southpaw, tied a major league record for rookies with six consecutive strikeouts in his first game as a Dodger. Karl Spooner of the old Brooklyn Dodgers set the record in his debut in 1954.

Dubach 9 Drops District Meet To Bernice, 9-0

DUBACH (Special) — Dubach High School dropped a District 3-B encounter to Bernice, 9-0 here Friday afternoon.

Bernice's Ronnie Fitzgerald limited Dubach to only two hits while walking only two and striking out seven of his opponents.

Bernice opened scoring in the second inning and pushed one run across the plate.

The visitors tallied four in the fourth. Jimmy Wayne Gray singled. Ricky Albritton followed and was safe on an error. Johnny Buckley then doubled to score only Albritton because Gray was thrown out on a steal attempt. The next batter, Ricky Aden, belted another double to score, double hitting, Buckley.

Larry Fitzgerald singled, after Robert Jackson struck out, and scored on Jerry Lautigar's sacrifice fly.

Bernice scored two more runs in the fifth and seventh innings to end scoring.

Dubach now stands 12-5 in season play and Bernice is 6-3.

Meets Ortiz In 15 Round Bout Tonight

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Durable old Joe Brown, the busiest lightweight champion in the division's history, remained the betting favorite Friday to retain his title in 15 rounds or less against cocky young Carlos Ortis of New York Saturday night.

The 36-year-old kingpin from Houston, Tex., risks his crown for the 12th time, this one in the Las Vegas Convention Center before an anticipated capacity turnout of 7,700 and a national television audience.

ABC carries the action, with this area screened out, starting at 10 p.m. FST.

pounders, defended the title nine times, which was the record until Brown came along.

This betting capital of the nation likes Brown to stand off his 25-year-old opponent at odds of about 8-5.

Co-promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb said Friday more than $50,000 in advance ticket sales is in the till and they hope later comers will swell it toward the $100,000 mark.

The match, postponed from last Feb. 24, when Brown bowed out with a sudden case of infected tonsils, has perhaps aroused even more interest than it did originally.

Brown, already well along in years, won the championship in the summer of 1956 in a 15-round decision over Wallace (Bud) Smith in New Orleans—a city, incidentally, that Brown now says was his birthplace. Previously this distinction belonged to Baton Rouge, La.

The old boy, the Archie Moore of the lighter fellows, will step into the ring for his 115th engagement in a career that began in 1946.

His record includes 83 victories and 18 losses and he stopped 38 of his opponents.

Brown has also been stopped four times—by Sandy Saddler in 1946, Johnny Bratton in 1948, Georgie Arujo in 1952 and, in something of a freak mishap, by one Ray Portilla in San Antonio. This was a non-title appearance that ended in the sixth with Brown in misery from a torn ligament in his ribs.

Ortiz, a native of Puerto Rico, first fought as a professional in 1955. He has won 35 of his 40 bouts, lost four, had one no-decision affair and knocked out 12 of his foes.

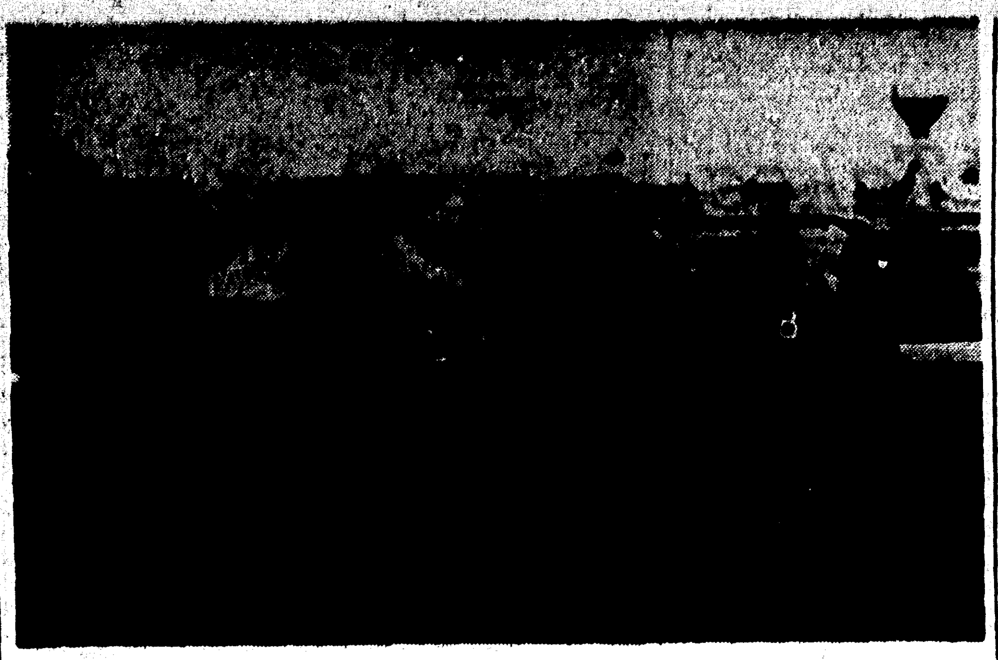
Significantly, Ortiz has never been knocked out.

Brown is a gifted boxer with a deadly punch in either hand. Ortiz may be less artistic but he has far better punching power than has been credited to him.

One high point of Ortiz' career was winning the world junior welterweight title. He dropped it to Duilio Loi, whom he had previously beaten, in the Italian's hometown of Milan in May, 1961, in what he stoutly maintains was a hometown decision.

Ortiz didn't grieve too much. The title he wants is the more lucrative lightweight crown. Brown has an entirely different idea.

Chairman Jim Deskin, after a meeting of the Nevada State Athletic Commission, announced that the mandatory eight count will be in effect. This requires time for a fighter to recover from undue punishment.



CARRY BACK, (2), Manuel Ycaza up, moves up on the outside as horses enter the stretch and goes on to win the $10,000 Marriage purse at New York's Aqueduct Friday. Wintervale (8), Larry Adams up, and Udaipur (4), ridden by Willie Shoemaker, both faded in the stretch and were out of the money. Gatwol, on rail and trailing at this point, ridden by Ismael Valenzuela, came on to finish second.

EASTER TOURNAMENT ACTION

Indians Down Bears; Porkers Beat Demons

By WAYNE KING
World Sports Writer

Northeast State's Indians earned a berth in today's championship game with a 9-5 triumph over the pre-tourney favorites, Baylor here yesterday morning after the Arkansas Razorbacks outlasted the Northwestern Demons, 13-8, in the second day of action in the third annual Northeast Easter Tournament.

The Indians meet the same Baylor team this afternoon for the tournament crown at 3:30 p.m. The Razorbacks and Demons clash again in the consolation contest at 1:30 p.m.

The win over Baylor was the third straight in the three - day meet, and made the Bears' tourney record 2-1.

LOCKWOOD WINS

Ace righthander Bobby Lockwood worked the first 4 2-3 innings before tiring under the sweltering sun to register the win. It was his first appearance in the tourney, and brought his season record to 4-3.

Bob Groves came in from center field to put down a fifth inning rally by the Bears and pitched the remainder of the game to preserve the triumph. He allowed only one hit, struck out one and walked one in the final 2 1-3 innings. Lockwood gave up five runs on six hits and four free passes while fanning one.

Don Boniol blasted a double and triple in three official trips to the plate, and Groves lashed a pair of singles to pace the Tribe's eight-hit attack.

RAZORBACKS ROLL

Arkansas pounded three Demon moundsmen for 16 hits while rolling up its high - scoring victory in yesterday's opener.

Jim Bone was the big gun for the Razorbacks, collecting 3-5, driving in six runs and scoring two more himself. Bone, who patrols right field, belted a two-run double in the first, and followed with a three-run homer in the sixth. Darrell Williams and Paul Soden each had a two-bagger and a pair of singles in four at-bats.

Jack Wheeler went the route to pick up the win for the Razorbacks. He gave up only three earned runs on a seven - hitter, struck out seven and walked four.

TRIBE TAKES LEAD

Northeast took a 3-0 lead over Baylor in the top of the first on bingles by Eddie McGowan, Phil Petras and Groves along with a couple of Baylor miscues.

After the Bears plated a run in their half of the second, the Indians added three more in the fourth on one hit, a base on balls and two Baylor errors.

Donnie Brunson started the fourth off with a walk and scored on Charlie Dykes' triple to right. Boniol was safe on an error, and he and Dykes both came on home on another Bear bobble and two ground outs.

The Indians upped the score to 9-1 the following inning on the strength of two walks, two hits — including a triple by Boniol— and a sacrifice fly.

Lockwood retired the first two Bears in the bottom of the fifth, but then ran into trouble. He issued a pair of free passes, hit one batter and gave up a single before Groves came in with the bases loaded and one run already across.

Three more runs crossed the plate before Groves finally retired the third Bear. John McEldowney, the first batter Groves faced, was safe on an Indian bobble and Art Fuentes followed with a pinch-hit single to score the last two Baylor runs.

STARTS FAST

Arkansas started things off with a bang in yesterday's first match, scoring six times in the top of the first. The big blows being doubles by Sodan and Bone.

The Demons pushed across two runs in the second and fourth frames while the Razorbacks there adding single markers in the third and fourth innings, to make the score 8-4.

Arkansas rallied for four in the sixth, on Bone's circuit clout with two teammates on board, followed by two more base raps.

Northwestern scored four times in the bottom of the final frame on just one hit, four Razorback errors, a walk and a hit batter.

Pictured above is the first load of newly designed Kingfishers to arrive at Howard Griffin. This new line of boats is being built by a major boat manufacturer to Howard Griffin's rigid and exclusive specifications for the very particular needs of Northeast Louisiana fishermen. This boat is the result of long years of experience and study of the exacting needs of local and nearby fishermen, who want their aluminum boats to be light enough to be portable and yet strong enough to withstand the hard usage that is so common in Louisiana stump infested bayous, rivers and lakes. Of special importance to prospective boat owners is the fact that this new Kingfisher boat is offered in the heaviest available gauge of aluminum (.064 - extra hard) at a price that has never been remotely approached by the industry. The distributor of this boat, Howard Griffin, Inc., guarantees that a new all-time rock bottom price structure has been established for aluminum fishing boats. The firm is offering to the public these Kingfisher models for prices that are actually lower than most dealers can buy other brands for resale. You are urged to carefully inspect these boats, compare them with others, and pocket the savings that you will get by buying the Kingfisher boat from Howard Griffin. Kingfisher boats are being offered in medium and heavy duty models only. The medium duty Kingfisher of .051 aluminum compares most favorably with top models offered by most other manufacturers. The .064 gauge heavy duty model, however, is a product that is unexcelled by any manufacturer when consideration is given to price as well as quality. (Adv.)

IN KANSAS RELAYS

Texas Southern Smashing Marks

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Texas Southern university's amazing sprint corps smashed two meet baton records and two other marks fell in the opening sessions of the Kansas Relays Friday.

The all-Negro team from Houston won the college division's sprint medley in 3:19.8, chipping 2.4 seconds off the old record, and qualified in the mile relay preliminaries in 3:11.6 — six-tenths of a second under the previous mark.

Bill Dotson, nursing a sore throat and a slight fever, ran a 4:08.2 mile in anchoring Kansas to a 16:53.1, fastest of the outdoor season.

The other record came in the broad jump with Bill Miller of McMurry College, Tex., going 25-6.

Jerry Dyes of Abilene Christian was seconed at 25-3½, just over the former record of 25-5¼ set by Jim Baird of East Texas two years ago.

Texas Southern broke five relay records in the recent Texas Relays and is considered a good threat for three more revisions of the books here Saturday.

The Houston team of Melvin Houston, Wesley Blackman, Ray Saddler and Lester Milburn qualified in the college mile relay 30 yards ahead of Fort Hays, Kan. which qualified in 3:18.8.

Kansas beat the 4-mile record of 16.57.8 set by another Jayhawk team five years ago. Texas Southern lowered the spring medley time 2.4 seconds.

Competition the first day of the two-day program was run off in 80-degree weather under clear skies with winds gusting to 10 miles per hour.

Getting the baton up to Dotson were Mike Fulgham (4:17.2), Bill Thornton (4:14.4) and Ted Rieninger (4:16.3).

Southern Illinois finished second in the 4-mile relay, 80 yards behind Kansas, while Nebraska, which came into the meet with the fast time of the season, (17:04.5), was third.

Texas Southern was winner by at least 70 yards in the spring medley over Lincoln University of Jefferson City, Mo.

It was a fast start for the two-day meet that will show John Uelses, former Marine now living in Washington, D.C., and the first man to crack a 16-foot pole vault barrier, and Henry Wadsworth of the Marine detachment at West Point in a special pole vault Saturday.

Oklahoma won the university division sprint medley in 3:22.9, beating the 1961 champion, Oklahoma State, which finished in 3:29.1, by 6 yards.

Australian Pat Clohesay of Houston University, 1961 NCAA 3-mile champion, failed in his bid to break the relays record of 14:12.2 but beat teammate Geoff Walker, also of Australia, by 150 yards in the time of 14:14.8.

John McGrath of Occidental was an easy winner in the discus with a throw of 172-3¼, compared to 160-5 ½ by John Anderson of Oklahoma State.

Bob Swafford of Texas Tech nipped Rex Stucker, former Kansas State star, by one-tenth of a second in the AAU 400-meter hurdles. Swafford was timed in :52.3. Cliff Cushman, former Kansas University ace, who won the previous two 440-meter jogs here, finished third and Bill Toomy, ex-Colorado star, was fourth.

Southeastern Sweeps Twinbill

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Southeastern Louisiana got a pair of two-hit pitching jobs and swept a doubleheader in the second round of the Chennault Air Force Base round-robin baseball tournament Friday.

SLC blanked Southwestern Louisiana 3-0 and shaded McNeese State 2-1 to post a clean 2-0 record and lead the tourney. McNeese and SLC are both 1-1 and host Chennault is 0-2.

The tourney ends Saturday when McNeese plays USL and SLC faces Chennault.

Bob Hardy picked up the victory for SLC in the opener and Joe Thomas hurled the nightcap.

The Lions

Southeastern College, the team which was supposed to win the Gulf States Conference baseball title last year, has taken a commanding lead on a sparkling 7-1 record with the race now almost half over.

A stubborn Southwestern University outfit, the only club to defeat the Lions in conference play so far, is in second place with a 6-4 mark, while the resurging McNeese Cowboys, who have won four in a row, are next with a 8 - 5 mark. The other three schools are below the .500 line.

The Lions, with an 18-2 season record, have run up winning streaks of six and seven games and are currently on a five-game victory binge, with doubleheader wins over Northeast and Northwestern plus a 6-2 defeat of SEC defending champion Louisiana State.

Except for a 5-0 shutout at the hands of Southwestern, Pat Kennelly's Southeastern team has yet to score less than two runs a game and is averaging close to six runs a contest, while holding their opponents to around two and a half markers per game.

Pitchers Get Help

Northeast State's mound staff has been credited with the Indians' improved showing in baseball this year and the hurlers have performed creditably, particularly freshman Ed Quimby, the former Rayville and veteran Bobby Lockwood, who was the hard - luck victim of too little support a year ago.

But pitching isn't the only factor. There is also the question of fielding. In seven home games so far, Indian diamondmen have performed almost flawlessly. This has helped Northeast from beating itself as in the past.

Then there has been the ability to get clutch runs. In six one - run decisions the Redskins have been credited with victory in four.

With a harder - hitting, more experienced team, the Tribe is doing better this year, as was expected.

At Last

Gene Fullmer and Paul Pender have agreed to fight for the undisputed world middleweight title at Bozeman, Mont., in middle June and the co - promotors of the bout, will receive equal terms. The promotors, Sam Silverman and Norman Rothchild, said the boxers and their managers agreed to a 15 - round title match and both will get equal terms since they both have claim to the crown. Complete financial arrangements were not available.

Already

Herb Elliott, former mile record holder who just retired, is already considering a comeback according to a letter received by his Coach Percy Cerutty this week.

Elliott wrote: "When I have finished at Cambridge, if it suits you, I will be down at Protsea (the Cerutty training camp) and with some real hard work will do this chap, Snell (current world record holder Peter Snell).

If Elliott passes his exams he will finish at Cambridge next year.

Cerutty said he was confident he can get Elliott to run in the Commonwealth Games at Perth, where he will meet Snell.

GEORGE FRANKLIN, senior halfback with the Vidalia Vikings has been invited to play in the annual All - American high school game in the Cotton Bowl, May 18, according to his coach Dan Chase.

The 17-year old speedster scored 141 points and ran 681 yards for a 7.4 yards per carry average in leading the Vikings to the district 3- B championship. Franklin also caught 22 passes for 437 yards.

Franklin, who is also a sprint man on the Vidalia track team, will play on the South squad in Dallas under the coaching of Delta State grid mentor Horace McCool.

A little man, Franklin, who has not signed a scholarship pact yet, is expected to attend Delta State this fall.

HARRISONBURG'S basket ball team will be honored at a banquet in the school cafeteria April 24. Guest speaker is Dr. Charles Thomas, supervisor of health and physical education for the State Department of Education. Dr. Thomas is on leave from Northwestern State college and was head basketball coach at Northwestern from 1950 - 1957.

WORD from the University of Arkansas is that national publinx champion R. H. Sikes has regained his form of 1961. After a slow start in a month of very poor weather for golfing, Sikes defeated TCU's Dick Montgomery with an under - par 67, his first this year and the Porker's won 5-1. Montgomery had edged Sikes in Forth Worth last year. With three matches left the Hogs, if they continue to improve, could finish in the top three in the Southwest Conference.

CECIL CROWLEY, basketball banquet last week, repeated an observation made by Bulldog fans this winter, when he said that his hardwood five played harder than any team he's ever had at the Ruston school. Crowley also indicated that Tech would not slacken its killing early season pace next year. The Bulldogs host SEC kings Missisippi State in Ruston, play a home and away series with Ole Miss and enter the major college Gulf South Classic in Shreveport.

PETE RICHERT, 22 - year old Los Angeles rookie southpaw, tied a major league record for rookies with his six consecutive strikeouts in his first game as a Dodger. Karl Spooner of the old Brooklyn Dodgers set the record in his debut in 1954.

Dubach 9 Drops District Meet To Bernice, 9-0

DUBACH (Special) — Dubach High School dropped a District 3-B encounter to Bernice, 9-0 here Friday afternoon.

Bernice's Ronnie Fitzgerald limited Dubach to only two hits while walking only two and striking out seven of his opponents.

Bernice opened scoring in the second inning and pushed one run across the plate.

The visitors tallied four in the fourth. Jimmy Wayne Gray singled. Ricky Albritton followed and was safe on an error. Johnny Buckley then doubled to score only Albritton because Gray was thrown out on a steal attempt. The next batter, Ricky Aden, belted another double to score, double hitting, Buckley.

Larry Fitzgerald singled, after Robert Jackson struck out, and scored on Jerry Lautigar's sacrifice fly.

Bernice scored two more runs in the fifth and seventh innings to end scoring.

Dubach now stands 12-5 in season play and Bernice is 6-3.

Meets Ortiz In 15 Round Bout Tonight

By BOB MYERS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Durable old Joe Brown, the busiest lightweight champion in the division's history, remained the betting favorite Friday to retain his title in 15 rounds or less against the cocky young Carlos Ortiz of New York Saturday night.

The 35-year-old kingpin from Houston, Tex., risks his crown for the 12th time, this one in the Las Vegas Convention Center before an anticipated capacity turnout of 7,700 and a national television audience.

ABC carries the action, with this area screened out, starting at 10 p.m. FST.

Benny Leonard, whom many regard as the finest of all 135-pounders, defended the title nine times, which was the record until Brown came along.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Tale of the tape for 15-round title fight Saturday night between lightweight champion Joe Brown and challenger Carlos Ortiz:

BROWN		ORTIZ
35	Age	25
X-135	Weight	X-135
5-7½	Height	5-7
68½	Reach	68
38	Chest (normal)	39
39¾	Chest (expanded)	41
29	Waist	28
19	Thigh	19½
19½	Calf	13½
8	Ankle	7½
13	Biceps	12½
11	Forearm	13½
6½	Wrist	7½
14½	Neck	15

X-To be announced at official weigh-in Saturday morning.

This betting capital of the nation likes Brown to stand off his 25-year-old opponent at odds of about 8-5.

Co-promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb said Friday more than $50,000 in advance ticket sales is in the till and they hope later comers will swell it toward the $100,000 mark.

The match, postponed from last Feb. 24, when Brown bowed out with a sudden case of infected tonsils, has perhaps aroused even more interest than it did originally.

Brown, already well along in years, won the championship in the summer of 1956 in a 15-round decision over Wallace (Bud) Smith in New Orleans—a city, incidentally, that Brown now says was his birthplace. Previously this distinction belonged to Baton Rouge, La.

The old boy, the Archie Moore of the lighter fellows, will step into the ring for his 115th engagement in a career that began in 1946.

His record includes 83 victories and 18 losses and he stopped 38 of his opponents.

Brown has also been stopped four times—by Sandy Saddler in 1946, Johnny Bratton in 1948, Georgie Arujo in 1952 and in something of a freak mishap, by one Ray Portilla in San Antonio. This was a non-title appearance that ended in the sixth with Brown in misery from a torn ligament in the ribs.

Ortiz, a native of Puerto Rico, first fought as a professional in 1955. He has won 35 of his 40 bouts, lost four, had one no-decision affair and knocked out 12 of his foes.

Significantly, Ortiz has never been knocked out.

Brown is a gifted boxer with a deadly punch in either hand. Ortiz may be less artistic but he has far better punching power than has been credited to him.

One high point of Ortiz' career was winning the world junior welterweight title. He dropped it to Duilio Loi, whom he had previously beaten, in the Italian's hometown of Milan in May, 1961, in what he stoutly maintains was a hometown decision.

Ortiz didn't grieve too much. The title he wants is the more lucrative lightweight crown. Brown has an entirely different idea.

Chairman Jim Deskin, after a meeting of the Nevada State Athletic Commission, announced that the mandatory eight count will be in effect. This requires time for a fighter to recover from undue punishment.

EASTER TOURNAMENT ACTION

Indians Down Bears; Porkers Beat Demons

By WAYNE KING
World Sports Writer

Northeast State's Indians earned a berth in today's championship game with a 9-5 triumph over the pre-tourney favorites, Baylor here yesterday morning after the Arkansas Razorbacks outlasted the Northwestern Demons, 13-8, in the second day of action in the third annual Northeast Easter Tournament.

The Indians meet the same Baylor team this afternoon for the tournament crown at 3:30 p.m. The Razorbacks and Demons clash again in the consolation contest at 1:30 p.m.

The win over Baylor was the third straight in the three - day meet, and made the Bears' tourney record 2-1.

LOCKWOOD WINS

Ace righthander Bobby Lockwood worked the first 4 2-3 innings before tiring under the sweltering sun to register the win. It was his first appearance in the tourney, and brought his season record to 4-3.

Bob Groves came in from center field to put down a fifth inning rally by the Bears and pitched the remainder of the game to preserve the triumph. He allowed only one hit, struck out one and walked one in the final 2 1-3 innings. Lockwood gave up five runs on six hits and four free passes while fanning one.

Don Boniol blasted a double and triple in three official trips to the plate, and Groves lashed a pair of singles to pace the Tribe's eight-hit attack.

RAZORBACKS ROLL

Arkansas pounded three Demon moundsmen for 16 hits while rolling up its high - scoring victory in yesterday's opener.

Jim Bone was the big gun for the Razorbacks, collecting 3-5, driving in six runs and scoring two more himself. Bone, who patrols right field, belted a two-run double in the first, and followed with a three-run homer in the sixth. Darrell Williams and Paul Soden each had a two-bagger and a pair of singles in four at-bats.

Jack Wheeler went the route to pick up the win for the Razorbacks. He gave up only three earned runs on a seven - hitter, struck out seven and walked four.

TRIBE TAKES LEAD

Northeast took a 3-0 lead over Baylor in the top of the first on bingles by Eddie McGowan, Phil Petras and Groves along with a couple of Baylor miscues.

After the Bears plated a run in their half of the second, the Indians added three more in the fourth on one hit, a base on balls and two Baylor errors.

Donnie Brunson started the fourth off with a walk and scored on Charlie Dykes' triple to right. Boniol was safe on an error, and he and Dykes both came on home on another Bear bobble and two ground outs.

The Indians upped the score to 9-1 the following inning on the strength of two walks, two hits — including a triple by Boniol — and a sacrifice fly.

Lockwood retired the first two Bears in the bottom of the fifth, but then ran into trouble. He issued a pair of free passes, hit one batter and gave up a single before Groves came in with the bases loaded and one run already across.

Three more runs crossed the plate before Groves finally retired the third Bear. John McEldowney, the first batter Groves faced, was safe on an Indian bobble and Art Fuentes followed with a pinch-hit single to score the last two Baylor runs.

STARTS FAST

Arkansas started things off with a bang in yesterday's first match, scoring six times in the top of the first. The big blows being doubles by Sodan and Bone.

The Demons pushed across two runs in the second and fourth frames while the Razorbacks were adding single markers in the third and fourth innings, to make the score 8-4.

Arkansas rallied for four in the sixth, on Bone's circuit clout with two teammates on board, followed by two more base raps.

Northwestern scored four times in the bottom of the final frame on just one hit, four Razorback errors, a walk and a hit batter.

Pictured above is the first load of newly designed Kingfishers to arrive at Howard Griffin. This new line of boats is being built by a major boat manufacturer to Howard Griffin's rigid and exclusive specifications for the very particular needs of Northeast Louisiana fishermen. This boat is the result of long years of experience and study of the exacting needs of local and nearby fishermen who want their aluminum boats to be light enough to be portable and yet strong enough to withstand the hard usage that is so common in Louisiana stump infested bayous, rivers and lakes. Of special importance to prospective boat owners is the fact that this new Kingfisher boat is offered in the heaviest available gauge of aluminum (.064 - extra hard) at a price that has never been remotely approached by the industry. The distributor of this boat, Howard Griffin, Inc., guarantees that a new all-time rock bottom price structure has been established for aluminum fishing boats. The firm is offering to the public these Kingfisher models for prices that are actually lower than most dealers can buy other brands for resale. You are urged to carefully inspect these boats, compare them with others, and pocket the savings that you get by buying the Kingfisher boat from Howard Griffin. Kingfisher boats are being offered in medium and heavy duty models only. The medium duty Kingfisher of .051 aluminum compares most favorably with top models offered by most other manufacturers. The .064 gauge heavy duty model, however, is a product that is unexcelled by any manufacturer when consideration is given to price as well as quality. (Adv.)

IN KANSAS RELAYS

Texas Southern Smashing Marks

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Texas Southern university's amazing sprint corps smashed two meet baton records and two other marks fell in the opening sessions of the Kansas Relays Friday.

The all-Negro team from Houston won the college division's sprint medley in 3:19.8, chipping 2.4 seconds off the old record, and qualified in the mile relay preliminaries in 3:11.6 — six-tenths of a second under the previous mark.

Bill Dotson, nursing a sore throat and a slight fever, ran a 4:05.2 mile in anchoring Kansas to a 16:53.1, fastest of the outdoor season.

The other record came in the broad jump with Bill Miller of McMurry College, Tex., going 25-6.

Jerry Dyes of Abilene Christian was second at 25-3½, just over the former record of 25-5¼ set by Jim Baird of East Texas two years ago.

Texas Southern broke five relay records in the recent Texas Relays and is considered a good threat for three more revisions of the books here Saturday.

The Houston team of Melvin Houston, Wesley Blackman, Ray Saddler and Lester Milburn qualified in the college mile relay 30 yards ahead of Fort Hays, Kan. which qualified in 3:18.5.

Kansas beat the 4-mile record of 16:57.8 set by another Jayhawk team five years ago. Texas Southern lowered the spring medley time 2.4 seconds.

Competition the first day of the two-day program was run off in 80-degree weather under clear skies with winds gusting to 10 miles per hour.

Getting the baton up to Dotson were Mike Fulgham (4:17.2), Bill Thornton (4:14.4) and Ted Rieninger (4:16.3).

Southern Illinois finished second in the 4-mile relay, 80 yards behind Kansas, while Nebraska, with the fast time of the season, (17:04.5), was third.

Texas Southern was winner by at least 70 yards in the spring medley over Lincoln University of Jefferson City, Mo.

It was a fast start for the two-day meet that will show John Uelses, former Marine now living in Washington, D.C., and the first man to crack a 16-foot pole vault barrier, and Henry Wadsworth of the Marine detachment at West Point in a special pole vault Saturday.

Oklahoma won the university division sprint medley in 3:22.9, beating the 1961 champion, Oklahoma State, which finished in 3:29.1, by 6 yards.

Australian Pat Clohesay of Houston University, 1961 NCAA 3-mile champion, failed in his bid to break the relays record of 14:12.2 but beat teammate Geoff Walker, also of Australia, by 150 yards in the time of 14:14.8.

John McGrath of Occidental was an easy winner in the discus with a throw of 172-3¼, compared to 160-5 ½ by John Anderson of Oklahoma State.

Bob Swafford of Texas Tech nipped Rex Stucker, former Kansas star, by one-tenth of a second in the AAU 400-meter hurdles. Swafford was timed at :52.3. Cliff Cushman, former Kansas University ace, who won the previous two 440-meter jogs here, finished third and Bill Toomy, ex-Colorado star, was fourth.

Southeastern Sweeps Twinbill

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Southeastern Louisiana got a pair of two-hit pitching jobs and swept a doubleheader in the first round of the Chennault Air Force Base round-robin baseball tournament Friday.

SLC blanked Southwestern Louisiana 3-0 and shaded McNeese State 2-1 to post a clean 2-0 record and lead the tourney. McNeese and SLC are both 1-1 and host Chennault is 0-1.

The tourney ends Saturday when McNeese plays USL and SLC faces Chennault.

Bob Hardy picked up the victory for SLC in the opener and Joe Thomas hurled the nightcap.

Bobby Nichols Takes Lead In Houston Golf

BOBBY NICHOLS of Midland, Texas checks his score card after taking the lead in the second round of the Houston Class golf tournament yesterday. Nichols carded a one under par 69 yesterday for a one stroke edge at the half-way mark. (AP Wirephoto)

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Nichols, a young Kentucky star who received a football scholarship to play college golf, used a one-under-par 69 Friday to take the 36-hole lead in the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Nicholas' late finish broke up a four-way deadlock Knudson, the first day leader, had set up by taking bogies on the fourth and 15th holes.

Nichols, a Louisville native Bear Bryant gave a football scholarship so he could play golf at Texas A&M, took the lead with a 5-foot birdie putt on the 16th green and protected his advantage with pars on the last two holes.

"A 10-foot putt at 15, however, was my best shot of the day and it was the boost I needed," said Nichols, the 1962 winner of the St. Petersburg Open.

Knudson blamed both his back nine bogies on bad chip shots and he had to settle for a 66-72—138 for the 7,100-yard, par 70 Memorial Park course. Nicklaus, playing his first year as pro, placed a 70 beside his first round 68, while Crampton posted his second straight 69. Hebert put a 71 with his first round 67.

Nichols, the 1956 Southwest Conference champion who turned pro in 1959, got two other birdies with putts of one and 6 feet but erased them by taking bogies when he overshot two greens and missed putts of 4 and 6 feet. Two of his three birdies and the 10-foot putt Nichols considered so vital came on par 3 holes.

"You can really gain an advantage on those par 3 holes on this course," he said.

Nichols currently is the 1962 PGA tour's 16th money winner with $8,874.67.

Knudson, a 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, had only one birdie to go with three bogies.

"The greens were much bumpier today and there was a pretty good wind," he said. "My main trouble, however, was that both times I chipped I got bogies."

Hebert had three bogies and two birdies. Nicklaus, an earlier finisher, got his par with two birdies and two bogies.

"I thought I would shoot a 69 today but didn't," said Hebert, a former PGA champion from Lafayette, La. "I'd say the course was a good two or three strokes tougher today."

Don Fairfield, Champaign, Ill., was the only major casualty as the field of 102 pros was cut to 94 for Saturday's third round. The cutoff was a 10-over par 150. Fairfield had a 73-78—151.

Tigers Place 1st In Natchitoches Meet

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Neville High School's thinclads blazed their way to another first place here Friday as they combined efforts to score 86½ points and take full control of the Natchitoches Relays.

The Tiger relay men took first place in all of the relay events.

Finishing in second place, 15½ points below the Tiger's score, was Ruston. The Bearcats scored 71 points during the afternoon.

Minden ended in third position with 58½; host Natchitoches in fourth with 43 and Jonesboro-Hodge in the last spot with 39 points.

Neville has swept all five track meets they have entered this season.

The Tigers will send their undefeated tracksters to the Twin City Meet Tuesday night at Neville stadium.

In the field events, two Tigers, Robert Payne and John Segars, took first places while their teammate, Joe Canal, tied with Jonesboro's Reeves for first in the pole vault with an 11 foot effort.

Payne turned in a leap of 20-4 feet to take the broad jump event, and Segars heaved the discus a total of 139-6¾ feet for another Tiger first.

A Ruston Bearcat, Parker, cleared the high jump bar at 5-11 to take the event.

Don Brant and Freddy Moses finished first and second respectively in the 220 dash with Brant breaking the tape with Moses on his heels. Brant's time for the event was a speedy 21.8.

The Tiger's relay team turned in a 1:29.5 time for the 880 relay; a 43.5 effort for the 440 relay and 3:30.5 in the mile relay. The mile relay team, running in their own relays, spanned the distance in 3:30.3, two tenths shorter than Friday's run.

A's Take 7-4 Victory Over White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Home runs by pitcher Jerry Walker and Norm Siebern featured a 12-hit attack Friday night, powering the Kansas City A's to a 7-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

A surprisingly large crowd of 12,246 braved cold and windy weather only to see Chicago's four-game winning streak come to a halt.

Sox southpaw Juan Pizarro, victorious in two previous starts, proved no puzzle to the A's.

Orioles Snuff Washington's Rally To Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm snuffed out a Washington rally in the bottom of the ninth inning as the Baltimore Orioles defeated Washington, 5-4 Friday night in the first night game played in the new D.C. Stadium.

Wilhelm relieved Dick Hall with the bases loaded and forced Chuck Hinton to hit a grounder back to the mound. Wilhelm's throw to the plate forced pinch runner Claude Osteen, but Ken Hamlin, another pinch runner, scored when Gus Triandos threw wildly to first trying for a double play. Wilhelm then fanned Danny O'Connell to end the game.

The Orioles scored an unearned run in the seventh inning on a throwing error by Pete Burnside, the Senators' starting pitcher, to tie the game at 3-3, and an error by Hinton in right field helped them to one of their runs in the eighth.

Hall was the winner in relief of Billy Hoeft, giving him a 5-0 record against the Senators for the past two seasons.

Derby's Candidates Will Receive Final Test Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby May 5 will get their final major test Saturday in the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the $85,000-added California Derby at Tanforan. In addition, a few remaining Derby eligibles in Florida tackle the $10,000 Hallandale Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County, disqualified from first place in the Flamingo at Hialeah, heads a field of 11 in the 1⅛ mile Wood. Willie Shoemaker, who rides Sunrise County in the Derby two weeks later, handles the 7-5 favorite.

California-bred Donut king, owned by Verne Winchell, George D. Widener's Endymion and Fred W. Hooper's Louisiana Derby winner, Admiral's Voyage, are other highly rated colts in the Wood. Robert Lehman's Prego, who got first money in the Flamingo when Sunrise County fouled out, is also a starter.

Neil's McCarthy's Royal Attack, who beat Admiral's Voyage in the Santa Anita Derby, heads a nine-horse line-up in the California Derby, also at 1⅛ miles. His main rival appears to be Lionel C. Sternberger's Doc Jocoy, who won the San Felipe Stakes. Eddie Burns rides Royal Attack.

Other Kentucky candidates in the coast Derby are King Ranch's Full Regalia and R. S. Howard's Imtrying.

Lucas Combs' Tom Turkey, who equalled Gulfstream's mile grass course record recently, is the favorite for the 7 furlongs of the Hallandal. His rider is Bill Hartack. Other Derby hopefuls named include Mrs. Herbert Herffs Obey, Park Deere Stable's Summer Savory and F.&B. Farm's Good Fight. Eleven were entered for the Hallandale.

Fourteen grass performers were entered for the $25,0000 Laurel Handicap, 1⅛ miles on the turf at Laurel, Md., with Preston Madden's T. V. Lark a big favorite. Last fall T. V. Lark upset horse-of-the-year, Kelso, in the Washington D.C. International at Laurel.

Rain softened the Laurel course, bringing out a large field, and if the turf is too yielding, T. V. Lark's status is doubtful. He has 127 pounds and must concede 10 to 23 pounds to his rivals. Hill-N-Dale Farm's Bronze Babu has 117, and goes as an entry with Polarity, 109. Another of four stable entries is Mrs. Henry Obre's pair of Call the Witness, 114, and Hunter's Rock, 112.

At Keeneland, eight were entered for the 7 furlongs of the Ben Ali Handicap. Top weight of 122 pounds in the $10,000 event is shared by Claiborne Farm's Bluescope and Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist. J. Graham Brown's Run for Nurse has 118 and Natjolee Stable's Cactus Tom 117.

Twelve were entered at Lincoln Downs for the $15,000 Lapan Memorial at 1 1-16 miles. Weiner and Resseguet's Orleans Doge, winner of the Louisiana Handicap, is top weighted with 124. Peter Fuller's Top Mikee is next with 119.

Lincoln ends its spring season, and Eddie Arcaro will present the trophy.

The $10,000 Spring Handicap at a mile drew a field of eight at Sportsman's Park. Gay Revoke, owned by Gomer Evans of Tulsa and winner of the Inaugural Handicap last week, carries top weight of 122 pounds. W. Hal Bishop's Salason has 114, and is an entry with Tin God, 112.

Memphis State Downs Maroons

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Memphis State walloped Mississippi State, Southeastern Conference western division leader, 23-8 Friday in the opening of a 2-game non-conference series.

Memphis State blasted four Maroon hurlers for 20 hits as right-hander Macon Lowe went the route, yielding up 12 hits.

Ten Mississippi errors coupled with 11 walks helped contribute to Memphis' one-sided victory.

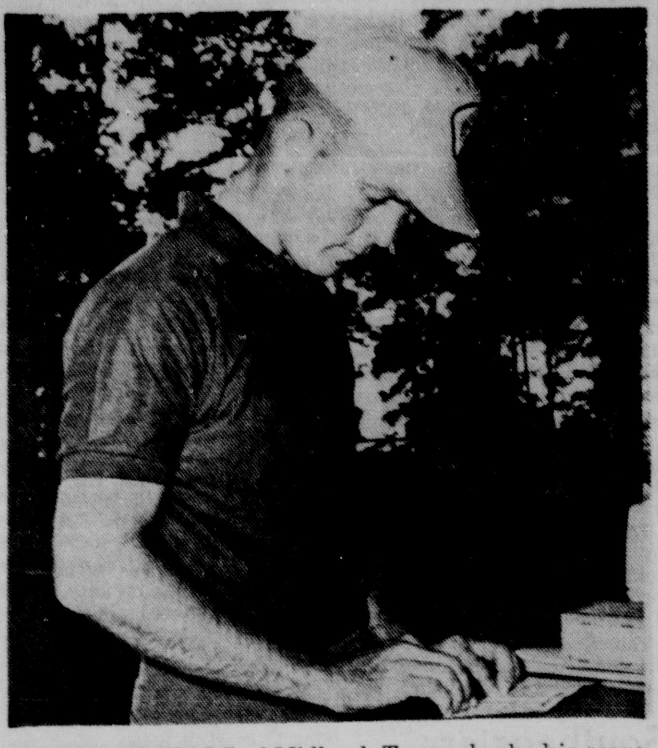
Bobby Nichols Takes Lead In Houston Golf



BOBBY NICHOLS of Midland, Texas checks his score card after taking the lead in the second round of the Houston Class golf tournament yesterday. Nichols carded a one under par 69 yesterday for a one stroke edge at the half-way mark. (AP Wirephoto)

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Nichols, a young Kentucky star who received a football scholarship to play college golf, used a one-under-par 69 Friday to take the 36-hole lead in the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Nicholas' late finish broke up a four-way deadlock Knudson, the first day leader, had set up by taking bogies on the fourth and 15th holes.

Nichols, a Louisville native Bear Bryant gave a football scholarship so he could play golf at Texas A&M, took the lead with a 5-foot birdie putt on the 16th green and protected his advantage with pars on the last two holes.

"A 10-foot putt at 15, however, was my best shot of the day and it was the boost I needed," said Nichols, the 1962 winner of the St. Petersburg Open.

Knudson blamed both his back nine bogies on bad chip shots and he had to settle for a 66-72—138 for the 7,100-yard, par 70 Memorial Park course. Nicklaus, playing his first year as pro, placed a 70 beside his first round 68, while Crampton posted his second straight 69. Hebert put a 71 with his first round 67.

Nichols, the 1956 Southwest Conference champion who turned pro in 1959, got two other birdies with putts of one and 6 feet but erased them by taking bogies when he overshot two greens and missed putts of 4 and 6 feet. Two of his three birdies and the 10-foot putt Nichols considered so vital came on par 3 holes.

"You can really gain an advantage on those par 3 holes on this course," he said.

Nichols currently is the 1962 PGA tour's 16th money winner with $8,874.67.

Knudson, a 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, had only one birdie to go with three bogies.

"The greens were much bumpier today and there was a pretty good wind," he said. "My main trouble, however, was that both times I chipped I got bogies."

Hebert had three bogies and two birdies. Nicklaus, an earlier finisher, got his par with two birdies and two bogies.

"I thought I would shoot a 69 today but didn't," said Hebert, a former PGA champion from Lafayette, La. "I'd say the course was a good two or three strokes tougher today."

Don Fairfield, Champaign, Ill., was the only major casualty as the field of 102 pros was cut to 94 for Saturday's third round. The cutoff was a 10-over par 150. Fairfield had a 73-78—151.

Tigers Place 1st In Natchitoches Meet

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Neville High School's thinclads blazed their way to another first place here Friday as they combined efforts to score 86½ points and take full control of the Natchitoches Relays.

The Tiger relay men took first place in all of the relay events.

Finishing in second place, 15½ points below the Tiger's score, was Ruston. The Bearcats scored 71 points during the afternoon.

Minden ended in third position with 58½; host Natchitoches in fourth with 43 and Jonesboro-Hodge in the last spot with 39 points.

Neville has swept all five track meets they have entered this season.

The Tigers will send their undefeated tracksters to the Twin City Meet Tuesday night at Neville stadium.

In the field events, two Tigers, Robert Payne and John Segars, took first places while their teammate, Joe Canal, tied with Jonesboro's Reeves for first in the pole vault with an 11 foot effort.

Payne turned in a leap of 20-4 feet to take the broad jump event, and Segars heaved the discus a total of 139-6¾ feet for another Tiger first.

A Ruston Bearcat, Parker, cleared the high jump bar at 5-11 to take the event.

Don Brant and Freddy Moses finished first and second respectively in the 220 dash with Brant breaking the tape with Moses on his heels. Brant's time for the event was a speedy 21.8.

The Tiger's relay team turned in a 1:29.5 time for the 880 relay; a 43.5 effort for the 440 relay and 3:30.5 in the mile relay. The mile relay team, running in their own relays, spanned the distance in 3:30.3, two tenths shorter than Friday's run.

A's Take 7-4 Victory Over White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Home runs by pitcher Jerry Walker and Norm Siebern featured a 12-hit attack Friday night, powering the Kansas City A's to a 7-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

A surprisingly large crowd of 12,246 braved cold and windy weather only to see Chicago's four-game winning streak come to a halt.

Sox southpaw Juan Pizarro, victorious in two previous starts, proved no puzzle to the A's.

Orioles Snuff Washington's Rally To Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm snuffed out a Washington rally in the bottom of the ninth inning as the Baltimore Orioles defeated Washington, 5-4 Friday night in the first night game played in the new D.C. Stadium.

Wilhelm relieved Dick Hall with the bases loaded and forced Chuck Hinton to hit a grounder back to the mound. Wilhelm's throw to the plate forced pinch runner Claude Osteen, but Ken Hamlin, another pinch runner, scored when Gus Triandos threw wildly to first trying for a double play. Wilhelm then fanned Danny O'Connell to end the game.

The Orioles scored an unearned run in the seventh inning on a throwing error by Pete Burnside, the Senators' starting pitcher, to tie the game at 3-3, and an error by Hinton in right field helped them to one of their runs in the eighth.

Hall was the winner in relief of Billy Hoeft, giving him a 5-0 record against the Senators for the past two seasons.

Derby's Candidates Will Receive Final Test Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby May 5 will get their final major test Saturday in the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the $35,000-added California Derby at Tanforan. In addition, a few remaining Derby eligibles in Florida tackle the $10,000 Hallandale Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County, disqualified from first place in the Flamingo at Hialeah, heads a field of 11 in the 1⅛ mile Wood. Willie Shoemaker, who rides Sunrise County in the Derby two weeks later, handles the 7-5 favorite.

California-bred Donut king, owned by Verne Winchell, George D. Widener's Endymion and Fred W. Hooper's Louisiana Derby winner, Admiral's Voyage, are other highly rated colts in the Wood. Robert Lehman's Prego, who got first money in the Flamingo when Sunrise County fouled out, is also a starter.

Neil's McCarthy's Royal Attack, who beat Admiral's Voyage in the Santa Anita Derby, heads a nine-horse line-up in the California Derby, also at 1⅛ miles. His main rival appears to be Lionel C. Sternberger's Doc Jocoy, who won the San Felipe Stakes. Eddie Burns rides Royal Attack.

Other Kentucky candidates in the coast Derby are King Ranch's Full Regalia and R. S. Howard's Imtrying.

Lucas Combs' Tom Turkey, who equalled Gulfstream's mile grass course record recently, is the favorite for the 7 furlongs of the Hallandal. His rider is Bill Hartack. Other Derby hopefuls named include Mrs. Herbert Herffs Obey, Park Deere Stable's Summer Savory and F.&B. Farm's Good Fight. Eleven were entered for the Hallandale.

Fourteen grass performers were entered for the $25,0000 Laurel Handicap, 1⅛ miles on the turf at Laurel, Md., with Preston Madden's T. V. Lark a big favorite. Last fall T. V. Lark upset horse-of-the-year, Kelso, in the Washington D.C. International at Laurel.

Rain softened the Laurel course, bringing out a large field, and if the turf is too yielding, T. V. Lark's status is doubtful. He has 127 pounds and must concede 10 to 23 pounds to his rivals. Hill-N-Dale Farm's Bronze Babu has 117, and goes as an entry with Polarity, 109. Another of four stable entries is Mrs. Henry Obre's pair of Call the Witness, 114, and Hunter's Rock, 112.

At Keeneland, eight were entered for the 7 furlongs of the Ben Ali Handicap. Top weight of 122 pounds in the $10,000 event is shared by Claiborne Farm's Bluescope and Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist. J. Graham Brown's Run for Nurse has 118 and Natjolee Stable's Cactus Tom 117.

Twelve were entered at Lincoln Downs for the $15,000 Lapan Memorial at 1 1-16 miles. Weiner and Resseguet's Orleans Doge, winner of the Louisiana Handicap, is top weighted with 124. Peter Fuller's Top Mikee is next with 119.

Lincoln ends its spring season, and Eddie Arcaro will present the trophy.

The $10,000 Spring Handicap at a mile drew a field of eight at Sportsman's Park. Gay Revoke, owned by Gomer Evans of Tulsa and winner of the Inaugural Handicap last week, carries top weight of 122 pounds. W. Hal Bishop's Salason has 114, and is an entry with Tin God, 112.

Memphis State Downs Maroons

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Memphis State walloped Mississippi State, Southeastern Conference western division leader, 23-8 Friday in the opening of a 2-game non-conference series.

Memphis State blasted four Maroon hurlers for 20 hits as right-hander Macon Lowe went the route, yielding up 12 hits.

Ten Mississippi errors coupled with 11 walks helped contribute to Memphis' one-sided victory.

Alexandria Lass Wins Tourney At Pinehurst

CLIFFORD ANN CREED of Alexandria, La. beams as she holds the trophy she received for winning the North-South Women's Golf Tournament in Pinehurst, North Carolina yesterday. Miss Creed defeated Mrs. Charles E. Wilson six and five in the final round of the championship. (AP Wirephoto)

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Clifford Ann Creed, a cool little physical education instructor from Alexandria, La., played virtually flawless golf Friday to overwhelm Mrs. Hele Sigel Wilson of Gladwyn, Pa., 6 and 4, in the 18-hole finals of the North and South Amateur Tournament.

The 23-year-old, 108-pound tiny terror saved the lead with a winning par 4 on the second hole and never lost it. She dropped only one hole and, despite double bogeys on the two par 3 holes they played, she finished the match even par, shooting the other 12 holes in 4 under.

Her victory margin was the largest for a final in 21 years.

Out-driven on eight of the 12 par 4 and 5 holes they played, Miss Creed compensated for the 41-year-old Pennsylvanian's advantage off the tee with superb iron play and putting.

Where Mrs. Wilson missed eight greens, Miss Creed missed only five, all on the front nine. The Louisiana girl required only 23 putts, one-putting seven of the 14 greens against Mrs. Wilson's 28 putts.

Miss Creed took the lead on the 6,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club with a fine chip and 6-foot par putt on the second hole after Mrs. Wilson, 1950 Curtiss Cup player, had missed the green and chipped 30 feet by the pin.

The end came on the par 5 14th where Miss Creed reached the green in two, sent her 55-foot approach putt just 3 feet by the hole and Mrs. Wilson, needing three to get down from the edge, conceded a winning birdie and the match.

Miss Creed, daughter of a golf professional, decided to drop out of school teaching for a year and concentrate on her golf. She won a couple of Florida winter circuit tournaments before coming here.

In the president's flight, consolation play for the first round losers, Mrs. Joseph Nesbitt of Greenwich, Conn., defeated Maureen Crum of Plant City, Fla., 3 and 2, for the championship.

GENE OLIVER

Oliver Smiles While Telling Of Bad Luck

By JOE REICHER

NEW YORK (AP)—There are not many who can lose $60,000 overnight and grin while telling about it later.

Gene Oliver was laughing Friday, at least on the outside, as he told how he hurt his arm in a high school football game the day before he was to receive a $60,000 bonus to sign with the Detroit Tigers. When the Tigers saw he couldn't throw, they tore up the contract.

"George Moriarty, the Tiger scout who had recommended me, asked me to work out with them anyway," said Oliver, now the No. 1 catcher and one of the leading hitters of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"The Tigers looked me over and turned me down. They were too engrossed with another fellow working out with me and signed him that day to a $50,000 bonus. His name was Al Kaline."

The double shock of losing the 60 grand and a big league opportunity disgusted the 18-year-old Oliver with baseball. He threw away his glove, determined to forget all about baseball.

"The whole thing made me sick," Gene recalled. "My folks sure could have used the money. They had five kids to feed and pop, who was earning about $40 a week, came down with arthritis. I took a job to help out."

That was in 1953. Three years later, Oliver was still at his job. But he couldn't get baseball out of his system. He still couldn't throw, however.

At the urging of his wife, Marilyn, Gene began to exercise the arm, using weights and pulleys. The arm slowly began to respond. Joe Monahan, a Cardinal scout who had followed Gene in his high school days, agreed to take a chance on him. The Cards gave him a $1,000 bonus to sign, figuring his hitting potential might offset his throwing handicap.

Oliver didn't see St Louis until three years later, in 1959. Although a catcher in high school, Gene played mostly in the outfield and at first base, in such minor league cities as Albany, Ardmore, Winston-Salem and Rochester. He just couldn't make the strong throws required of a catcher.

It wasn't until last year that Oliver was able to throw hard without feeling any pain. The Cards sent him to Portland where he not only handled himself capably behind the plate but walloped 36 home runs, drove in 100 runs and batted .302.

Handed the No. 1 Cardinal catching job this spring, Oliver has lived up to all expectations. He has drawn praise for his handling of the pitchers, and has hit safely in every game for a .409 batting average.

Baylor, Porkers Win In Tourney

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Baylor University won a berth alongside Northeast State in today's championship game of the third annual Easter Baseball Tournament by coming from behind to crush Northwestern 11-3 in the last of four contests here yesterday.

Arkansas rallied to edge Northeast 5-4 in the first of the two afternoon games, but the Indians had already clinched a championship post by winning their first three in a row.

Baylor and Northeast will bring identical 3-1 tourney records into their 3:30 p.m. championship clash.

The Indians smashed Baylor 9-5 in the second of two morning games yesterday to hand the Bears their only defeat.

Arkansas, which downed Northwestern 13-8 in the other morning game, will meet the Demons at 1:30 for consolation honors. The Razorbacks have a 2-2 tournament record and Northwestern is 0-4.

Baylor trailed Northwestern twice in yesterday's finale, but went ahead 5-3 in the fifth inning with a four - hit attack and never trailed from that point on. Three of the runs came on Audie Cox's circuit clout over the centerfield fence with two aboard.

The Bears turned the game into a route in the seventh when they ganged up on tiring Charley Johnson for six runs and the final 11-3 score. Johnson, who went all the way for Northwestern, walked in two runs that inning and Bear relief hurler Johnny Porter plated two more with a single past the shortstop.

The Demons led 1-0 after one inning and forged back in front 3-1 in the bottom of the third, after Baylor had momentarily tied the score.

Arkansas ended the Indians' win streak with a big rally too. The Porkers tallied four markers in the fourth inning to overcome a 4-1 Indian lead, then hung on behind the pitching of starter Delano Cotton to squeeze out the win.

A two - run homer over the fence in left - center by Mike Haynie accounted for two of the runs. The other two came in on single, an error and a throw to second on a steal play.

Northeast Starter Ed Quimby hit Jack Willock, who advanced on Darrell Williams single and scored when Williams stole second and the throw back to home was too late. Williams tallied after Tribe second baseman Eddie McGowan bobbled Gary Weaver's grounder.

Northeast broke a 1-1 first inning deadlock with three runs in the second. Quimby and McGowan tallied on Phil Petras sharp single to left and Petras raced in from first when John Paces' long fly to centerfield was dropped.

The Indians almost tied the game in the seventh. Petras rapped a Texas Leaguer to center, stole second and went to third on another long fly by Pace.

But Hog third baseman Marl Carter snared Bob Groves' sizzling liner to retire the side.

Cotton, the winner in the first afternoon tilt, gave up eight hits and fanned four in going the full seven innings.

Quimby allowed five runs on eight safeties before giving way to freshman Larry Bess in the final frame.

Porter, who came on for Rick Couey in the fifth inning of the last game of the day, was credited with the victory. Porter, an ex-Ruston High star, struck out four and gave up one hit. Johnson was tagged with 12 hits.

An all - tourney team and most valuable player will be announced after the second game today and the first and second place club will be given trophies.

Concentration Aids Mazeroski's Hitting

By MURRAY CHASS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bill Mazeroski's newly discovered power of concentration has led to more concentrated power, one of the major factors in the Pittsburgh Pirates' meteoric start this season.

The flashy fielding second baseman, who gained fame with his home run that won the 1960 World Series, has a .367 average in the first-place Pirates' eight-game undefeated streak. Of his 11 hits, six have been for extra bases—three home runs, two triples and one double. He also has eight runs batted in.

"This is my best start in the majors," Mazeroski said Friday as the Pirates rested before taking on the New York Mets this weekend. "I feel that I'm waiting for the pitches a lot better instead of hitting off my front foot. I'm not as anxious as I used to be. I concentrate more."

Mazeroski, who hit .265 and had 13 home runs last season, said he changed his batting style during spring training with the assistance of coach George Sisler. He explained what prompted the switch.

"I know I'm a better hitter than .250," he said. "It seems every year I hit around there. I figured that hitting off my front foot must be the reason. I talked it over with Mr. Sisler, and we decided to try it. I worked on it all spring. I hit .300 in exhibition games, and it was the best spring I ever had.

"I feel more power now. The balls I hit are hit a lot harder. I got my whole body in it instead of just my arms. I've still swung early a few times, though. I can feel myself doing it. The next time I just concentrate harder."

Mazeroski takes issue with anyone who says the Pirates are winning because they have been playing the National League's weaker teams — New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. Pittsburgh is two games away from tying the major league record for consecutive victories at the start of a season.

"We've been playing good enough ball to beat anyone in the league," he said. "We've been getting breaks. In this streak we could beat anybody."

What's the difference between last year's descent to sixth place and this year's start? Mazeroski said:

"Everything's coming easy now. We're making plays we didn't make last year. We're getting hits when we need them. The team has a lot more enthusiasm this year. Everybody wants to win. Maybe last year we did get a little lax. But now everyone is really trying harder."

Bulldog's Pace Is Medalist At LSU Golf Meet

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana State's golf team repeated as champions in the second annual LSU Invitational Golf Tournament completed Friday.

Louisiana Tech's Roy Pace wrested medalist honors from Howell Fraser of LSU in a sudden-death playoff.

Pace, Fraser and LSU's John Sample ended regulation play in a three-way tie with 142 for 36 holes. Pace and Fraser eliminated Sample on the third hole, and Pace won with a birdie on the fourth hole as Fraser took a par.

The Tigers, who copped the inaugural tourney last year, easily outdistanced the field with a four-man total of 578. Louisiana Tech was second at 593. Tulane third with 600, University of Southwestern Louisiana with 630, and Mississippi with a 631.

In freshman competition, the University of Southwestern Louisiana's two-man team of Buddy Short and Brian Hirsch took the championship with an aggregate score of 297, compared to LSU's 305. Short took medalist honors with a 147.

Gene Littler, the modest, soft-spoken golf pro, from San Diego, Calif., has had his ups and downs. He ad a successful year in 1955, then went into a slump. But his feat of winning five tour events in 1959 went comparatively unnoticed. He ranked ninth last year with winnings totaling $31,404.29.

Washington Lass Takes 1st Round Lead In Tourney

The 25-year-old blonde fired a one-under-par 35-34—69 in the $7,500, 54-hole event and said, "My wedge shots were really working today."

Close behind Miss Jessen was Jo Ann Prentice of Columbia, S. C., who toured the course in 35-35—70. Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., Patty Berg of Fort Myers and Marilyn Smith of Jupiter were tied at third with 71s.

Defending champion Micky Wright of San Diego, Calif., had a little putting trouble and shot a 74.

Marion Wallops Linville, 14-2; Host Mer Rouge

MARION (Special) — The Marion Panthers walloped the Linville Hornets, 14-2 here Friday and are scheduled to host Mer Rouge Thursday for a contest that will decide the District 7-C champion.

Both Marion and Mer Rouge are presently 6-1 in district play for the season.

Righthander Donald Reeves pitched a fine two-hit ball game Friday and failed to release an earned run.

The All-State pitcher also lead the Panther's hitting attack by batting three for four during the encounter.

He was supported in Marion's offensive by another Class C All-Stater, Bennett Taylor who belted a double and a triple while stepping up to the plate three times.

The Marion victory was also aided by catcher Elton Pardue's outstanding defensive playing.

Alexandria Lass Wins Tourney At Pinehurst

CLIFFORD ANN CREED of Alexandria, La. beams as she holds the trophy she received for winning the North-South Women's Golf Tournament in Pinehurst, North Carolina yesterday. Miss Creed defeated Mrs. Charles E. Wilson six and five in the final round of the championship. (AP Wirephoto)

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Clifford Ann Creed, a cool little physical education instructor from Alexandria, La., played virtually flawless golf Friday to overwhelm Mrs. Hele Sigel Wilson of Gladwyn, Pa., 6 and 4, in the 18-hole finals of the North and South Amateur Tournament.

The 23-year-old, 103-pound tiny terror saved the lead with a winning par 4 on the second hole and never lost it. She dropped only one hole and, despite double bogeys on the two par 3 holes they played, she finished the other 12 holes in 4 under.

Her victory margin was the largest for a final in 21 years. Out-driven on eight of the 12 par 4 and 5 holes they played, Miss Creed compensated for the 41-year-old Pennsylvanian's advantage off the tee with superb iron play and putting.

Where Mrs. Wilson missed eight greens, Miss Creed missed only five, all on the front nine. The Louisiana girl required only 23 putts, one-putting seven of the 14 greens against Mrs. Wilson's 28 putts.

Miss Creed took the lead on the 6,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club with a fine chip and 6-foot par putt on the second hole after Mrs. Wilson, 1950 Curtiss Cup player, had missed the green and chipped 30 feet by the pin.

The end came on the par 5 14th where Miss Creed reached the green in two, sent her 55-foot approach putt just 3 feet by the hole and Mrs. Wilson, needing three to get down from the edge, conceded a winning birdie and the match.

Miss Creed, daughter of a golf professional, decided to drop out of school teaching for a year and concentrate on her golf. She won a couple of Florida winter circuit tournaments before coming here.

In the president's flight, consolation play for the first round losers, Mrs. Joseph Nesbitt of Greenwich, Conn., defeated Maureen Crum of Plant City, Fla., 3 and 2, for the championship.

GENE OLIVER

Oliver Smiles While Telling Of Bad Luck

By JOE REICHER

NEW YORK (AP)—There are not many who can lose $60,000 overnight and grin while telling about it later.

Gene Oliver was laughing Friday, at least on the outside, as he told how he hurt his arm in a high school football game the day before he was to receive a $60,000 bonus to sign with the Detroit Tigers. When the Tigers saw he couldn't throw, they tore up the contract.

"George Moriarty, the Tiger scout who had recommended me, asked me to work out with them anyway," said Oliver, now the No. 1 catcher and one of the leading hitters of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"The Tigers looked me over and turned me down. They were too engrossed with another fellow working out with me and signed him that day to a $50,000 bonus. His name was Al Kaline."

The double shock of losing the 60 grand and a big league opportunity disgusted the 18-year-old Oliver with baseball. He threw away his glove, determined to forget all about baseball.

"The whole thing made me sick," Gene recalled. "My folks sure could have used the money. They had five kids to feed and pop, who was earning about $40 a week, came down with arthritis. I took a job to help out."

That was in 1953. Three years later, Oliver was still at his job. But he couldn't get baseball out of his system. He still couldn't throw, however.

At the urging of his wife, Marilyn, Gene began to exercise the arm, using weights and pulleys. The arm slowly began to respond. Joe Monahan, a Cardinal scout who had followed Gene in his high school days, agreed to take a chance on him. The Cards gave him a $1,000 bonus to sign, figuring his hitting potential might offset the throwing handicap.

Oliver didn't see St. Louis until three years later, in 1959. Although a catcher in high school, Gene played mostly in the outfield and at first base, in such minor league cities as Albany, Ardmore, Winston-Salem and Rochester. He just couldn't make the strong throws required of a catcher.

It wasn't until last year that Oliver was able to throw hard without feeling any pain. The Cards sent him to Portland where he not only handled himself capably behind the plate but walloped 36 home runs, drove in 100 runs and batted .302.

Handed the No. 1 Cardinal catching job this spring, Oliver has lived up to all expectations. He has drawn praise for his handling of the pitchers, and has hit safely in every game for a .409 batting average.

Baylor, Porkers Win In Tourney

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Baylor University won a berth alongside Northeast State in today's championship game of the third annual Easter Baseball Tournament by coming from behind to crush Northwestern 11-3 in the last of four contests here yesterday.

Arkansas rallied to edge Northeast 5-4 in the first of the two afternoon games, but the Indians had already clinched a championship post by winning their first three in a row.

Baylor and Northeast will bring identical 3-1 tourney records into their 3:30 p.m. championship clash.

The Indians smashed Baylor 9-5 in the second of two morning games yesterday to hand the Bears their only defeat.

Arkansas, which downed Northwestern 13-8 in the other morning game, will meet the Demons at 1:30 for consolation honors. The Razorbacks have a 2-2 tournament record and Northwestern is 0-4.

Baylor trailed Northwestern twice in yesterday's finale, but went ahead 5-3 in the fifth inning with a four - hit attack and never trailed from that point on. Three of the runs came on Audie Cox's circuit clout over the centerfield fence with two aboard.

The Bears turned the game into a route in the seventh when they ganged up on tiring Charley Johnson for six runs and the final 11-3 score. Johnson, who went all the way for Northwestern, walked in two runs that inning and Bear relief hurler Johnny Porter plated two more with a single past the shortstop.

The Demons led 1-0 after one inning and forged back in front 3-1 in the bottom of the third, after Baylor had momentarily tied the score.

Arkansas ended the Indians' win streak with a big rally too. The Porkers tallied four markers in the fourth inning to overcome a 4-1 Indian lead, then hung on behind the pitching of starter Delano Cotton to squeeze out the win.

A two - run homer over the fence in left - center by Mike Haynie accounted for two of the runs. The other two came in on single, an error and a throw to second on a steal play.

Northeast Starter Ed Quimby hit Jack Willock, who advanced on Darrell Williams single and scored when Williams stole second and the throw back to third was too late. Williams tallied after Tribe second baseman Eddie McGowan bobbled Gary Weaver's grounder.

Northeast broke a 1-1 first inning deadlock with three runs in the second. Quimby and McGowan tallied on Phil Petras sharp single to left and Petras raced in from first when John Paces' long fly to centerfield was dropped.

The Indians almost tied the game in the seventh. Petras rapped a Texas Leaguer to center, stole second and went to third on another long fly by Pace.

But Hog third baseman Marl Carter snared Bob Groves' sizzling liner to retire the side.

Cotton, the winner in the first afternoon tilt, gave up eight hits and fanned four in going the full seven innings.

Quimby allowed five runs on eight safeties before giving way to freshman Larry Bess in the final frame.

Soviet Berlin Policy Change Not Expected

BERLIN (UPI)—Western diplomats and the West Berlin press warned Friday that the recall of Marshal Ivan Koniev from East Germany probably does not mean a basic change in the Soviet Berlin policy.

"On the Communist stage, only the actors change," the West Berlin newspaper Morgenpost said. "The direction remains the same."

Koniev, one of the Red army's most brilliant tacticians in World War II, was sent to Berlin three days before the Communists built their wall dividing the city last August. He was recalled to Moscow Thursday and replaced by the man he had succeeded as commander of Soviet forces in East Germany, Col. Gen. Ivan Jakubovski.

Western diplomats said that although the change probably signals no shift in Moscow's hard line on Berlin, it might contribute to the relaxation of tension over Berlin.

Koniev's presence in East Germany had been taken to mean the Russians were prepared to oppose any Western attempt to knock down the city wall.

After his arrival, Soviet armor and infantry was deployed quickly to positions around the city to counter any Western move. Diplomats said Koniev's recall indicates the Russians expect the showdown over the city in the near future.

ETERNAL VANITY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hair grooming was an ancient vanity, extending to earliest times and practiced by most primitive people, notion historians report.

Wooden combs with teeth as delicate as pine needles were used in Rome 300 years before Julius Caesar was born. Horseshoe hairpins were used by women of the court in the days of the great Han dynasty in China. Belles of the Congo used pointed "chopsticks" that doubled as backscratchers.

DRESSING UP

Try remoulade dressing on fish or seafood salads. Blend ¼ teaspoon of red pepper sauce into ½ cup of mayonnaise. Chop 1 hard-cooked egg and reserve a spoonful for garnish. Add remainder to mayonnaise, along with ¼ cup of chili sauce, 2 tablespoons of frozen grapefruit juice concentrate, undiluted, and 2 teaspoons of horseradish. Makes 1 cup.

Pope Leads Services On Good Friday

VATICAN CITY (UPI) —Pope John XXIII led thousands of Roman Catholics in Good Friday services mourning the death of Christ. He walked barefoot to an altar to kiss a crucifix.

Bells were silent and altars were bare in the 500 churches in Rome and the Vatican as a sign of mourning for the crucifixion. The bells will peal out at midnight Saturday to herald Christ's resurrection, and Easter Sunday services will climax Holy Week.

But on Good Friday, no masses were said. It is the only day of the year without masses. Sacred images were draped in mourning purple, and the Sacred Host was missing from the altars, preserved in flower-banked altars of repose.

The 80-year old Pontiff, dressed in the papal mourning red cape, drove four miles from The Vatican to the Church of St. Paul's outside the walls for the Good Friday service. He did not bless the crowd as he does on other days of the year. The cardinals accompanying him were dressed in violet robes, which they wear only on Good Friday and upon the death of a pope.

The congregation was asked not to applaud the Pope's arrival as it usually does.

The ceremony in the church was not a mass. The Pope listened to a sermon by the papal preacher, the Rev. Ilarino Da Milano.

Then, at the climax of the ceremony, attendants removed the Pontiff's red cape and slippers and he walked barefoot to the altar to kiss the feet of a crucifix.

TAKES PILLS 'OVERDOSE'

Barbara Powers Out Of Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barbara Powers, 27, wife of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, was taken to a hospital Friday suffering from what police reported were the effects of an overdose of sleeping pills. She was later described as out of danger.

Powers accompanied her to the hospital.

The Powers have been living for several weeks at an apartment in suburban Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Powers was taken to the Alexandria hospital shortly after 3:30 a.m., then transferred to Georgetown University Hospital in Washington at 6:20 a.m.

The Alexandria hospital said she was treated there for medication reaction and Lt. Nelson Rickey of the District of Columbia Police said investigating officers were told Mrs. Powers had taken approximately 28 barbiturate tablets. He did not say who gave this information.

Dr. G. E. Schreiner, who is attending Mrs. Powers, said she is being treated for acute gastritis because it is known medication was available to her.

Powers was not available for comment and hospital officials declined to say what he told them of his wife's illness.

Powers, now 32, came into the news in May 1960 after his U2 plane was brought down while on a picture-making reconnaissance mission over the Soviet Union.

Convicted as a spy, he was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment but was freed last February in a deal involving the simultaneous release of Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy serving a 30-year sentence in this country.

The Central Intelligence Agency cleared Powers of any dereliction of duty and he was returned to his $30,000-a-year CIA job.

Mrs. Powers is the former Barbara Moore of Albany, Ga. The couple was married in 1954 and there are no children.

Mrs. Powers was living with her husband at his base in Turkey. She attended his trial in Moscow and most of the period of his imprisonment she spent at her mother's home in Milledgeville, Ga.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend told me he loved me and wanted to marry me. He said his wife was older than he was and he never loved her. He moved to Dallas and paid my way there so I could be near him while he waited for his divorce.

That was a year ago. Now I find out that two other women beside myself followed him there. One is a brunette about 24. And the other is a gray-headed woman in her fifties who even divorced her husband and brought her grown daughter along!

All this time he has been feeding us all the same line. His wife is not older than he is. She's a nice-looking blonde woman. Should I tell the other women he has made fools of us? (I feel kind of sorry for the old one.) I hate to hurt his wife by telling her, but I think she ought to know what a rat she married. I am going back home, but why should that liar get away with anything?

FOOLED

DEAR FOOLED: Tell the others. They'll get over the disappointment when they learn they've been part of a harem. And his wife should know, too. He's had his three strikes.

DEAR ABBY: I swear my wife has sleeping sickness. We both work to help pay off our house. She gets out of work before I do (half an hour) and falls asleep waiting for me. At supper time she is always the first one through, and she often lays her head on the table and falls asleep while waiting for me and the children to finish. When I finish, I clear the table, put the children to bed, and then I wake her up (at the table) so she can go to the couch and sleep some more while I watch TV. She sleeps on the couch until midnight, and then I wake her up so she can go to the bedroom, get into her nightclothes and go to sleep. She sleeps all night and wakes up at 7:00 a.m. The next day it's the same story over again. When we go anywhere, she falls asleep in her chair. Her mother and father both have sugar diabetes and take insulin daily. Could this have anything to do with it? My wife refuses to go to a doctor. I am worried.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your wife should see a doctor at once for a thorough check-up. Insist on it, and don't take "no" for an answer.

DEAR ABBY: My heart doesn't yearn for wall-to-wall carpeting and fancy clothes, but oh, Abby, how I would love to have my husband bring home some foolish little gift on some unspecial day. He's not a thoughtless guy, but when you have to "hint" it's no fun. He's a grand guy and a wonderful husband, and if he'd only do this little thing to let me know I am as special to him as he is to me, I'd be the happiest woman in the world.

SWEET SUE

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of News-Star.

RECORD DISTURBANCES

FAENZA, Italy (AP) — The Bendani Observatory in this central Italian town reported Friday its seismograph had picked up violent earth disturbances in central Asia.

The observatory said the disturbances — between 4,000 and 5,000 miles northeast of here—occurred over a two-hour period. The observatory said the disturbances could have been caused by earthquakes or nuclear bomb tests.

Pope Leads Services On Good Friday

VATICAN CITY (UPI) —Pope John XXIII led thousands of Roman Catholics in Good Friday services mourning the death of Christ. He walked barefoot to an altar to kiss a crucifix.

Bells were silent and altars were bare in the 500 churches in Rome and the Vatican as a sign of mourning for the crucifixion. The bells will peal out at midnight Saturday to herald Christ's resurrection, and Easter Sunday services will climax Holy Week.

But on Good Friday, no masses were said. It is the only day of the year without masses. Sacred images were draped in mourning purple, and the Sacred Host was missing from the altars, preserved in flower-banked altars of repose.

The 80-year old Pontiff, dressed in the papal mourning red cape, drove four miles from The Vatican to the Church of St. Paul's outside the walls for the Good Friday service. He did not bless the crowd as he does on other days of the year. The cardinals accompanying him were dressed in violet robes, which they wear only on Good Friday and upon the death of a pope.

The congregation was asked not to applaud the Pope's arrival as it usually does.

The ceremony in the church was not a mass. The Pope listened to a sermon by the papal preacher, the Rev. Ilarino Da Milano.

Then, at the climax of the ceremony, attendants removed the Pontiff's red cape and slippers and he walked barefoot to the altar to kiss the feet of a crucifix.

TAKES PILLS 'OVERDOSE'

Barbara Powers Out Of Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barbara Powers, 27, wife of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, was taken to a hospital Friday suffering from what police reported were the effects of an overdose of sleeping pills. She was later described as out of danger.

Powers accompanied her to the hospital.

The Powers have been living for several weeks at an apartment in suburban Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Powers was taken to the Alexandria hospital shortly after 3:30 a.m., then transferred to Georgetown University Hospital in Washington at 6:20 a.m.

The Alexandria hospital said she was treated there for medication reaction and Lt. Nelson Rickey of the District of Columbia Police said investigating offcers were told Mrs. Powers had taken approximately 28 barbiturate tablets. He did not say who gave this information.

Dr. G. E. Schreiner, who is attending Mrs. Powers, said she is being treated for acute gastritis because it is known medication was available to her.

Powers was not available for comment and hospital officials declined to say what he told them of his wife's illness.

Powers, now 32, came into the news in May 1960 after his U2 plane was brought down while on a picture-making reconnaissance mission over the Soviet Union.

Convicted as a spy, he was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment but was freed last February in a deal involving the simultaneous release of Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy serving a 30-year sentence in this country.

The Central Intelligence Agency cleared Powers of any dereliction of duty and he was returned to his $30,000-a-year CIA job.

Mrs. Powers is the former Barbara Moore of Albany, Ga. The couple was married in 1954 and there are no children.

Mrs. Powers was living with her husband at his base in Turkey. She attended his trial in Moscow and most of the period of his imprisonment she spent at her mother's home in Milledgeville, Ga.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend told me he loved me and wanted to marry me. He said his wife was older than he was and he never loved her. He moved to Dallas and paid my way there so I could be near him while he waited for his divorce.

That was a year ago. Now I find out that two other women beside myself followed him there. One is a brunette about 24. And the other is a gray-headed woman in her fifties who even divorced her husband and brought her grown daughter along!

All this time he has been feeding us all the same line. His wife is not older than he is. She's a nice-looking blonde woman. Should I tell the other women he has made fools of us? (I feel kind of sorry for the old one.) I hate to hurt his wife by telling her, but I think she ought to know what a rat she married. I am going back home, but why should that liar get away with anything?

FOOLED

DEAR FOOLED: Tell the others. They'll get over the disappointment when they learn they've been part of a harem. And his wife should know, too. He's had his three strikes.

DEAR ABBY: I swear my wife has sleeping sickness. We both work to help pay off our house. She gets out of work before I do (half an hour) and falls asleep waiting for me. At supper time she is always the first one through, and she often lays her head on the table and falls asleep while waiting for me and the children to finish. When I finish, I clear the table, put the children to bed, and then I wake her up (at the table) so she can go to the couch and sleep some more while I watch TV. She sleeps on the couch until midnight, and then I wake her up so she can go to the bedroom, get into her nightclothes and go to sleep. She sleeps all night and wakes up at 7:00 a.m. The next day it's the same story over again. When we go anywhere, she falls asleep in her chair. Her mother and father both have sugar diabetes and take insulin daily. Could this have anything to do with it? My wife refuses to go to a doctor. I am worried.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your wife should see a doctor at once for a thorough check-up. Insist on it, and don't take "no" for an answer.

DEAR ABBY: My heart doesn't yearn for wall-to-wall carpeting and fancy clothes, but oh, Abby, how I would love to have my husband bring home some foolish little gift on some unspecial day. He's not a thoughtless guy, but when you have to "hint" it's no fun. He's a grand guy and a wonderful husband, and if he'd only do this little thing to let me know I am as special to him as he is to me, I'd be the happiest woman in the world.

SWEET SUE

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of News-Star.

RECORD DISTURBANCES

FAENZA, Italy (AP) — The Bendani Observatory in this central Italian town reported Friday its seismograph had picked up violent earth disturbances in central Asia.

The observatory said the disturbances — between 4,000 and 5,000 miles northeast of here—occurred over a two-hour period. The observatory said the disturbances could have been caused by earthquakes or nuclear bomb tests.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

All women just hate to wash a floor mop. They sour and can accumulate more seemingly impossible dirt that you can't get out.

I made my wife the grandest mop from about 20 of her old discarded nylon stockings. I cut the tops and feet off the stockings and knotted them together in the center of each length.

My wife says this can be improved upon by stitching them to another stocking for a base, just as if one would line up a batch of two-foot rulers and stitch them across the 12 inch mark, using another stocking for the facing.

Fasten this mop of stickings to any mop handle that will hold inserts.

My wife says that she has never enjoyed a mop more as it doesn't sour, it is easily washed and most of all — it's so easy for her to wring. The nylon is lightweight (which she swears helps her aching back) and doesn't leave streaks on her floor. Nor do strings catch on the furniture.

As it costs nothing to make one, others might try it. I cannot seem to see for the life of me why somebody hasn't manufactured one on this order.

But for the price my wife spends on stockings each month, a mop of this order probably would break a man's budget.

CARL CAMPBELL

DEAR HELOISE:

I bought a rubber tip (the kind that fits on crutches and kitchen steel legs) from my dime store and put it on the top of my broom handle. It's grand. It keeps the broom from marking the wall when resting against it, and when I turn it upside-down to put in the closet, it doesn't fall.

GRACE W.

DEAR HELOISE:

We all have leaky hot water bottles at one time or another. I never found a use for them until my bright husband cut a big hole (pouch style) in the side of ours, hung it on a nail in our cleaning closet and used it for those oily dust cloths.

This prevents the wall from getting oily and also seems to keep the oil in the cloth. I always know where it is too . . . not on the floor where it usually had fallen off that nail.

MARGERY LIND

DEAR HELOISE:

I tried starching my throw rugs to keep them flat and they still wrinkled, curled and were a mess.

I finally took a paint brush, laid the small rugs on the dining room table that had been covered with paper and painted them with two coats of clear shellac, letting one coat dry before applying the other.

This has stiffened the fabric on the backs of the rugs and allows them to lie straight. One word of caution: Be sure they are dry before placing back on floor.

WILLIE FOSTER

DEAR HELOISE:

I have found that when I remove my window screens for cleaning or painting if I number them with a ball-point pen on the edge and number the window where they fit . . . I have no trouble getting the right screen in the correct opening immediately. Saves me lots of temper.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A good friend of mine needs help but she doesn't know it. She's a middle-aged widow, unbelievably naive but not stupid.

Mrs. X lives in a one-bedroom apartment with he son who is now 15 years old. The two of them share the bedroom. I casually mentioned it was about time her son had a little privacy. She replied "Oh Buddy is just a baby."

Now you and I both know, Ann, that a 15-year-old boy should not be sharing a bedroom with ANY female — mother, sister, maid or friend. Please print this letter. She reads your column every day. A FRIEND

Dear Friend: You are absolutely right and I hope the woman sees this. If she wants more information her doctor will gladly fill her in on the details.

DEAR READERS: The following letter is from a South African reader. It is a poignant reminder that human problems are the same the world over.

DEAR ANN: I am 23 and miserably married to a deadhead of 25. My family expected me to wed a man with social position if not money. I dated a young doctor steadily but we quarreled and I left for Johannesburg where I led a wild, carefree life. I got into financial trouble but was too proud to let my family know.

I left Johannesburg under a cloud and came here to Durban where I was determined to settle down. I met a very quiet chap who seemed intelligent and devoted. He paid my Johannesburg debts and I felt deeply obligated. Heaven knows why, but we were married in a civil ceremony.

Now I realize I made the biggest mistake of my life. We live in separate worlds. He is astonishingly limited in scope and interests and I am ashamed to introduce him to my family and former friends. I've tried to make this marriage work but the thought of having his child gives me the horrors. He's been decent to me and I can't just walk out but I know I'll never be happy with him. I need your advice.—THOROUGHLY CONFUSED

DEAR CONSUSED: Trouble is universal and so are the basic principles of decency.

You married this man. He may not be a red hot intellectual with a multiplicity of interests, but he has integrity and he's your husband. Stay with him and make the best of it. A girl with your temperament (and history) would probably do worse if she were free, not better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Maybe you will think this is petty but my husband and I would like an answer regardless.

Two weeks ago a new man came to work in my husband's department. Once we were the "new people" in town and we were very lonely. We invited the couple to dinner. Our home is being remodeled so we agreed to meet them at a lovely steakhouse.

We were surprised to find they had brought along their two children. We have children, too, but we left them at home, since this was to be an adult get-acquainted party—or so we thought.

Their kids took over the entire conversation and my husband was boiling. They ordered sirloin steak dinners and left three-fourths of the food on their plates. The bill was $32.

Were these people justified in bringing their children? Do you feel the parents should have allowed their youngsters to order expensive adult dinners? V AND L

Dear V and L: You should not criticize these people for bringing their children. They probably did not understand the invitation.

Allowing youngsters to take over the conversation is out of line, however. And so was the ordering bit. Every mother knows approximately how much food her children can consume. She should have ordered smaller cuts for them or divided one dinner in two.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CUTS OFF LAOS AID

U.S. Is Pressuring For Red Coalition

TOKYO (UPI) — If you think the United States is using pressure to force the only pro-Western political force in Laos into a coalition with the Communists, you're right.

Baffled? Well let's check all the facts from the beginning and things may not be quite so one sided.

Laos is a tiny country exhausted by civil war. In this tiny Southeast Asian nation today there are three basic groups, each represented by a well-known leader.

General Phoumi Nosavan is the strong man behind the Royal Lao government of Prince Boun Oum. Usually he and his supporters are called the right-wing faction.

Prince Souphanouvong, the so-called "Red Prince" of Laos, is leader of the Pathet Lao, the country's Communist movement.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, a former premier who probably will become premier of any proposed coalition government, is generally called a neutral.

The United States in the past has backed and supported the Royal Lao government and General Phoumi. Russia and Communist China have aided and supported the "Red Prince" and his Pathet Lao guerrillas.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, while supposedly "neutral," frequently is criticized for actions which appear to be "neutral toward the side of the Reds."

The Russians and the Americans are pushing for a coalition government which would include representatives from all three groups.

Advocates of the idea say that U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs W. Averell Harriman believes the Russians will help make the plan work.

Critics say the Russians may not de able to keep the Chinese Communists from creating trouble on their own.

Washington has clamped down harsh restrictions on aid which helps to keep General Phoumi and the Royal Lao government going. It has cut off all financial payments.

This action has made many Asians shaking their heads in amazement. But the highest American diplomats to visit or work in Laos insist that they want to build up, not destroy, the right-wing faction and its strongman, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

American diplomats claim the cards are not stacked against Phoumi as he claims. They say the bet is very carefully hedged.

The diplomats contend there is agreement by all three factions that their armies will not be integrated until after the coalition has been formed and the Geneva agreements on Laos are implemented. This would mean that General Phoumi's army would remain intact and fully equipped until the Communists call off their anti-government guerrillas.

Thus, American officials claim, if the Communists don't live up to their promises, the Geneva agreement is not in force and everybody is back where they started—no stronger, but no weaker, either.

American advocates of the plan claim that if the Geneva agreements work out, the pro-Western and neutralist forces will be by far the strongest in the coalition.

And, it must be noted, there is one thing on which general Phoumi and the Americans agree: That the Pathet Lao are not considered a big problem without their Communist buddies from neighboring North Viet Nam.

The Pathet Lao began with less than 1,300 part-time guerrillas and American supporters of the coalition plan expect it to get just as weak again if the Geneva agreements are honored.

As of today, the United States has not written off Laos. The United States does not want to lose there.

LOSES FIRST CASE

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A Cornell University law school student lost his first case Friday.

Representing himself, Neil Abelson of Ithaca sought to collect $5.95 for a shirt he claimed the laundry had damaged.

City Judge Edward J. Casey found no cause for action and dismissed the case.

36th Birthday Of Queen Today

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II will be 36 years old Saturday but the celebration, as usual, will take place June 2.

The reason is that Britain wants good weather for the ceremonial events of the celebration and June is a month for good weather in England, if there ever is any.

The queen will spend Saturday at Windsor Castle with her husband, three children, mother, sister and brother-in-law.

NINE DIE IN QUAK

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The paper Expreso said Friday nine persons died in Wednesday's earthquake. It said four miners perished at Quiruvilca and that five shepherds in that region have been missing since the quake struck.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

In training young children to do for themselves, authorities stress the importance of waiting until the child is ready. Not to push self-feeding and toilet training is advice that has come to have practical meaning for Mrs. J. E. D. She writes:

"DEAR MRS. ELDRED:

"I read and enjoy your column every day and have found for myself that the less you push a child the more successful you will be. My 17-month-old son had little idea what a spoon was for until recently.

"To him it was a toy, so I offered it only occasionally. But this morning it was with real delight that I watched him eat his breakfast with no help from me. He holds his own cup and glass well and acts as though he enjoys every bit of his food.

"I am toilet training him now just as leisurely as I did my first boy with whom I had very good luck. I intend to train my 4-month old daughter the same way and hope for equally good results.

ONLY PROBLEM

"My only problem is with my older boy who will be 4 in May. When he was 2½, I read in your column about the psychological effect of continuing to keep diapers on an older child at night. You said this was an invitation to wet the bed.

"So I left the diaper off and he stayed dry. He would get up in the middle of the night, turn the light on and go to the bath room by himself. But now he has started wetting the bed again every night, after all this time.

"He takes a nap in the day time only if he gets up early or if going to be up late at night. But he will not stay dry at this time, either. He is a little jealous of his brother, and will do exactly what we tell the younger child not to do. They play well together and are very loving boys."

ANSWER

This is a temporary lapse which many children have after they seem to be completely trained. Undoubtedly, he is conscious of your effort to train his brother and desirous of getting a little of that attention for himself.

His good habits have gone unnoticed in your preoccupation with the younger children so he is unconsciously saying, "I'm here, too." This is also true of his other misbehavior.

Give him extra attention, responsibilities and praise for doing the things of which he is capable as the eldest, and he will not feel the necessity to compete in baby ways. Have him help you change his bed, and tell him that you know he can stay dry and you expect him to try a little harder.

Ask him to help you by setting a good example for his brother. Big boys have to help little boys to learn.

He will respond well to this type of appeal. Thank you for telling me of your success in teaching independence.

All women just hate to wash a floor mop. They sour and can accumulate more seemingly impossible dirt that you can't get out.

I made my wife the grandest mop from about 20 of her old discarded nylon stockings. I cut the tops and feet off the stockings and knotted them together in the center of each length.

My wife says this can be improved upon by stitching them to another stocking for a base, just as if one would line up a batch of two-foot rulers and stitch them across the 12 inch mark, using another stocking for the facing.

Fasten this mop of stickings to any mop handle that will hold inserts.

My wife says that she has never enjoyed a mop more as it doesn't sour, it is easily washed and most of all — it's so easy for her to wring. The nylon is lightweight (which she swears helps her aching back) and doesn't leave streaks on her floor. Nor do strings catch on the furniture.

As it costs nothing to make one, others might try it. I cannot seem to see for the life of me why somebody hasn't manufactured one on this order.

But for the price my wife spends on stockings each month, a mop of this order probably would break a man's budget.

CARL CAMPBELL

DEAR HELOISE:

I bought a rubber tip (the kind that fits on crutches and kitchen stool legs) from my dime store and put it on the top of my broom handle. It's grand. It keeps the broom from marking the wall when resting against it, and when I turn it upside-down to put in the closet, it doesn't fall.

GRACE W.

DEAR HELOISE:

We all have leaky hot water bottles at one time or another. I never found a use for them until my bright husband cut a big hole (pouch style) in the side of ours, hung it on a nail in our cleaning closet and used it for those oily dust cloths.

This prevents the wall from getting oily and also seems to keep the oil in the cloth. I always know where it is too . . . not on the floor where it usually had fallen off that nail.

MARGERY LIND

DEAR HELOISE:

I tried starching my throw rugs to keep them flat and they still wrinkled, curled and were a mess.

I finally took a paint brush, laid the small rugs on the dining room table that had been covered with paper and painted them with two coats of clear shellac, letting one coat dry before applying the other.

This has stiffened the fabric on the backs of the rugs and allows them to lie straight. One word of caution: Be sure they are dry before placing back on floor.

WILLIE FOSTER

DEAR HELOISE:

I have found that when I remove my window screens for cleaning or painting if I number them with a ball-point pen on the edge and number the window where they fit . . . I have no trouble getting the right screen in the correct opening immediately. Saves me lots of temper.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

In training young children to do for themselves, authorities stress the importance of waiting until the child is ready. Not to push self-feeding and toilet training is advice that has come to have practical meaning for Mrs. J. E. D. She writes:

"DEAR MRS. ELDRED:

"I read and enjoy your column every day and have found for myself that the less you push a child the more successful you will be. My 17-month-old son had little idea what a spoon was for until recently.

"To him it was a toy, so I offered it only occasionally. But this morning it was with real delight that I watched him eat his breakfast with no help from me. He holds his own cup and glass well and acts as though he enjoys every bit of his food.

"I am toilet training him now just as leisurely as I did my first boy with whom I had very good luck. I intend to train my 4-month old daughter the same way and hope for equally good results.

ONLY PROBLEM

"My only problem is with my older boy who will be 4 in May. When he was 2½, I read in your column about the psychological effect of continuing to keep diapers on an older child at night. You said this was an invitation to wet the bed.

"So I left the diaper off and he stayed dry. He would get up in the middle of the night, turn the light on and go to the bath room by himself. But now he has started wetting the bed again every night, after all this time.

"He takes a nap in the day time only if he gets up early or if going to be up late at night. But he will not stay dry at this time, either. He is a little jealous of his brother, and will do exactly what we tell the younger child not to do. They play well together and are very loving boys."

ANSWER

This is a temporary lapse which many children have after they seem to be completely trained. Undoubtedly, he is conscious of your effort to train his brother and desirous of getting a little of that attention for himself.

His good habits have gone unnoticed in your preoccupation with the younger children so he is unconsciously saying, "I'm here, too." This is also true of his other misbehavior.

Give him extra attention, responsibilities and praise for doing the things of which he is capable as the eldest, and he will not feel the necessity to compete in baby ways. Have him help you change his bed, and tell him that you know he can stay dry and you expect him to try a little harder.

Ask him to help you by setting a good example for his brother. Big boys have to help little boys to learn.

He will respond well to this type of appeal. Thank you for telling me of your success in teaching independence.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A good friend of mine needs help but she doesn't know it. She's a middle-aged widow, unbelievably naive but not stupid.

Mrs. X lives in a one-bedroom apartment with he son who is now 15 years old. The two of them share the bedroom. I casually mentioned it was about time her son had a little privacy. She replied "Oh Buddy is just a baby."

Now you and I both know, Ann, that a 15-year-old boy should not be sharing a bedroom with ANY female — mother, sister, maid or friend. Please print this letter. She reads your column every day. A FRIEND

Dear Friend: You are absolutely right and I hope the woman sees this. If she wants more information her doctor will gladly fill her in on the details.

DEAR READERS: The following letter is from a South African reader. It is a poignant reminder that human problems are the same the world over.

DEAR ANN: I am 23 and miserably married to a deadhead of 25. My family expected me to wed a man with social position if not money. I dated a young doctor steadily but we quarreled and I left for Johannesburg where I led a wild, carefree life. I got into financial trouble but was too proud to let my family know.

I left Johannesburg under a cloud and came here to Durban where I was determined to settle down. I met a very quiet chap who seemed intelligent and devoted. He paid my Johannesburg debts and I felt deeply obligated. Heaven knows why, but we were married in a civil ceremony.

Now I realize I made the biggest mistake of my life. We live in separate worlds. He is astonishingly limited in scope and interests and I am ashamed to introduce him to my family and former friends. I've tried to make this marriage work but the thought of having his child gives me the horrors. He's been decent to me and I can't just walk out but I know I'll never be happy with him. I need your advice.—THOROUGHLY CONFUSED

DEAR CONSUSED: Trouble is universal and so are the basic principles of decency.

You married this man. He may not be a red hot intellectual with a multiplicity of interests, but he has integrity and he's your husband. Stay with him and make the best of it. A girl with your temperament (and history) would probably do worse if she were free, not better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Maybe you will think this is petty but my husband and I would like an answer regardless.

Two weeks ago a new man came to work in my husband's department. Once we were the "new people" in town and we were very lonely. We invited the couple to dinner. Our home is being remodeled so we agreed to meet them at a lovely steakhouse.

We were surprised to find they had brought along their two children. We have children, too, but we left them at home, since this was to be an adult get-acquainted party—or so we thought.

Their kids took over the entire conversation and my husband was boiling. They ordered sirloin steak dinners and left three-fourths of the food on their plates. The bill was $32.

Were these people justified in bringing their children? Do you feel the parents should have allowed their youngsters to order expensive adult dinners? V AND L

Dear V and L: You should not criticize these people for bringing their children. They probably did not understand the invitation.

Allowing youngsters to take over the conversation is out of line, however. And so was the ordering bit. Every mother knows approximately how much food her children can consume. She should have ordered smaller cuts for them or divided one dinner in two.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CUTS OFF LAOS AID

U.S. Is Pressuring For Red Coalition

TOKYO (UPI) — If you think the United States is using pressure to force the only pro-Western political force in Laos into a coalition with the Communists, you're right.

Baffled? Well let's check all the facts from the beginning and things may not be quite so one sided.

Laos is a tiny country exhausted by civil war. In this tiny Southeast Asian nation today there are three basic groups, each represented by a well-known leader.

General Phoumi Nosavan is the strong man behind the Royal Lao government of Prince Boun Oum. Usually he and his supporters are called the right-wing faction.

Prince Souphanouvong, the so-called "Red Prince" of Laos, is leader of the Pathet Lao, the country's Communist movement.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, a former premier who probably will become premier of any proposed coalition government, is generally called a neutral.

The United States in the past has backed and supported the Royal Lao government and General Phoumi. Russia and Communist China have aided and supported the "Red Prince" and his Pathet Lao guerrillas.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, while supposedly "neutral," frequently is criticized for actions which appear to be "neutral toward the side of the Reds."

The Russians and the Americans are pushing for a coalition government which would include representatives from all three groups.

Advocates of the idea say that U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs W. Averell Harriman believes the Russians will help make the plan work.

Critics say the Russians may not de able to keep the Chinese Communists from creating trouble on their own.

Washington has clamped down harsh restrictions on aid which helps to keep General Phoumi and the Royal Lao government going. It has cut off all financial payments.

This action has made many Asians shaking their heads in amazement. But the highest American diplomats to visit or work in Laos insist that they want to build up, not destroy, the right-wing faction and its strongman, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

American diplomats claim the cards are not stacked against Phoumi as he claims. They say the bet is very carefully hedged.

The diplomats contend there is agreement by all three factions that their armies will not be integrated until after the coalition has been formed and the Geneva agreements on Laos are implemented. This would mean that General Phoumi's army would remain intact and fully equipped until the Communists call off their anti-government guerrillas.

Thus, American officials claim, if the Communists don't live up to their promises, the Geneva agreement is not in force and everybody is back where they started—no stronger, but no weaker, either.

American advocates of the plan claim that if the Geneva agreements work out, the pro-Western and neutralist forces will be by far the strongest in the coalition.

And, it must be noted, there is one thing on which general Phoumi and the Americans agree: That the Pathet Lao are not considered a big problem without their Communist buddies from neighboring North Viet Nam.

The Pathet Lao began with less than 1,500 part-time guerrillas and American supporters of the coalition plan expect it to get just as weak again if the Geneva agreements are honored.

As of today, the United States has not written off Laos. The United States does not want to lose there.

36th Birthday Of Queen Today

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II will be 36 years old Saturday but the celebration, as usual, will take place June 2.

The reason is that Britain wants good weather for the ceremonial events of the celebration and June is a month for good weather in England, if there ever is any.

The queen will spend Saturday at Windsor Castle with her husband, three children, mother, sister and brother-in-law.

NINE DIE IN QUAK

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Two red lights suddenly glowed from the mizzen mast of the U.S.S. Hartford at 2 a.m. April 24, 1862.

The signal sent a fleet of 17 Federal warships steaming up the Mississippi River in three divisions toward Confederate Forts Jackson and St. Phillip, twin star-shaped works commanding the channel at Plaquemine Bend.

Target: New Orleans, largest and richest city in the Confederacy.

These forts and 14 defending vessels, mostly converted steamers and tug boats, mustered 166 guns, capable of throwing 7,139 pounds of projectiles in one round. The Federal ships could fire 20,224 pounds, or nearly three times as much.

In the days of wooden ships the rule of thumb was that a fleet attacking forts must have five guns for every defending gun.

All that, the old man who posted himself in the shrouds of the Hartford, his flagship, knew when he ordered the red lanterns hoisted. But he ordered the signal anyway.

He had taken all precautions. His ships were protected by a sort of chain armor — anchor chains draped over the sides and over lapped.

On April 18 — Good Friday— his mortar boats — schooners carrying the snubnosed guns and towed by steamers — had started pounding the forts. In the five days before the fleet moved against the forst these mortars had fired 16,800 shells. Jackson and St. Philip were damaged but far from silenced.

The old man—David Glasgow Farragut—was flying his flat of independent command. He was a captain in the U.S. Navy in which he had served since he was ine years old. At 62 he was hungry for victory.

The period of "softening up" the forts was over. Now was the time for fighting, the square-jawed old salt reasoned, the time to shoot it out, gun to gun, ship to fort.

At 3:40 a.m., he swung his fleet through a 60-foot channel blasted out of a barrier below the forts by two daring Federal gunboats a few nights before.

The battle for New Orleans was on.

The Confederates lighted brush piles on the shores and fire rafts. The scene was as light as day when the ships and forts opened fire.

The Hartford, trying to dodge a fire raft—scows piled high with wood soaked in pitch and resin and pushed by tugs — went around under the guns of Fort St. Philip. The fire raft lodged against the side of the Hartford and sent it burning.

"Don't flinch from that fire, boys," Farragut, now down on the deck, shouted. "There's a hotter fire than that waiting for those who don't do their duty. Give that rascally little tug a shot."

Gunners leaped to their pieces and sank the tug with two shots. An alert clerk uncapped three shells, dropped them over the side on the raft. The explosion sank the raft and the fire hissed out.

The Hartford backed off the shoal and into the general fight again.

Most of the outgunned Confederate ships ran when the fleet came through the boom, blocking the channel, but three answered the challenge.

One, a seven-gun ex-reverue cutter, was caught in the fire of three Union gunboats and sank almost before she got into action.

The Confederate ram, Manassas, a turtle-back ship armored with half an inch of iron, rammed one of the Union ships ineffectually but was caught in the fire from the forts which mistook her for a disabled Federal vessel. Her captain ran her ashore, punctured and afire.

The Governor Moore, unarmored sidewheel steamer, carrying two guns, one on the bow, one on the stern and commanded by Capt. Beverley Kennon, took in after the 10-gun Varuna, the fastest ship in the Federal fleet.

The Moore suddenly appeared out of the darkness and fired on the Varuna, which replied, scattering dead and wounded over the steamboat's deck.

By now the Moore was too close to the Varuna to use her forward gun. Kennon fired one shot through his own prow and followed it with another through the hole made by the first. That shot knocked out the Varuna's pivot gun. The Moore then rammed her, backed off and rammed again, firing each time through the hole in the prow.

That was enough for the Varuna. She made for the shore and sank.

Kennon, flushed by this victory, ordered the Moore downstream to attack the rest of the Federal fleet. But his helmsman had no stomach for ambitious schemes.

"I'll be damned if I stand here and be murdered," he shouted and headed the ship for the shore.

Five Union ships polished off the Moore. Of 93 in her crew, 57 were killed and 17 wounded.

That about wound up the fight.

By dawn the Federal fleet had run past the forts.

Farragut halted his ships and took stock. He had lost the Varuna and three light gunboats; 37 killed, 147 wounded.

The Confederate flotilla was destroyed, New Orleans lay helpless up-river for the taking and Farragut headed in that direction.

He made short work of the Confederate batteries at Chalmette, where Andrew Jackson had licked the British 47 years before.

George Washington Cable, not quite 18 then and after the war a popular novelist, described the scene as Farragut's fleet reached New Orleans.

"Ah, me, I see them now as they come slowly around Slaughterhouse Point into full view, silent, grim and terrible; black with men, heavy with deadly portent; the long banished stars and stripes flying against the frowning sky. . .

The crowds on the levee howled and screamed with rage . . .

"Betrayed, betrayed," the crowd chanted, Cable reported.

Julia LeGrand, a New Orleans society woman with a sharp pen, thought so, too.

". . . these people (the Federals) can do nothing without gunboats," she wrote in her diary, and added, somewhat wistfully:

"We should have had gunboats if the Government had been efficent, wise or earnest."

Her government had tried to have gunboats. The Louisiana and the Mississippi, two ironclads, were nearly completed. The Louisiana, her engines too weak to propel her, had been anchored at Fort St. Philip and used as a floating battery. She was fired by her crew after the battle. The Mississippi, under construction above New Orleans, was set afire when the end came and floated down the river, a flaming reminder to the city of too little and too late.

On April 28, the garrisons of Forts Jackson and St. Philip, now isolated, mutinied and surrendered to Cmdr. David Porter, who had been left behind by Farragut with the mortar fleet.

On the 29th, Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler landed with 18,000 troops and occupied New Orleans.

Confederate Maj. Gen Mansfield Lovell, a former New York City street commissioner charged with the defense of the city, marched his 3,000 troops away to fight another day.

The youngest general officer in the Civil War was Galusha Pennypacker of Pennsylvania. He was a brevet major general of volunteers and was too young to vote at the end of the war.

ALLOW YOUR CHILD TO DEVELOP

Young mothers might be interested in a recent translation of the work of a Russian physician, Petr F. Lesgaft (1837 - 1909) by the National Institutes of Health. Dr. Lesgaft spent considerable time studying the development of the child. In 1884, long before the revolution, he made the following comments:

"The whole secret of family education consists in giving the child an opportunity to develop himself, to do everything himself; the adults must not fuss with him and should not do anything for his personal comfort and pleasure but should always, from the first day of life, treat the first day of life, treat the child as a human being, with full recognition of his personality and of the fact that this personality must remain inviolate."

This advice may not be acceptable to all modern authorities but it contains many sound suggestions. Dr. Lesgaft did not believe that the infant was a miniature edition of the adult. He gave the baby credit for being an individual with a personality of his own an dfelt he should be given the opportunity to develop himself.

These are seeds that ought to be sown for good mental health by encouraging independence and feelings of security.

Many children in large families are reared in this way. The parents are too busy to devote time to each child. This means the youngsters must find their own resources.

The younger children are cared for an older sister or brother, who treats the little ones as human beings without fussing over them. This is what is meant by the saying, "Children in large families are not spoiled." The only child gets more attention and affection but also runs the risk of being overprotected and not allowed to work out his own destiny.

The wise parent, regardless of the size of the family, will concentrate on one child as the occasion arises, help him over the more difficult and trying periods.

HIVES AFTER BATHING

R. C. writes: For six years I have not been able to take a bath without becoming covered with hives. They itch a lot and last about an hour. I have tried different kinds and colors of soaps as well as oils and water softeners but nothing has helped. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

This may be a physical allergy to heat or cold or sensitivity to an ingredient in the soap or bath towel. Skin tests would be needed to uncover the culprit.

PNEUMONIA BOUTS

J. D. writes: I had double pneumonia in the spring. How often can I expect to get it again?

There are no limits to the number of pneumonia bouts a person can have. But one attack is par for the course.

E. P. writes: When the blood pressure is low, what symptoms does the person have?

REPLY

Usually none. Now and then fatigue or dizziness is present. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on hypotension.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Two red lights suddenly glowed from the mizzen mast of the U.S.S. Hartford at 2 a.m. April 24, 1862.

The signal sent a fleet of 17 Federal warships steaming up the Mississippi River in three divisions toward Confederate Forts Jackson and St. Phillip, twin star-shaped works commanding the channel at Plaquemine Bend.

Target: New Orleans, largest and richest city in the Confederacy.

These forts and 14 defending vessels, mostly converted steamers and tug boats, mustered 166 guns, capable of throwing 7,139 pounds of projectiles in one round. The Federal ships could fire 20,224 pounds, or nearly three times as much.

In the days of wooden ships the rule of thumb was that a fleet attacking forts must have five guns for every defending gun.

All that, the old man who posted himself in the shrouds of the Hartford, his flagship, knew when he ordered the red lanterns hoisted. But he ordered the signal anyway.

He had taken all precautions. His ships were protected by a sort of chain armor — anchor chains draped over the sides and over lapped.

On April 18 — Good Friday— his mortar boats — schooners carrying the snubnosed guns and towed by steamers — had started pounding the forts. In the five days before the fleet moved against the forst these mortars had fired 16,800 shells. Jackson and St. Philip were damaged but far from silenced.

The old man—David Glasgow Farragut—was flying his flat of independent command. He was a captain in the U.S. Navy in which he had served since he was ine years old. At 62 he was hungry for victory.

The period of "softening up" the forts was over. Now was the time for fighting, the square-jawed old salt reasoned, the time to shoot it out, gun to gun, ship to fort.

At 3:40 a.m., he swung his fleet through a 60-foot channel blasted out of a barrier below the forts by two daring Federal gunboats a few nights before.

The battle for New Orleans was on.

The Confederates lighted brush piles on the shores and fire rafts. The scene was as light as day when the ships and forts opened fire.

The Hartford, trying to dodge a fire raft—scows piled high with wood soaked in pitch and resin and pushed by tugs — went around under the guns of Fort St. Philip. The fire raft lodged against the side of the Hartford and sent it burning.

"Don't flinch from that fire, boys," Farragut, now down on the deck, shouted. "There's a hotter fire than that waiting for those who don't do their duty. Give that rascally little tug a shot."

Gunners leaped to their pieces and sank the tug with two shots. An alert clerk uncapped three shells, dropped them over the side on the raft. The explosion sank the raft and the fire hissed out.

The Hartford backed off the shoal and into the general fight again.

Most of the outgunned Confederate ships ran when the fleet came through the boom, blocking the channel, but three answered the challenge.

One, a seven-gun ex-revenue cutter, was caught in the fire of three Union gunboats and sank almost before she got into action.

The Confederate ram, Manassas, a turtle-back ship armored with half an inch of iron, rammed one of the Union ships ineffectually but was caught in the fire from the forts which mistook her for a disabled Federal vessel. Her captain ran her ashore, punctured and afire.

The Governor Moore, unarmored sidewheel steamer, carrying two guns, one on the bow, one on the stern and commanded by Capt. Beverley Kennon, took in after the 10-gun Varuna, the fastest ship in the Federal fleet.

The Moore suddenly appeared out of the darkness and fired on the Varuna, which replied, scattering dead and wounded over the steamboat's deck.

By now the Moore was too close to the Varuna to use her forward gun. Kennon fired one shot through his own prow and followed it with another through the hole made by the first. That shot knocked out the Varuna's pivot gun. The Moore then rammed her, backed off and rammed again, firing each time through the hole in the prow.

That was enough for the Varuna. She made for the shore and sank.

Kennon, flushed by this victory, ordered the Moore downstream to attack the rest of the Federal fleet. But his helmsman had no stomach for ambitious schemes.

"I'll be damned if I stand here and be murdered," he shouted and headed the ship for the shore.

Five Union ships polished off the Moore. Of 93 in her crew, 57 were killed and 17 wounded.

That about wound up the fight.

By dawn the Federal fleet had run past the forts.

Farragut halted his ships and took stock. He had lost the Varuna and three light gunboats; 37 killed, 147 wounded.

The Confederate flotilla was destroyed, New Orleans lay helpless up-river for the taking and Farragut headed in that direction.

He made short work of the Confederate batteries at Chalmette, where Andrew Jackson had licked the British 47 years before.

George Washington Cable, not quite 18 then and after the war a popular novelist, described the scene as Farragut's fleet reached New Orleans.

"Ah, me, I see them now as they come slowly around Slaughterhouse Point into full view, silent, grim and terrible; black with men, heavy with deadly portent; the long banished stars and stripes flying against the frowning sky. . .

The crowds on the levee howled and screamed with rage . . .

"Betrayed, betrayed," the crowd chanted, Cable reported.

Julia LeGrand, a New Orleans society woman with a sharp pen, thought so, too.

". . . these people (the Federals) can do nothing without gunboats," she wrote in her diary, and added, somewhat wistfully: "We should have had gunboats if the Government had been efficent, wise or earnest."

Her government had tried to have gunboats. The Louisiana and the Mississippi, two ironclads, were nearly completed. The Louisiana, her engines too weak to propel her, had been anchored at Fort St. Philip and used as a floating battery. She was fired by her crew after the battle. The Mississippi, under construction above New Orleans, was set afire when the end came and floated down the river, a flaming reminder to the city of too little and too late.

On April 28, the garrisons of Forts Jackson and St. Philip, now isolated, mutinied and surrendered to Cmdr. David Porter, who had been left behind by Farragut with the mortar fleet.

On the 29th, Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler landed with 18,000 troops and occupied New Orleans.

Confederate Maj. Gen Mansfield Lovell, a former New York City street commissioner charged with the defense of the city, marched his 3,000 troops away to fight another day.

The youngest general officer in the Civil War was Galusha Pennypacker of Pennsylvania. He was a brevet major general of volunteers and was too young to vote at the end of the war.

Army Is Upheld In Speech Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., said Friday it was appropriate for the Army to investigate a controversial speech delivered by Maj. Arch E. Roberts, ex-aide to Maj. Gen. Edwin W. Walker, before the Daughters of the American Revolution.

At the same time, chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities issued a statement praising Los Angeles Mayor Samuel E. Yorty, accused by Roberts of having a "Communist background."

Walter said the committee's files and records show that Yorty, a former congressman, "does not have a Communist background and has been one of the most effective fighters against internal communism in this country."

Shortly before Walter's statement was issued, the DAR shouted approval of a resolution vigorously protesting the Army's suspension of Roberts. The major now at Ft. Lee, Va., was suspended pending an investigation of his off-the-cuff speech Thursday.

The DAR also called for a congressional inquiry into what its resolution called the Army's "arbitrary exercise of power" in suspending Roberts.

Thurmond, prime mover in the current Senate investigation of alleged military muzzling, expressed doubt that the special preparedness subcommittee would want to look into the case "unless it appears that the news reports on Maj. Roberts are in substantial error."

Like the Army, Thurmond said all he knew about Roberts' remarks was what he had read and heard in the news media. For this reason, he said, he was withholding judgment pending the Army's report.

Army Secretary Elvis Stahr, returning to Washington from a Far East trip, declined comment on the case until he had studied it. Upon his arrival he apparently was briefed by Lt. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, Army vice chief of staff.

Stahr did say that Roberts' remarks about G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, sounded "fantastic." Roberts had told the DAR delegates that Williams, now in Africa, had "leftist leanings."

At his Fort Lee home, Roberts said he believed his suspension by the Army was "a little hasty and ill advised." He said he welcomed an investigation and wanted a chance to present "my side of the story."

Roberts said in his speech that his charges against Yort were based on an affidavit he said was submitted to the House Committee on Un-American Activities by Arthur Kent, described by Roberts as a member of the Communist party from 1932 to 1937.

Famed Dance Team Twin In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Rosie Dolly, 69, surviving twin in the famed Dolly sisters team who danced to Broadway fame early in the century, was found unconscious Friday in the bedroom of her Park Avenue apartment. Police said she apparently had taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

At Roosevelt Hospital, her condition was listed as poor.

The Dolly sisters got their start in vaudeville in 1909. Two years later, they appeared in the Ziegfeld Follies. There followed a long list of starring roles in musical comedy.

Rosie retired from the stage in 1927. Her sister, Jennie, hanged herself in Hollywood in 1941.

Rosie, born Roszika Dolly, was for many years as prominent offstage as on because of her spectacular mode of life.

Her first husband, whom she divorced in 1921, was Jean Schwartz, a musical comedy composer. He was succeeded by Mortimer B. Davis Jr., son of a British multimillionaire.

In 1928, during one of her frequent visits to Europe Rosie claimed to have pyramided a $4 investment into $400,000 at Monte Carlo, playing her favorite number 17 at roulette. She said her sister's winnings were even higher.

When Rosie and Davis were divorced in 1931, she reportedly received a $750,000 fortune in jewels, plus $18,000 a year.

The next year, Rosie was married to Irving Netcher, son of a department store owner. The ceremony was performed at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel by the late Mayor James J. Walker.

Netcher died in 1953 at the age of 52.

IN MORGUE

Woman Believed Dead Found Alive

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI)—A 65-year-old woman, pronounced dead during an operation, was found still alive three hours later in a morgue, Orange County Coroner Dr. Raymond Brandt said Friday.

However, the woman, Mrs. Vera Whitehead, 65, of Costa Mesa, died early Friday — about 10 hours later at Hoag Presbyterian Hospital while undergoing completion of heart surgery.

"She was clinically dead," Brandt told a press conference on Friday. "The low temperature at which Mrs. Whitehead was kept was what sustained the thread of life, but she couldn't have lived anyway."

Brandt defended the three doctors who declared Mrs. Vera Whitehead dead during the initial heart surgery Thursday at Orange County Hospital, 10 miles north of here. He declined to identify them but said "they all were perfectly qualified."

"These doctors," he said, "detected no heart beat, no pulse, no blood pressure, no respiration. She was clinically dead."

Brandt said Mrs. Whitehead, a widow with no known survivors who lived alone in a house trailer, was admitted to Orange County Hospital Thursday morning complaining of abdominal pains. A diagnosis and tests showed she was suffering from a ruptured aeorta, the main artery in the diaphram below the heart, Dr. Brandt said.

Late Thursday in the midst of the initial operation a team of three doctors pronounced the woman dead when, according to Brandt, they "believed she had slipped beyond the point of life."

Gilbert Seal and Dick Sheets of the Westcliff Mortuary of Costa Mesa were called by the county coroner's office to remove the body from the refrigerated morgue. After returning the shrouded form of the woman to the mortuary, Seal decided to take a look at Mrs. Whitehead.

"I walked over there to look at her face," Seal, operator of an ambulance service, said. "I pulled down the sheet and saw her lips moving."

Seal summoned Dr. Robert Richards, a pathologist, to "come here quick!"

Dr. Richards confirmed life, Seal said, noting "fluttering lips, swallowing, respiration and reflexes of the hand."

Seal called an ambulance while one of the other men applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the woman.

Mrs. Whitehead was rushed to Hoag Presbyterian Hospital where doctors resumed the heart surgery.

The surgery was completed, and Mrs. Whitehead was given several units of blood and then placed in an ice blanket to maintain a low body temperature. However, she later succumbed.

Dr. Brandt said doctors "investigated extensively" the second time to make certain the woman was dead.

"It was a high risk operation," Dr. Brandt said. "The case was rare, but not unheard of."

U.S. Follows Two Policies On Disarming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has two firm policies on armaments: Get more of them, and get rid of them.

At the moment, the odds are running about $260 against 3½ cents in favor of the former policy.

The $260 is about what every American man, woman and child would pay toward defense in the next fiscal year under a House Appropriations Committee recommendation. The 3.5 cents is roughly what the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) is asking, per capita.

This story is about the disarmers, whose work is not as impractical as it might sound.

There is a theory that if east and west disarmed in equal proportion, the balance of power would remain unchanged, but the taxes would be lower. The assignment of ACDA is to pursue every ironclad-safe possibility in this direction.

U.S. officials who work on disarmament now for the first time are beginning to think of it as a career.

They have a career service, the arms control and disarmament agency, with a staff of about 110. It is an independent agency with its own budget, but under guidance of the State Department.

They have their own jargon, speaking rather clubishly of "proliferation," "detection," "identifi- and "sampling."

And they have a 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva which may well go on for years.

"Proliferation" is shorthand for the spread of nuclear weapons to more countries. "Detection" is the ability to tell that a "seismic event" or "bang" has occurred in the Soviet Union. "Identification" is the problem of figuring out whether it was an earthquake or a nuclear blast.

The disarmament agency has set up permanent offices for its more than 20 staff members now at Geneva.

When delegates to the conference are asked how long they expect to stay, they are likely to reply by recalling that one of their number became a father three times during the last Geneva talks—the unsuccessful 1958-62 three-power conference on nuclear testing.

The 17-nation conference, which began March 14, has also failed to reach agreement on a test ban, but has now settled down for a long session on general disarmament.

The same problem which defeated the test talks — inspection against cheating—also hangs over the general disarmament talks and will come to a head there. In addition, the conference will work on proposals to ease tensions short of disarmament, such as advance notification of military maneuvers and agreement not to transfer nuclear weapons to "have not" nations.

The problem today is how to deal with several hundred missiles aimed at a country. Tomorrow's problem will be how to break anti-missile defenses. Following that there will be new attempts to build impenetrable defenses, and then new attempts to defeat those.

DAR Chapter Hits Speech By Roberts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leaders of the Los Angeles chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution protested Friday what they termed an unfounded attack on Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

In a speech before the national DAR in Washington, D.C., Thursday, Army Maj. Arch E. Roberts accused the mayor of having "a communist background." The Army suspended Roberts Thursday night pending an investigation.

In a telegram to Mrs. Gordon L. Mann, regent of the Los Angeles chapter now in Washington, nine members of the Los Angeles DAR board of governors said: "We urge you to protest on the part of our chapter and present a motion that the DAR disassociate itself from such statements. Such attacks are un-American in their condemnation without trial or research of an American who founded the Un-American Activities Committee to fight communism in the California State Assembly, who has fought as an officer of his country in time of war on the staff of Gen. (Douglas) MacArthur."

WITH FAMILY, FRIENDS

Kennedy Takes Cruise On Yacht

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy spent an hour and a half cruising on Lake Worth Friday with family and friends aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz.

The President, catching up on his mail and resting in the Florida sun during a 10-day Easter vacation was described as enjoying the best of health.

With the President for a lazy ride on Lake Worth between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were Mrs. Kennedy and his father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

Other guests included Mrs. Sargent Shriver, who is the President's sister, Eunice; and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Rosenbloom. Rosenbloom is the owner of the Baltimore Colts professional football team. The Kennedy house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York, also were aboard.

Kennedy conferred Friday morning with his naval aide, Capt. Tazewell Shepard Jr., and devoted some time to personal mail with his secretary, Evelyn Lincoln. He made a few announcements and released a scientists' report on human behavior.

Assistant press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher commented on Kennedy's health when a newsman recalled that questions about the President's back came up a few days ago. At the time it was noted Kennedy had thrown out only one baseball, instead of the usual two, on opening day in Washington, and had used an elevator to board a submarine at Norfolk, Va., last Friday.

"All I can say is that the President is in the best of health," Hatcher said.

There was no evidence to the contrary as Kennedy settled down to his Easter vacation with the First Lady and their children.

Kennedy visited his father, who is convalescing from a stroke, twice Thursday. The President is spending the Easter holidays with Mrs. Kennedy, the youngsters and the Spaldings at the beachfront home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul.

Through Hatcher, the President announced the resignation of Philip H. Coombs as assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs.

He made public also the retirement of four envoys—Edward J. Sparks, 55, ambassador to Uruguay; H. Freeman Matthews, 63, ambassador to Austria; Elbert G. Mathews, 52, ambassador to Liberia, and Edward Page Jr., 57, minister to Bulgaria. No reasons were given.

Hatcher said Kennedy had received a telegram of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chidester of Salt Lake City, parents of a Reservist who faced court-martial at Ft. Lewis, Wash., before the President intervened. Chidester was slated for trial as the result of a letter he wrote to Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, criticizing Kennedy. The President called off the court-martial.

To questions about Kennedy's reaction to an attack by Republican congressional leaders on his actions in the steel price controversy, Hatcher cited the reply of Democratic leaders. They contended Kennedy acted "promptly, energetically and successfully to protect the public interest.

Anti-Castro Organization Is Announced

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Organization of an anti-Castro military movement headed by Col. Ramon Barquin was formally announced Friday.

The movement, reports about which had been circulating for several days, is nonpolitical, said a committee of three designated to represent it in Miami.

The organization is still unnamed. "It may remain without a name since it is a military affair, not a political one," said Jose Aleman.

Named to the committee with Aleman were Juan Adler and Ignacio Mendoza.

"Col. Barquin was commissioned from inside Cuba to organize and head the campaign," Mendoza reported.

"We are operating in Cuba now," he added, referring to underground activity. "But we are just starting to organize."

Reports of men already training under the campaign are premature, Mendoza said. "In any event, military aspects of the movement will not be given publicity."

Some men who fought under Maj. Hubert Matos, former commander of Cuba's Camaguey Province in the Castro regime and now in the Isle of Pines prison, are included in the movement, Mendoza reported.

Adler and Mendoza belong to the People's Revolutionary Movement—MRP, one of the strongest anti-Castro groups not affiliated with the Cuban revolutionary council. But Mendoza said MRP had nothing to do with the new movement.

Barquin, former Cuban army officer, is operating a military school in Puerto Rico.

Ousted Czech Official Gets Prison Term

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Rudolf Barak, ousted deputy premier and interior minister, was sentenced Friday to 15 years in prison on embezzlement charges. The official news agency CTK said Barak used money from state funds to buy goods in capitalist nations.

Barak was found guilty by a military court of embezzling foreign currency from the state in 1960-61, the agency said.

In addition to making purchases in capitalist countries, it said, he used the money to buy art works, especially paintings, and to pay for trips to his family members.

Barak had hidden some of the money in Prague and elsewhere, the agency said, and planned to continue his activities with it. But the money was found and confiscated, the agency said.

The news agency's account of the sentencing did not say how much money was involved in the alleged embezzlement.

Barak was ousted from the Communist party and stripped of his government post early in February. He was succeeded by Jan Pillar as interior minister on Feb. 9.

CTK said Barak's secretary, Vlastimir Jenis, got 10 years in prison; two Interior Ministry officials, Jiri Ondracek and Jiri Soucek, were sentenced to three years and a suspended 10-month jail term, respectively.

The Communist party recently accused Barak, 54, of "gross misuse of his government functions and unlawful operations with government money."

Czechoslovakia Communist chief, Antonin Novotny, announced after Barak's arrest that Barak tried to grab power in Czechoslovakia.

This count apparently was dropped since it could have been regarded as high treason, for which there is still capital punishment in Czechoslovakia.

10,000 Britons Hold Anti-Atom Bomb Marching

By RONALD THOMSON

ALDERMASTON, England (AP)—More than 10,000 Britons suffled in a column three miles long Friday night on an Easter antinuclear march mirrored in several countries on the European Continent.

The Britons, mostly teen-agers, embarked in a blare of jazz on a 50-mile, four-day trek to London from the gates of Britain's H-bomb factory at Aldermaston.

After three overnight stops they are due to assemble in Hyde Park—probably reinforced by thousands more sympathizers who didn't fancy marching — for a mass rally protesting retention of nuclear weapons by East and West.

In Denmark, about 3,000 ban-the-bomb demonstrators left Holback on a 40-mile march to Copenhagen. In West Germany, organizers said 17 separate antinuclear marches, aimed at converging on eight cities, will get under way Saturday.

Vice President Is Mentioned In Estes Case

DALLAS (UPI) — Billy Sol Estes, the broke and indicted boy wonder of west Texas agriculture, said he could stop an FBI investigation by telephoning Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, a witness testified at a court of inquiry Friday.

"I don't know whether he did or did not but the FBI went right ahead and he was arrested and in jail two days later," the witness, Frank Cain, said. Cain is a lawyer for Pacific Finance Corp.

Dr. James T. Ralph, former assistant U.S. agriculture secretary, testified that Estes pressed expensive suits and a pair of $100 alligator shoes upon him in a Dallas store but he neither accepted the clothes as gifts nor bought them with his own money.

Estes, 37, once controlled businesses estimated to have been worth a gross of $150 million. His businesses are now in receivership and he is out of jail on federal fraud charges in $100,000 bond.

"Without the grain business and the cotton deals, my house of cards will be destroyed," Cain said Estes once told him.

Ralph was supposed to have been the star witness Friday at a court of inquiry in Dallas called by Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. But Cain turned out to be the star witness.

Rayville Youth Struck By Car

RAYVILLE (Special)—A 4-year-old Rayville boy is reportedly resting well in a Monroe hospital after being struck by a car near his home four miles southeast of here at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Charles Greer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Greer, was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Fannie Quimby of Rayville as he was playing with a wagon, according to a spokesman for the Richmond Parish sheriff's department.

The officer said that Mrs. Quimby requested an alcohol test and that it proved negative.

The cause of the accident had not been revealed Friday night but was under investigation.

KNOE Changes Radio Frequency

Radio station KNOE Friday changed its kilocycles form 1390 to 540 and the changeover was termed "another milestone" in the growth of the station by James A. Noe, owner of the station.

The change was made at 5:40 p.m. and climaxed seven years of activity by the station to procure the new frequency. It will give KNOE a much wider broadcast area, Noe said.

Famed Dance Team Twin In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Rosie Dolly, 69, surviving twin in the famed Dolly sisters team who danced to Broadway fame early in the century, was found unconscious Friday in the bedroom of her Park Avenue apartment. Police said she apparently had taken an overdose of sleeping pills.

At Roosevelt Hospital, her condition was listed as poor.

The Dolly sisters got their start in vaudeville in 1909. Two years later, they appeared in the Ziegfeld Follies. There followed a long list of starring roles in musical comedy.

Rosie retired from the stage in 1927. Her sister, Jennie, hanged herself in Hollywood in 1941.

Rosie, born Roszika Dolly, was for many years as prominent offstage as on because of her spectacular mode of life.

Her first husband, whom she divorced in 1921, was Jean Schwartz, a musical comedy composer. He was succeeded by Mortimer B. Davis Jr., son of a British multimillionaire.

In 1928, during one of her frequent visits to Europe Rosie claimed to have pyramided a $4 investment into $400,000 at Monte Carlo, playing her favorite number 17 at roulette. She said her sister's winnings were even higher.

When Rosie and Davis were divorced in 1931, she reportedly received a $750,000 fortune in jewels, plus $18,000 a year.

The next year, Rosie was married to Irving Netcher, son of a department store owner. The ceremony was performed at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel by the late Mayor James J. Walker.

Netcher died in 1953 at the age of 52.

IN MORGUE

Woman Believed Dead Found Alive

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI)—A 65-year-old woman, pronounced dead during an operation, was found still alive three hours later in a morgue, Orange County Coroner Dr. Raymond Brandt said Friday.

However, the woman, Mrs. Vera Whitehead, 65, of Costa Mesa, died early Friday — about 10 hours later at Hoag Presbyterian Hospital while undergoing completion of heart surgery.

"She was clinically dead," Brandt told a press conference on Friday. "The low temperature at which Mrs. Whitehead was kept was what sustained the thread of life, but she couldn't have lived anyway."

Brandt defended the three doctors who declared Mrs. Vera Whitehead dead during the initial heart surgery Thursday at Orange County Hospital, 10 miles north of here. He declined to identify them but said "they all were perfectly qualified."

"These doctors," he said, "detected no heart beat, no pulse, no blood pressure, no respiration. She was clinically dead."

Brandt said Mrs. Whitehead, a widow with no known survivors who lived alone in a house trailer, was admitted to Orange County Hospital Thursday morning complaining of abdominal pains. A diagnosis and tests showed she was suffering from a ruptured aeorta, the main artery in the diaphram below the heart, Dr. Brandt said.

Late Thursday in the midst of the initial operation a team of three doctors pronounced the woman dead when, according to Brandt, they "believed she had slipped beyond the point of life."

Gilbert Seal and Dick Sheets of the Westcliff Mortuary of Costa Mesa were called by the county coroner's office to remove the body from the refrigerated morgue. After returning the shrouded form of the woman to the mortuary, Seal decided to take a look at Mrs. Whitehead.

"I walked over there to look at her face," Seal, operator of an ambulance service, said. "I pulled down the sheet and saw her lips moving."

Seal summoned Dr. Robert Richards, a pathologist, to "come here quick!"

Dr. Richards confirmed life, Seal said, noting "fluttering lips, swallowing, respiration and reflexes of the hand."

Seal called an ambulance while one of the other men applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the woman.

Mrs. Whitehead was rushed to Hoag Presbyterian Hospital where doctors resumed the heart urgery.

The surgery was completed, and Mrs. Whitehead was given several units of blood and then placed in an ice blanket to maintain a low body temperature. However, she later succumbed.

Dr. Brandt said doctors "investigated extensively" the second time to make certain the woman was dead.

"It was a high risk operation," Dr. Brandt said. "The case was rare, but not unheard of."

U.S. Follows Two Policies On Disarming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has two firm policies on armaments: Get more of them, and get rid of them.

At the moment, the odds are running about $260 against 3½ cents in favor of the former policy.

The $260 is about what every American man, woman and child would pay toward defense in the next fiscal year under a House Appropriations Committee recommendation. The 3.5 cents is roughly what the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA) is asking, per capita.

This story is about the disarmers, whose work is not as impractical as it might sound.

There is a theory that if east and west disarmed in equal proportion, the balance of power would remain unchanged, but the taxes would be lower. The assignment of ACDA is to pursue every ironclad-safe possibility in this direction.

U.S. officials who work on disarmament now for the first time are beginning to think of it as a career.

They have a career service, the arms control and disarmament agency, with a staff of about 110. It is an independent agency with its own budget, but under guidance of the State Department.

They have their own jargon, speaking rather clubishly of "proliferation," "detection," "identification" and "sampling."

And they have a 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva which may well go on for years.

"Proliferation" is shorthand for the spread of nuclear weapons to more countries. "Detection" is the ability to tell that a "seismic event" or "bang" has occurred in the Soviet Union. "Identification" is the problem of figuring out whether it was an earthquake or a nuclear blast.

The disarmament agency has set up permanent offices for its more than 20 staff members now at Geneva.

DAR Chapter Hits Speech By Roberts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Leaders of the Los Angeles chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution protested Friday what they termed an unfounded attack on Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

In a speech before the national DAR in Washington, D.C., Thursday, Army Maj. Arch E. Roberts accused the mayor of having "a communist background." The Army suspended Roberts Thursday night pending an investigation.

In a telegram to Mrs. Gordon L. Mann, regent of the Los Angeles chapter now in Washington, nine members of the Los Angeles DAR board of governors said: "We urge you to protest on the part of our chapter and present a motion that the DAR disassociate itself from such statements. Such attacks are un-American in their condemnation without trial or research of an American who founded the Un-American Activities Committee to fight communism in the California State Assembly, who has fought as an officer of his country in time of war on the staff of Gen. (Douglas) MacArthur."

WITH FAMILY, FRIENDS

Kennedy Takes Cruise On Yacht

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy spent an hour and a half cruising on Lake Worth Friday with family and friends aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz.

The President, catching up on his mail and resting in the Florida sun during a 10-day Easter vacation was described as enjoying the best of health.

With the President for a lazy ride on Lake Worth between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were Mrs. Kennedy and his father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

Other guests included Mrs. Sargent Shriver, who is the President's sister, Eunice; and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Rosenbloom. Rosenbloom is the owner of the Baltimore Colts professional football team. The Kennedy house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York, also were aboard.

Kennedy conferred Friday morning with his naval aide, Capt. Tazewell Shepard Jr., and devoted some time to personal mail with his secretary, Evelyn Lincoln. He made a few announcements and released a scientists' report on human behavior.

Assistant press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher commented on Kennedy's health when a newsman recalled that questions about the President's back came up a few days ago. At the time it was noted Kennedy had thrown out only one baseball, instead of the usual two, on opening day in Washington, and had used an elevator to board a submarine at Norfolk, Va., last Friday.

"All I can say is that the President is in the best of health," Hatcher said.

There was no evidence to the contrary as Kennedy settled down to his Easter vacation with the First Lady and their children.

Kennedy visited his father, who is convalescing from a stroke, twice Thursday. The President is spending the Easter holidays with Mrs. Kennedy, the youngsters and the Spaldings at the beachfront home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul.

Through Hatcher, the President announced the resignation of Philip H. Coombs as assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs.

He made public also the retirement of four envoys—Edward J. Sparks, 55, ambassador to Uruguay; H. Freeman Matthews, 63, ambassador to Austria; Elbert G. Mathews, 52, ambassador to Liberia, and Edward Page Jr., 57, minister to Bulgaria. No reasons were given.

Hatcher said Kennedy had received a telegram of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chidester of Salt Lake City, parents of a Reservist who faced court-martial at Ft. Lewis, Wash., before the President intervened. Chidester was slated for trial as the result of a letter he wrote to Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, criticizing Kennedy. The President called off the court-martial.

To questions about Kennedy's reaction to an attack by Republican congressional leaders on his actions in the steel price controversy, Hatcher cited the reply of Democratic leaders. They contended Kennedy acted "promptly, energetically and successfully to protect the public interest.

Rayville Youth Struck By Car

RAYVILLE (Special)—A 4-year-old Rayville boy is reportedly resting well in a Monroe hospital after being struck by a car near his home four miles southeast of here at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Charles Greer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Greer, was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Fannie Quimby of Rayville as he was playing with a wagon, according to a spokesman for the Richmond Parish sheriff's department.

The officer said that Mrs. Quimby requested an alcohol test and that it proved negative.

The cause of the accident had not been revealed Friday night but was under investigation.

KNOE Changes Radio Frequency

Radio station KNOE Friday changed its kilocycles form 1390 to 540 and the changeover was termed "another milestone" in the growth of the station by James A. Noe, owner of the station.

The change was made at 5:40 p.m. and climaxed seven years of activity by the station to procure the new frequency. It will give KNOE a much wider broadcast area, Noe said.

West Carroll's Beauty Named

OAK GROVE (Special)—Mary Lois Sanchez was named Miss West Carroll Parish Friday night in a beauty pageant held here. She was selected over five others and will participate in the Miss Louisiana Contest at Lake Providence in July.

First runner-up in the event was Linday Costello, while Shirley May placed third.

Judges were Mrs. Lou Fleeman, Jack Gates and Jim Moody.

DUE TO THE rapid growth and expansion of our organization we must hire another salesman!
THE MAN we are looking for must have a pleasing personality, he must be neat, he must be at least 24 years of age, he should have a good education, (Of course, we realize that education isn't everything but of our present sales force of 7 men, 3 are college graduates, 2 have 3 years of college, 1 man has 2 years of college and the other has 1 year of college, so you can see why we feel that we have an above average sales force.), but most of all, he must be ambitious—he wants to get started right now on a bigger job and a bigger paycheck.
EVEN if he's had no experience at all in the automotive sales field, we will be glad to train him and he will make good money while he's in training!
WE FEEL that our offer is as good if not better than any other type of sales work! Our compensation plan is one of the best to be found anywhere and working conditions are excellent.

Voice Of Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

Among the many letters I have received on the subject of Elizabeth Taylor's Roman adventures is one from a reader who is inclined to blame the whole unfortunate situation on the press, and I must straighten her out on this grips even though I am powerless to do much about the others. Mrs. John Clarke writes:

"I was interested in your recent remark about the pay of teachers and the State Dept. tours. As one of the heavily-taxed citizens of this country I am getting pretty fed up with the government and its whole concept of foreign aid. I wonder if the strong emphasis on the rather insignificiant Liz Taylor antic in the general scheme of things isn't an attempt by the press to cover up the real problem in this country—that of the over - taxed and extremely dissatisfied citizen. Perhaps they think if they feed peasants a steady diet of Liz Taylor, Marilyn Monroe, Grace Kelly, etc., we'll be so interested and overwhelmed by their looks we won't mind at all that we are being asked to sacrifice everything in the name of freedom, while the rich get richer and the poor get poorer . . ."

MRS. CLARKE, I CAN ASSURE you that the press didn't cook up any scheme for Elizabeth Taylor to shed her husband and pay unusual attention to another man. Now, can you seriously imagine the editors or publishers of the nation getting together at a conference and deciding that if only Elizabeth Taylor would kick up enough fuss it would take the public's attention off taxes? Not really. The editors and publishers of this country are busy competing with each other for circulation, advertising and prestige, and if you read the editorial pages you will find they frequently disagree with each other and with the government on important issues.

Assuming they did want to keep Elizabeth Taylor in the headlines, can you picture Miss Taylor going along with the plan? Can you imagine her booting her husband out of her Rome villa and out of her life, and posing for pictures kissing Richard Burton (a married man with two children) to please the press of the United States?

No, Mrs. Clarke, O don't think we can link Liz Taylor with income taxes. She is a pampered, strong - willed young woman, and whatever she does, she does because that's what she wants. When she does something sensational, the newspapers print it because that's what the public wants. The citizens may disapprove of her, but they want to know all about her. In the great scheme of things, she is not as important as nuclear testing, but she is more interesting to more people, and that's why you see her name and her picture in the newspapers so frequently.

RECALL IF YOU PLEASE the day that Lt. Col. John Glenn came to New York for a ticker tape parade and a city welcome. Liz Taylor wasn't on the front pages that day; all the newspapers wanted to display was this fine, decent, family - loving, God-fearing man who had orbited the earth three times. His only competition was the tragic crash of a jet plane that took more than 90 lives, but the newspapers didn't plan it that way. They had their hands full covering John Glenn and his admirable family and the other astronauts, and they didn't arrange a plane crash to divert attention from this splendid hero. But the plane crash happened, and they had to cover it because it was news. Bad news, but big news, and no paper could ignore it. I think if you could look into the heart of most newspaper editors, Mrs. Clarke, you would find more integrity than you dreamed existed.

The indignant correspondent is, I think, on firmer ground when she complains that "they have the gall to have someone like the Shah of Iran with his wife reeking with jewels come over here and ask the hard - pressed American people to contribute to their country. Why don't they make some sacrifices themselves — pawn their jewels, that would be a couple of million they could contribute to the needs of their country."

HERE I THINK YOU HAVE more of a point, Mrs. Clarke. But did you not see the photographs of Americans cheering the Shah and his wife as they rode up Broadway in the ticker - tape parade? The newspapers didn't ask those citizens to toss confetti at the Shah and Farah Diba; they turned out of their own accord, and the newspapers merely reported what happened. The Iranians are an attractive photogenic couple, and it is fast becoming my personal opinion that if you are attractive enough you can get by with anything.

I have received hundreds of letters excoriating Elizabeth Taylor because she has been divorced twice, widowed once (hardly her fault) and is about to be divorced again. But even your letter, Mrs. Clarke, didn't mention that the Shah of Iran has divorced two wives and is currently accompanied by his third, yet he was received at the White House by our devoutly religious President and Mrs. Kennedy, our equally religious Mayor Wagner and his wife, and other respectable people in high places. To my way of thinking, three divorces aren't any worse than two divorces, but I am frequently guilty of being logical, so I am also frequently guilty of condemning the law of political expediency.

I think I am largely on your side, Mrs. Clarke, except when you accuse the newspapers of arranging scandals and flim-flam to divert the thinking public. You are wrong there, Mrs. Clarke; if it weren't for the newspapers you wouldn't know what to gripe about.

Anding Won't Seek 2 Offices

Charles B. Anding, a member of the Ouachita Parish School Board and candidate for the West Monroe City Council, yesterday said he will not seek re-election to the School Board.

Anding, manager of Ironworkers Local No. 710, was appointed by Gov. Jimmie Davis to the School Board.

He said, "I could legally hold both offices, but I don't believe in dual office holding. If I should be defeated for alderman, then I might consider making the race for the regular school board term, but it is doubtful that I would make the school board race even then." His term on the School Board expires December 31.

Pigeon Record Claimed In Area

NATCHEZ, Miss. (Special) — A new record has been claimed for a racing pigeon which flew 600 miles from Natchez to Savannah, Ga., in 12 hours and 39 minutes.

The pigeon was released by Edward Bonham. Fifty-two other birds were released simultaneously by Bonham.

The winner, an 8-month old bronze head racing pigeon, averaged 48-miles-per-hour, according to officials of the Savannah, Ga., Racing Pigeon Club. The bird is owned by George Davis of Savannah.

Appeals Court Will Rule On Meredith Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Declaring the case ought to be decided without delay, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement Friday an appeal by James H. Meredith, a 28-year-old Negro, for an injunction admitting him to the all-white University of Mississippi.

The hearing was on Meredith's appeal from a decision in February by U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney C. Mize who refused to grant the injunction and ruled Mississippi had rejected Meredith on non-racial grounds.

During the 2½ hour hearing, which covered most of the same ground as previous hearings, Meredith's attorney, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York, called Judge Mize's ruling "clearly erroneous."

But Edward L. Cates, Mississippi assistant attorney general, said Meredith was rejected because he "does not have good moral character."

Judge John R. Brown of Houston, Tex., presided at the hearing. Other members were Judge John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans, the only member who had sat in previous hearings on the case, and U.S. Dist. Judge Dozier Devane of Tallahassee, Fla.

The court gave opposing attorneys 15 days to file additional briefs. It asked for briefs on whether a three - judge court should have heard the case originally, instead of a single district judge. Three - judge courts are named when the constitutionality of state laws or customs are questioned.

Judge Mize ruled against a state motion earlier for a three-judge court.

Charles B. Anding, a member of the Ouachita Parish School Board and candidate for the West Monroe City Council, yesterday said he will not seek re-election to the School Board.

Anding, manager of Ironworkers Local No. 710, was appointed by Gov. Jimmie Davis to the School Board.

He said, "I could legally hold both offices, but I don't believe in dual office holding. If I should be defeated for alderman, then I might consider making the race for the regular school board term, but it is doubtful that I would make the school board race even then." His term on the School Board expires December 31.

Pigeon Record Claimed In Area

NATCHEZ, Miss. (Special) — A new record has been claimed for a racing pigeon which flew 600 miles from Natchez to Savannah, Ga., in 12 hours and 39 minutes.

The pigeon was released by Edward Bonham. Fifty-two other birds were released simultaneously by Bonham.

The winner, an 8-month old bronze head racing pigeon, averaged 48-miles-per-hour, according to officials of the Savannah, Ga., Racing Pigeon Club. The bird is owned by George Davis of Savannah.

Appeals Court Will Rule On Meredith Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Declaring the case ought to be decided without delay, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement Friday an appeal by James H. Meredith, a 28-year-old Negro, for an injunction admitting him to the all-white University of Mississippi.

The hearing was on Meredith's appeal from a decision in February by U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney C. Mize who refused to grant the injunction and ruled Mississippi had rejected Meredith on non-racial grounds.

During the 2½ hour hearing, which covered most of the same ground as previous hearings, Meredith's attorney, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York, called Judge Mize's ruling "clearly erroneous."

But Edward L. Cates, Mississippi assistant attorney general, said Meredith was rejected because he "does not have good moral character."

Judge John R. Brown of Houston, Tex., presided at the hearing. Other members were Judge John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans, the only member who had sat in previous hearings on the case, and U.S. Dist. Judge Dozier Devane of Tallahassee, Fla.

The court gave opposing attorneys 15 days to file additional briefs. It asked for briefs on whether a three - judge court should have heard the case originally, instead of a single district judge. Three - judge courts are named when the constitutionality of state laws or customs are questioned.

Judge Mize ruled against a state motion earlier for a three-judge court.
